HE LOOKED LIKE HARRISON.—The other morning a gentleman with white beard, closely cropped, and quite an aldermanic girth, walked down Pennsylvania avenue to the Capitol. On the way he stepped into a shop kept by John Denham, to make a purchase. The shopkeeper looked at his customer closely. "Did anyone ever tell you," he asked "that you looked like ex-President Harrison?" "Yes," was the reply; "I have heard it said very often. Do you think there is a resemblance?" "I should say so," answered Denham. "I never saw General Harrison, but from his picture, I should say you were a dead ringer for him."

YORK.—Rock Hill Herald, January 23: Miss Mary Schorb is visiting Mrs. J. A. Black. Mrs. M. I. Stradley is visiting friends in Lancaster. Miss Hattie Stevens is visiting her brother in Kershaw. Miss Fannie Parish, of Yorkville, is visiting friends in the city. Mrs. Jane Erwin has returned from a visit to Spartanburg. Rev. J. S. Beasley is spending a few days in Columbia on business. Mrs. A. M. Chreitberg visited her son, Mr. C. S. May, who has been confined to her room for several days with sickness. Mrs. S. E. White, of Fort Mill, is a guest at the home of Mrs. B. M. Fewell. Mrs. W. P. Roddy is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Hough, at Newell's N. C. Mrs. J. D. Downs has returned to Pineville after a visit to her sister, Mrs. G. A. Cowan. Miss Emma Albright has returned to Chester, after a visit to her sister, Mrs. George Beach. Miss Cammie Smith has been quite sick at her home in Ebenezer, but is now much better. Miss Tom Boys has returned from Converse, and will continue her studies at Winthrop this session. Mrs. R. T. Fewell has returned home after a month's visit to her mother in Jackson, Tenn. Miss Ella McMurray and brother John, of Fort Mill, visited the Misses Pegg in Ebenezer Monday. Misses Bessie and Mary Williams, of Yorkville, visited their sister, Mrs. W. W. Miller, this week. R. S. Hanna is now in his new quarters, the store room on Depot St., formerly occupied by J. L. Johnson. Measles still prevail in the city. Several of Dr. Crawford's children are confined to their homes with the disease. Mr. J. M. Daniels, who has had charge of the laundry at Winthrop, has given up his position and gone to Camden. Captain and Mrs. W. L. London, who have been visiting at the home of Major J. R. London, have returned to Pittsboro. The physicians are idle, on account of the fact that there is no sickness whatever in the city requiring their attention. The hot supper by the Ladies' Aid society, last Saturday evening, was a very satisfactory success. The gross proceeds were about $35. Mr. W. A. Barron, of Tirzah, left Thursday night with his family for Blooming Grove, Texas, where they will make their home. Dr. S. M. Devega was taken to Johns Hopkins hospital a day or two ago for treatment. Mrs. DeVege and Dr. W. M. Love went with him. Chester Lantern.—The family of Mr. J. G. Sadler has returned to Rock Hill from Chester, and now occupies the old home of Mr. J. C. Poag, deceased, on College street in Whiteville. Dr. W. Fennell, L. C. Harrison, G. A. Buchanan and T. B. Lumpkin, went to Columbia yesterday where last night they were to take the degree of Knight Templar. A walk in the western part of the town will show many improvements going on there. Last week we counted three houses on one street within the space of a hundred yards. Mr. S. T. Frew left on Monday night for Summertown, Tennessee, to look after the settlement of the estate of Mrs. Frew's grand aunt, Mrs. Jane B. George, worth $25,000 or $30,000. Miss Janie Massey returned Friday night from Red Springs, N. C., where she intended studying this session; but she has decided there is no place like home and Winthrop. Monday night a delightful dance was given in Friedheim's hall complimentary to Dr. and Mrs. Stevens. About 20 couples, a number of stags and a few visiting young men enjoyed this dance, given to one so popular in the dancing circles. Died, on the 11th instant, of blood poison, at the home of his parents, Franklin, the 14-year-old son of Mr. Robert D. and Mrs. Minnie P. Gaudin. Two weeks ago, while chopping wood, he split his right foot open with an axe, and blood poison following, he died within 24 hours. Mr. John A. Steele, formerly of this city, has been appointed general storekeeper for the whole Seaboard Air Line system with offices at Portsmouth, Va. Mr. Steele gave up the superintendency of the Tennessee Coke, Iron and Coal company, at Bristol, Tenn., to take this position, which was tendered to him by General Superintendent V. E. McBees upon the resignation of Mr. St. John. The lobby of the Carolina hotel was the scene of a happy marriage Sunday night near the midnight hour. The contracting parties were Mr. Chas. Potet and Miss Nannie Kariker, both of China Grove, N. C., and the knot was tied hard and fast by Rev. J. S. Beasley, the witnesses being Messrs. A. H. Greene and John T. Roddy. The loving couple occupied the Carolina's bridal chamber, and the next morning took their departure. Monday Mr. Ed Reid, Reporter of the Knights of Honor, received a check from the Supreme Reporter for $2,000, the amount of the beneficiary certificate held in that order by the late John J. Roach. The check was made payable to the children of Mr. Roach. "The old reliable" is still prompt in payment. Mr. Roach died on the 29th of October, and the claim of his heirs would have been paid within 60 days; but the appointment of a guardian for minor heirs necessarily delayed remittance longer than would have been the case had there been no such requirements. From Mr. W. H. Stewart, who was in the city Monday, we learn that the petition of a number of the citizens of Rock Hill asking for an amendment to the law creating the Rock Hill graded school district providing for the election of the board of trustees by the qualified voters of the district, was to have been considered by the York county legislative delegation last night. A counter petition praying that the legislature do not interfere with existing conditions, has been placed in the hands of the delegates. Under the law as it now exists, the board of trustees, having been appointed originally by the legislature, is a perpetual body, all vacancies by death or otherwise being filled by the board. The petitioners asking for the amendment referred to above, think that more efficient trustees can be chosen by the people in a popular election. This proposition is resisted by a number of other petitioners who think the present board is a very capable body, having succeeded in building up one of the best graded schools in the State. It is charged that the board shows partiality in the selection of teachers and that the action of the board has been dictated by persons who have no official connection with the school. The board, of course, denies that it is ever governed by favoritism; but that it desires to select teachers who have been trained for the position and who are otherwise well qualified. The board, when dealing with entire strangers, has felt itself justified in receiving information from people who had had ample opportunity of knowing of the worthiness of the applicants. The citizens who are, for many reasons, specially interested in the highest success of the school have been fully satisfied with the manner in which it has been conducted, and there was practically no complaint until the agitation against the school's rule was begun several months ago, and out of that agitation has sprung the proposition to supplant the present board by another that shall be elected by popular vote. For the sake of the continuing efficiency of the schools, we hope the legislative delegation may be able to see its way clear to leave the existing conditions undisturbed.

YORK.—Clover Review, January 24: Mr. John Robinson went to Yorkville Monday night. Mr. T. F. Jackson went to Gastonia Monday, on business. Mr. Sam McCall went up to Gastonia yesterday and returned. Miss Ailee Ross, of Gaffney, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Meek Smith. Mrs. George Williams, of Fibert, is visiting her father, Mr. A. C. Stroup. Mr. M. L. Smith left Monday night on a business trip to New York and other points. Capt. W. B. Smith took a run up to Hickory, N. C. Monday, and returned the same day. Misses Emily Wright, Fanny Treaywick, and Mrs. Lena Campbell went to Gastonia Monday and returned. Mr. Hope Brison, who has been working in Mr. W. M. Jackson's place in the telegraph office at Gastonia, returned last night. Mr. Frank B. Gwin, of Hickory, N. C., came down Saturday, and stayed over until Monday with kindred and friends. Miss Ada Bradford, who has been teaching school near Bethany, left last Monday night for her home in Fort Mill, S. C. Hon. J. E. Beamguard, our representative in the legislature, came up Saturday and returned Monday. Mr. M. L. Dixon left Monday night for Yorkville, to visit his daughter, Mrs. W. Adams and other friends and relatives in and around Yorkville. Mr. Jno. M. Smith attended the Denny-Drennan marriage at Richburg last Wednesday. Miss Drennan is a sister of Mr. Frank Drennan, who taught school here. J. P. Sifford's little son, James, is quite sick. Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. Jesse B. Ford to Miss Lizzie Lytle, of Charlotte, N. C. A petition was circulated in and around Clover last week for the purpose, as alleged, of establishing a distillery in the northwest corner of King's Mountain township, for the purpose of making liquor for the dispensary. Measles and whooping cough are about to take the town. They seem to be vying with each other as to which will take the lead. It is said that about one-fourth of the population have not had the measles. So we conclude that we will have the unwelcome visitors on our hands for sometime to come. Our friend, J. P. Sifford, notary public, had a busy day on the 20th instant. He married three couples on short notice, all from our sister across the line. The first was Mr. W. M. Davis and Miss Mary Franklin, of Dallas, N. C. Mr. E. M. Mauney, of Gastonia, and Miss Ella Clemmer, of Dallas; Mr. J. L. Edmond and Miss Mollie Bradshaw, of Gastonia. J. M. and W. P. Smith have a small plot of ground wired in and over, in which, for both pleasure and profit, they are starting a pheasantry. They have seven of the beautiful birds now on hand. W. P. Smith also has two prairie dogs sent him by some friend in the Indian Territory. These are species of the animal and feathered creation very uncommon in this country; and being on Main street, attract no little attention.

He had a royal time. His only regret is that he did not have more time to enjoy the hospitality of the people. He will now be in his office at the court house to accommodate those who did not "give in" at other places. Last Friday morning a message was received here announcing the sudden death of Mr. Wm. Flenniken, at his home in Columbia. It was learned later that he had been killed by the discharge of his own gun. No one was in the room at the time and nothing was known about the accident till blood dropping through the ceiling above alarmed his mother, and she went up to his room. He had been speaking of going hunting, and the position of himself and gun indicated that the gun had been discharged by striking a piece of furniture from behind which he had been in the act of lifting it. Mr. Flenniken was 27 years old and was the only child of his parents. He was the son of Dr. R. Flenniken, formerly of this county. His mother was, before her marriage, Miss Maggie Caldwell, of Wellridge. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. G. White, aged five weeks, died Sabbath morning of pneumonia. The child was not thought to be dangerously sick till a short time before its death. Another child appeared to be more seriously sick than the one that died. The remains were buried in Evergreen cemetery yesterday morning. Revs. Moffatt and Buckholz conducted funeral services at the grave. Mr. J. L. Cagle died at his home in this city Friday, January 11, aged 28 years. He had been in declining health several months. He left a wife and two children. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. S. Moffatt and the remains were buried in Evergreen cemetery.

LANCASTER.—Ledger, January 23: Judge D. A. Williams, who has been confined to his home for several weeks on account of his old wound in the leg, received during the war, was able to be up town Monday. His friends were glad to see him out. Dr. R. G. Elliott, of the Dwight neighborhood, has been sick with pneumonia the past week. Saturday night he was quite low, but rallied, and yesterday it was thought he had passed the danger point. Our highly esteemed sheriff, Captain J. P. Hunter, is improving and will probably be able to be at his post again in another week. His confinement at home is due to the necessary operation which was very successfully performed by Drs. McDow and Crawford. Mr. Adam Ganson, of Connecticut, is here on a visit to his brother, Mr. Wm. Ganson, and to enjoy the genial clime of the Sunny South while the intensely cold winter is on in his northern home. Mr. W. McD. Brown will build on the site of his old home on Main street. Architect H. E. White, of Rock Hill, furnished the plans and specifications. The building will be two stories and contain nine rooms. The contract has been let to Messrs. Porter & Deale and they are now making orders for material. Work will begin as soon as the first carload arrives. The county pension board met Monday and the applicants for pensions were busy filling out their applications. There must have been a hundred or more of them, including the widows. We hope no applicants will fail to get a pension. We only wish that the state was able to give to its old deserving soldiers and to the destitute widows of soldiers to satisfy their every need. Sergeant-at-Arms Wilson came up from Columbia and spent Saturday and Sunday with his family. None of the Lancaster delegation came home, though both branches of the legislature adjourned over Saturday, being the anniversary of General Lee's birthday. Thomas Caskey, son of Mr. Leonard S. Caskey, aged 22 years and 9 days, died at his father's home, several miles northeast of town, on Friday last. From boyhood he had been a sufferer from an affection of the kidneys, which became worse the older he grew. The past year or more he had been an invalid and required constant care and attention. He was always a model boy, never having tasted whiskey or uttered an oath. His remains were interred at Shiloh church on Saturday. Mrs. Watson, who came to this county a year or so ago, from Georgia, died at the county poor house last Saturday afternoon from dropsy. Her remains were interred in the cemetery here on Monday in accordance with her request not to be interred in the graveyard at the poorhouse. Mr. T. W. McMurray went over to her father's at Richburg yesterday, to be present at the marriage of her sister, Miss Kate Drennan, to the Rev. J. T. Denny, of Kershaw. Mr. McMurray will go over today, as will also Miss Mazie Witherpoon, who is to be one of the attendants. The marriage takes place this evening. On Monday Mr. J. N. Addison, who accidentally shot himself a month or so ago, in his left leg, just above the knee, the ball being cut out several inches below, was taken to the Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, Md., to be operated on for aneurism. The artery will be cut and tied both above and below where the aneurism has formed, if it is thought thereby his leg can be saved, otherwise the limb will have to be amputated. His brother, Mr. J. F. Addison, accompanied him and will remain with him until after the operation.

ride over it without danger of breaking through the crust. Scattered over its surface are a number of small islands which have no proper roots in the earth so to speak; but are composed merely of accumulations of soil, though trees of considerable size grow on some of them. These islands are not stationary; but are carried slowly from place to place by the movements of the lake. Now and then one of them is entirely engulfed. Various theories have been entertained as to the manner in which this remarkable deposit was formed, and is resupplied. Geologists today, however, are satisfied that it is the result of certain chemical processes operating upon immense accumulations of vegetable matter stored away deep in the earth during a past epoch. Evidently the processes in question, whatever the nature of them may be, are still going on in the depths, and hence the steady accretion already spoken of. The whole lake is nearly pure asphalt. When a cargo of it is wanted workmen go out on the black surface and dig as much as they require with picks and shovels, according to the degree of hardness of the material. The stuff has a low melting point, and on a very hot day it literally boils. No such beautiful and pure asphalt is found anywhere else in the world as that which comes from the pitch lake of Trinidad. Not a pebble is to be seen in it. The rough-looking asphalt which is full of pebbles, has such impurities because it is dug out of the earth. It is known as land asphalt.—Chicago Daily News.

THE OLDEST PICTURE BOOK.

Is the Earliest Known and Will Survive All Time. The oldest picture book in our possession is the midnight sun. We stand out under the stars on some clear, moonless night, and, looking upward, though no forms are visible, though it is only light and there that the natural grouping can be by the utmost legitimate effort of fancy, be made to fit some preconceived shape, yet we still seem to see the whole vast dome covered with mysterious frescoes. There in the north shine the two Bears, the unsleeping guardian of the pole. Between stands Cepheus the King, and by his side in midstream of the Milky Way, is seated Cassiopeia, his queen. The figures overhead and to the south change with the changing hours and seasons, and the December show of all. There is Orion; following him are Sirius and Procyon, his dogs; above are the Bull and Twins; and higher still Auriga and Perseus join Cassiopeia on the Milky Way. Andromeda, chained to her rock, lies beneath, her boastful mother; while her enemy, the great Sea Monster is sinking down below the western horizon. The April nights give the preeminence to Arcturus, the most brilliant of the constellation of Bo-otes, the herdman, who stands with one hand stretched toward the Crown, the other toward the Great Bear. Beneath him lies the Virgin, while the Lion is rushing downward toward the west. The Scorpion is the lord of the South during the short summer nights, while the Lyre, with its bright blue jewels, Vega, claims the zenith; and between the two giant heroes, Ophiucus and Hercules, spread their huge limbs. The September midnight is the time Pegasus, and then the watery and fishlike constellations have their turn—the Dolphin, the Sea Goat, Aquarius, with his stream, and the southern Fish, the twin Fishes and fair Andromeda's huge marine persecutor. We seem to see these forms, though no form or semblance of the form is really there. For from a great antiquity men have looked upward to the heavens and have pictured thereon, in their own thought, certain forms, which we have inherited from them by long tradition, forms which became so real to them that the stars themselves, on which they based them, seemed to fade out or to be but as the nails which kept the pictures in position, while the forms remained the real objects which filled the heavens.—Nineteenth Century.

REMARKABLE GRAVEYARD.

In It Are Buried Only Men Killed By a United States Marshal. Hec Bruner, a United States marshal of the Indian Territory in the early days, enjoys the rare distinction of having a cemetery named after him. And the strange part of it is that no one is buried there except his own victims. There are twenty-eight mounds in the cemetery. Under each lies the bones of some bad man who brushed up against Bruner and got the worst of it. When Bruner was marshal the country was about as wild as a country ever gets. It was filled with horse-thieves, cattle thieves, train robbers and desperadoes of every kind. A law-abiding, peaceable citizen didn't stand much show. Murders were so common that they were not considered news. Theft attracted no attention whatever except from the ones who suffered loss. The country was run as near along anarchistic lines as the most ardent anarchist of New York or Madrid could hope. Little attention was given to the "consent of the governed" movement of his shooting hand, the most nerve, ruled the roost. That was the condition up until Hec Bruner was appointed United States marshal. When he took charge of the office he decided to revolutionize things and make the Indian Territory "a good place to live in." His friends laughed at him, although they knew he had nerve. To go up against the notorious gangs of this country, they claimed, was foolishness. It might result in cleaning out a gang or two; but in the end would result in the marshal being wiped off the map. What was the use to endanger one's own life in order to make trouble for the desperadoes, they would ask. To this Bruner replied that he would drive the opening wedge toward civilizing the Territory, if it cost him his life the very first day. He stuck to his resolution, and he didn't lose his life either; but he had several narrow escapes. He was punctured by bullets until his frame could

FAMOUS ASPHALT LAKE.

Most Notable Source of This Material in the World. Recent estimates are to the effect that asphalt is being dug out of the famous tar lake of Trinidad—the most notable existing source of the material in the world—at the rate of 80,000 tons per annum. There are still 4,500,000 tons in sight; but at this rate the supply could not last long, were it not that the lake of bitumen referred to is receiving a constant accretion from the bowels of the earth. This accretion is reckoned as amounting to about 20,000 tons yearly, says The Saturday Evening Post, and would suffice to restore the lake to its original condition if it were allowed to remain undisturbed for a few years. This wonderful lake of pitch has an area of 14 acres and recent soundings made in the middle of it have shown its depth to be 125 feet in that part. Near the center it is semi-liquid and a surface that a man on horseback can be "used for a sieve," and he had his blood spilled in many a fight; but not enough of it at any one time to make him bite the dust. While the desperadoes were making it interesting for Bruner he was keeping them busy. He was a dead shot, and whenever he pulled the trigger on his man it meant a separation of soul and body. The first one he killed was buried in a grave south of his place. The second one was also laid there. And so it went until the carcasses of 28 bad men who had met death at the hands of Bruner, while he was acting in the line of duty, were buried in that grave. A rail fence was run around the graves and the cemetery was named "Bruner's Graveyard." Only one grave in the yard is marked with a marble headstone. That is the grave of a noted horse thief. His pals chipped in and bought the tombstone because he was a "good fellow." All the rest of the graves are marked with wooden slabs. Many of them are enclosed with slab fences, while others are enclosed with rails laid in hog pen fashion. After Bruner got his graveyard pretty well filled up, the desperadoes began to realize that he meant business, and whenever one would hear that

Bruner wanted him he would come in to town and give himself up, rather than run the risk of being the next one to occupy space in Bruner's graveyard. From that time on Bruner had an easy time. He had accomplished his object. He had driven the entering wedge in the civilization of the toughest country the sun ever shone on.—Kansas City Journal.

HERE IS GOOD PAY FOR LIGHT, EASY WORK.

Get Up a Club for The Yorkville Enquirer for 1901.

104 ISSUES FOR $1.75.

Biggest Pay For the Best Workers; But Every Worker Fully Compensated For All Time and Effort Expended.

THE YORKVILLE ENQUIRER will continue, during the year 1901, all that it has been in the past, and it will be made as much better as the growing support of York and surrounding counties and the abilities of the publishers will permit. As heretofore it will continue to devote itself to the social, educational, religious, agricultural and industrial upbuilding of the Piedmont section, and the general welfare of all its friends and supporters. It will endeavor to entertain, instruct and benefit, conferring all the good in its power and causing as little harm as possible. On this platform its publishers respectfully solicit the continuing support of its present friends and well-wishers, and hope for the co-operation of all the people of this section who are working along the same lines. The publishers of THE ENQUIRER fully realize that such a paper as is demanded by the intelligent public of this section can only be made at great expense. They realize also the willingness of this public to co-operate on an equitable basis, and this, then, is the basis upon which they are soliciting subscriptions for the year 1901. As has been the custom of the publishers in the past, they again beg leave to call upon those friends and well-wishers who may find opportunity and congeniality in the work of re-collecting the names and subscriptions of all present subscribers and adding to the mailing list of THE ENQUIRER as many new subscribers as it may be practicable to gather. For this work, or course, the publishers expect to pay as liberally as they possibly can. The competitive club system will be followed as heretofore. The clubmaker who returns and pays for the largest club will be awarded A FINE TOP BUGGY, the very best that can be made by the Yorkville Buggy Company for $60; and the clubmaker who returns and pays for the second largest club, will receive THE BEST OPEN BUGGY made by the same company and worth $50. Smaller clubs will be paid with premiums apportioned to their number and value. Here are the specific offers in detail:

- FOR 60 SUBSCRIBERS. We will give the club-maker the choice of the following articles—good values at $25.00: A High Arm Four Drawer Sewing Machine, latest improvements and full set of attachments, etc.; a Damascus Steel Double Barrel Breech-Loading Gun; a handsome Walnut Watch; or $25 worth of Furniture from W. B. Moore & Co's. We seem to see these forms, though no form or semblance of the form is really there. For from a great antiquity men have looked upward to the heavens and have pictured thereon, in their own thought, certain forms, which we have inherited from them by long tradition, forms which became so real to them that the stars themselves, on which they based them, seemed to fade out or to be but as the nails which kept the pictures in position, while the forms remained the real objects which filled the heavens.—Nineteenth Century.
- FOR 50 AND LESS THAN 60. Subscribers, we will give the choice of the following articles: A T. Baker Double Barrel Gun; a Winchester or Colt Repeating Rifle; an Elgin Watch; or a Cooking Stove.
- FOR 40 AND LESS THAN 50. Subscribers, either of the following: A W. Richards' Double Barrel Gun; a Sewing Machine, latest improvements; or a Low Arm Singer Machine; or an Oil Stove.
- FOR 30 AND LESS THAN 40. Either of the following: Single Barrel Hammerless Gun; a fine 4x4 Kodak; a fine Turret or Wash Stand China Set; or a Hopkins & Allen, Jr., Rifle.
- FOR 20 AND LESS THAN 30. Subscribers, we will give THE ENQUIRER and any Weekly Paper or Monthly Magazine published in the United States; or a No. 1 Ejector Single Barrel Gun; or a Pocket Kodak; or any three popular Cloth Bound Books that may be selected by the clubmaker; or a "Crack Shot" 22-caliber Rifle.
- FOR 10 AND LESS THAN 20. THE ENQUIRER for one year; a fine Warranted Razor; or Pocket Knife.
- FOR 6 AND LESS THAN 10. A Triumph Stem Winding and Setting Watch; a 3-Bladed Knife; a copy of "David Harum," or any other book of the same price, ($1.50).
- FOR 4 AND LESS THAN 6. A "Yankee" Watch; any Magazine published in the United States for $1.
- FOR 2 AND LESS THAN 4. A Stylographic Fountain Pen; a Single Bladed Knife; a year's subscription to THE ENQUIRER.
