TALLEST MAN IN THE WORLD.

Feodor Machow, a Russian, Is Nearly Eight Feet High. The tallest man in the world is going to England. He is Feodor Machow of Kusjak Russia, and he is 7 feet 9 inches in height. Until some scientists "discovered" him and brought him to Moscow Feodor looked upon his abnormal height as a grave drawback. Now he is rather proud of it. This man is not only the largest man alive, but his measurements are greater than those of any known giant of the past two generations. He is but twenty-two years old, and remarkably well proportioned for his height. The Anthropological society of Berlin, is taking a very lively interest in Machow, and many learned men have measured and studied him during the past few months. Prof. Felix vor Luschan, the famous ethnographical student, has made the official report and this is what he finds: "I have carefully examined and measured from an anthropological standpoint Feodor Machow, who is now about twenty-two years of age. "He is 7 feet 9 inches in height, and can therefore be classed with the largest giants that have ever lived. He exceeds in height all the known living giants by at least a head, and is in many respects of great scientific interest." ago. Possessed in a high degree of

And as for that hat-I should be lost to view." "Think what a figure I'd cut in that collar of yours," grinned the frog. "It might do for a crown, and those clothes -oh, awful! I tell you mine is the

At length the discussion waxed so warm that they came to blows, and the goose all but swallowed the frog. Then, with collars torn and clothes
