A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

FTER due consideration by the keepers a all right the United Mutual Life Insurance company of South Carolina, it was decided to pay Mr. James Duncan five hundred dollars, although Mr. Duncan was not a member in good standing; therefore, under the rules of this company was not entitled to anything. But this board, desiring to be fair to all members and faithful to the trust confided to them, have offered to pay at least the above amount, and the following will explain why our friend in question is not in good standing. The full amount of his fee should have been $3.75, and on the day of his write up, he paid $1.50, the balance being $2.25, for which he gave the following paper:

"On the 20th day of December, 1901,
I promise to pay to the United Mutual
Life Insurance Company of South Carolina. ($2.25) two dollars and twentyfive cents, the full amount of my membership fee, or stand debarred from all rights and benefits offered by this comwitness JAMES DUNCAN.

JOHN G. NEELY."

This balance was never paid, and in closing this card will say that I hope this will suffice to allay all doubts of this company's true intentions in the planting. We have the Georgia Ribminds of the people of this state and place its enemies in their true light. With no enmity against any one I am truly yours,

OUR PRICES WILL BE RIGHT!

SPRING, the season of "pote" with his crop of spring "pomes;" the season when according to tradition, the young man's heart fondly turns to love, and the hearts of the ladies turn to new hats and bonnets. We are almost ready for this last turn. Miss CONE has arrived and our Millinery stock has been shipped out from the great centers of Millinery fashion-New York and Baltimore-and we are expecting these goods to arrive in time to have a great Millinery display before Easter Sunday-March 30. Miss Cone has just arrived from Baltimore, where some of the finest and biggest Millinery displays of the country are to be seen, and she says that the spring creations in Millinery will far surpass all our previous efforts, both in style and quality. In prices we will make the lowest figures that are possible when quality is considered. We assure onr lady friends that we will not be undersold in Millinery.
