Killed by Lightning. killed at Clover during a thunderstorm last Tuesday afternoon. The mule belonged to Mr. H. E. Jackson and was in a pasture at the time it was struck. The mare and colt belonged to Mr. Robert Jackson and were in Mr. Hope Sifford's stable lot.

The County Commissioners.

The county board of commissioners held its regular monthly meeting in the office of the supervisor on Wednesday. There was no business of importance except of a routine nature, the auditing of accounts, the granting of aid to indigent Confederate veterans, and the consideration of applicants for admission to the county home.

Fort Mill Times: Politics is at a low opera House tomorrow afternoon at ebb in Fort Mill at present, considering 6.30 o'clock. the fact that the primary is less than two months off. Indeed, as one man put it, "you couldn't pull an expression of political preference from the average citizen with a cork screw." This recitizen with a cork screw." This remark is a bit far-fetched, of course, but evening at 8.30 o'clock. it tends to show that the people are taking little interest in the campaigns. In the hope of being enabled to make an intelligent forecast of the result of the gubernatorial and senatorial primaries in this township, The Times man recently talked with a number of reprecently talked with a number of repsentative farmers and business men on the subject, but in almost every instance these men refused to express a preference for these offices. From the general trend of the conversation of most of those with whom the reporter talked, however, it can be stated as an inference fairly drawn that ex-Congressman John J. Hemphill and ex-Governor John Gary Evans are at present in the lead for the senatorship. ent in the lead for the senatorship There is no denying the fact that Mr Hemphill's speeches have made a favorable impression in Fort Mill, and that he will receive votes which would not have gone to him two weeks ago, while ex-Governor Evans will probably and the votes of most of those who originally intended to vote for Mr. Latimer. The race for the governorship seems to be between Captain Heyward and Colonel Talbert, with the chances in favor of the former receiving the largest vote. Colonel Jim Tillman will, of course, get some votes at the two precincts in this township, but from present indications he will run far behind Captain Heyward and Colonel Talbert. Only one man has expressed to the reporter his intention of voting for Mr. Ansell.

Reward For a Convict.

Governor McSweeny, on Wednesday, guard's life near Columbia, granting him a pardon. The pardon was grant-ed upon receipt of the following from Supt. Griffith of the state penitentiary: "Dear Sir: 1 respectfully ask you to give Walter Anderson a full pardon for the reason that on the 10th day of March, 1900, while on detail work on a farm several prisoners overpowere and took Mr. Harling's gun from him (Harling was the guard). Some of the prisoners had Harling down on the ground, when this convict, Walter Anderson, rushed to his relief, pulled the convicts off him and saved him from being killed, for which I at once made him a "trusty," and he has ever since as well as before, been a fine prisoner. humble, obedient and a good worker. South Carolina Farms.

According to a bulletin issued las Wednesday by the census bureau, the farm property of South Carolina is valued in the aggregate at $153,591,159. Of this amount $99,805,860 represents the value of lands; $26,955,670 the value of buildings; $6,629,770 of machinery, and $20,199,859 the value of live stock. The farm lands of the state cover an area of 13,985,014 acres. Ninety acres is given as the average size of farms in the state, while in 1850 the average size was 541 acres. There has been a gradual decrease each ten years since the half century mark was passed. The farms now number 155,355 and of them 85,381 are operated by Negroes. The farm products of the state for 1899 represented a value of $68,266,912. Cotton is the principal crop and the cotton lands

The Charleston Way.

Sunday News: Tomorrow, the first Monday of the month, a big batch of sightless tigers will be hauled from their liars and arraigned before the recorder at the city court to show cause, if they can, why they should not be punished for violating the city ordinance which provides against the sale of illicit whisky and beer within the incorporate limits of Charleston. Every 30 days the police cause a score or more of the proprietors, to appear or more of the proprietors, to appear before the authorities to receive the regulation fine of $50. The tigers have not been enjoying quite so lucrative a patronage during the past month as during the lively exposition period hence the parting with half a hundred dollars tomorrow will be almost like pulling out eyeteeth for some of the prisoners. Between Chief State Constable Howie, who is constantly harass ing the tigers by confiscating their wares, and the police department which is incessantly procuring damaging evidence against them, the illegal venders of liquor and beer are traveling anything but a smooth and

Stevenson Makes Charges.

At Lexington, Tuesday, Mr. W. F. stevenson, candidate for attorney general, charged that the state dispen-sary constabulary was being organized in favor of his opponent, Mr. U. X. Gunter. When Governor McSweeney read the charge, he gave the press a statement to the effect that all constables had always had instructions from his office positively prohibiting them from meddling in politics beyond exerising their privilege to vote as they bleased. They had been told to attend to their business and not hang around campaign meetings. He knew absolutely nothing of any organization among them, and if Mr. Stevenson or any one else would show him that they were working for any particular candidate for office or neglecting their duty on that account, he would promptly re-move each man so involved. He was surprised, he said, that Mr. Stevenson should make such a statement. In the last campaign the same thing was said in regard to his own candidacy and he had pronounced the statement false upon the stump. In that campaign the constables had had the same instructions as to the consequences of working for candidates and meddling in pol-

-Rutherfordton dispatch of July 9 to Charlotte Ouserver: The case Sam Melton against the Henrietta Cotton Mills company, which was tried in the superior court here yesterday, was decided today by the jury, and $2,000 was given to Melton instead on A mare and colt and a mule were $5,000, which was sued for. Melton, willed at Clover during a thunderstorm whose age was only 16 years, was at work in the cotton gin for the Henrietta Cotton Mills company in 1897 when he was sent to run a gin which was out of fix. He became entangled in the saws and had an arm sawed off. His father failed to bring suit against the company, and on his coming of age he sued the company for $5,000 and recovered $2,000, as stated above.

How's Your

WATCH?

IS your watch giving you the time-keeping service that your business or convenience requires? Does it run too slow and sometimes cause you to miss a train or an engagement by just a minute or two? Or does it run too fast and thus cause you to get there ahead of time? Or has it stopped running alto-gether? If there is any one or all of these ailments affecting your watch, just suppose you let me have it a few days and put it good order. The work will not cost much, and the satisfaction of having your watch perform its work correctly will more than repay you for the outlay. My work is guaranteed.
