ession of the sentiment of the peo ple of the town that the dispensary advocates are after. All they want is a dispensary. The developments of the past few days leave but little doubt on this point.

As has already been published in connection with this matter, the only condition precedent to the calling of a dispenary election in the town of Yorkville is the presentation to the town council of a petition signed by onefourth of the qualified voters of said town. But before such election can be properly held under the law, there are other important facts to be taken into consideration. For instance, Section 24 of Act No. 22, of the general statutes says:

"Ninety days before the holding a regular election in any incorporated say. All the people of the town, re- city or town in this state, after the general election of 1896, the mayor or intendant thereof shall appoint one dis-creet individual, who is a qualified elector of such minicipality, as supervis-or of registration for such city or town

From this it appears very clear that the 90 days' registration referred to is sary; but who were unwilling to put especially intended for the succeeding general election. From the fact that such certificates are good only "until" 90 days before the next general election seems to warrant the belief that the general assembly did not intend to have elections during this period. In the first place it is impossible to conceive of a condition that would be so pressing, and since the old certificates are clearly nullified 90 days previous conceive that the general assembly would knowingly .eave open a condition that would make possible the subjection of any community to the snap
