YORKVILLE ENQUIRER. ISSUED SEMI-WEEKLY.

L. M. GRIST'S SONS, Publishers.

ESTABLISHED 1855.

YORKVILLE, S. C., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1904.

3 Samily Hewspaper : for the Promotion of the Political, Social, Igricultural, and Commencial Interests of the People.

TERMS $2.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE. SINGLE COPY, FIVE CENTS.

NEXT GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Nominations Completed In All the Counties But One.

The nominating primaries are now

NO. 76.

By WILL N. HARBEN, The Author of "Abner Daniel." "The Land of the Substitute Changing Sun," "The North Walk Mystery," Etc. Copyright, 1903, by HARPER & BROTHERS

CHAPTER XXVII-Continued.

"Stop!" Lydia cried. "Don't, don't! I can't bear any more. I-I am only a woman, George. I'm only a girl who is being pulled and dragged by others. Father begged me to permit this entertainment, to accept Mrs. Dunleigh's invitation. I refused at first, George; on my honor I did, but father is in a critical condition. The doctor told me not to worry him in the slightest, and he had set his heart on this affair tonight. The poor man loves such things with all his soul, and he thinks Governor Telfare a great man. He actually broke down and cried when I refused; it was pitiful to see his old gray head shaking with sobs over what he considered base ingratitude. Besides, Kitty was included in the invitation. She is my guest, and any natural girl would like to go to such an affair, and mamma urged it. Oh, George, do pity me. Don't-don't think I'm like the rest of the world, for I'm not. I hunger for better things, higher things, but in this case I really don't know what to do."

"Then"-he took a deep breath, as if trying to fortify himself against a coming blow-"then you are engaged to Telfare?"

"No; I am not, George. Don't-don't question me so closely. I am not hapру. І"-

"But he looks upon this affair tonight as favorable to his suit. Is that not true?"

of it!

"He may, George, but I really don't know what to do." Buckley was as pale as a corpse. He brushed his brow with a quivering hand.

"God knows I have nothing to offer you," he said in a low tone. "And it was wrong for me to thrust myself on you as I have done tonight. Your friends will laugh at me for my desperation, but I don't care. Goodby. I shall never trouble you again."

"Oh, George"-but he had turned and was walking away in the darkness. She stifled a groan of pain, and then went into the house. She saw her mother and Mrs. Dunleigh in the drawing room under the prismatic chandelier in close conversation, but she passed on and ascended the stairs to the room assigned to herself and Kitty. The latter was unfastening her hair before a pier glass and came forward, her hands extended. "Don't let it worry you, dear," she said simply.

lawn to catch sight of you. That's the sort of thing women love to circulate. Wait. I'll fix 'em, and then we'll go to bed."

Descending the stairs and entering the drawing room a moment later, Kitty overheard Mrs. Cranston saying: "Yes, that accounts for it. He was not invited and was simply jealous and desperate over not seeing her, so he stole into the grounds, and"-

"Oh, my, what an imagination you heartily. "But you are away off. Mr. Buckley explained it to Lydia. He was going by here, returning from a the carriage pass and noticed the wheel want me to do so, I'll go, too, mother. coming off. He called out-I thought heard some one-but could not attract the attention of the driver. He tried to catch up, but could not do so until he was in the grounds, then the wheel came off, and we were flopping about in each other's laps." "Oh!" Mrs. Cranston exclaimed disappointedly.

"Well, that does seem more reasonable," said Mrs. Dunleigh. "I can hardly imagine lovers, this day and time, Oh, George, it may be that a-way in doing the other thing. It's rather too stagy-too romantic, don't you think?" "Well, I really don't know what we are going to do with Lydia," sighed Mrs. Cranston. "She didn't seem to enjoy herself a bit tonight. Just think Why, I could hear whispering but the chain gang wasn't the place fer all over the rooms, 'Where is she? Is that her? My, ain't she pretty! They say that necklace has been in her family for 200 years. Have you been introduced?' And yet the object of it all sat on a divan half the evening talking to a married Presbyterian minister, who didn't even have on an evening suit." body knew it by her modest, shrinking manner. That's why she created such a furore, and why Governor Telfare is such a fool about her. When she declined to go out to supper with him right fer you to"and in such a sweet, natural way sugtook it beautifully, and-well, it did spare no expense." look better. She wasn't going to put if she could avoid it, and, on the whole, after awhile I missed 'im, an' ef I could I think she was right."

"You two hens can stay off the roost willin'. When me 'n' 'im got married and cackle all night if you like, but I'm it was pulled well down over her face. In She didn't ax me not to tell you, but her hand she held a letter. By her I'm sure she wouldn't want you to silence and agitated manner George know. She told me all about her trouknew she had received unpleasant ble, cryin' like 'er heart ud break. Her news. He placed a chair for her near pa was in a critical condition an' wanthis desk and resumed his own seat, ed 'er to go, an' 'er ma was dingdongwondering what could have happened. in' at 'er night an' day. She didn't "You have a letter from father," he say right out that she loved you, but said tentatively. "Not from him, George, but it's from up thar. It's from the prison doctor." She was silent a moment, then she continued: "Yore pa's bad off, George. The doctor thinks he's had a serious attack. It's that old hurt place in his head that he got when he fell off the wagon fifteen year ago. The doctor that her own mother never'd been good cayn't tell how it'll come out, but he says I'd better be up thar. Yore pa keeps axin' fer me. I cayn't refuse "im, George." The speaker suddenly a baby, but we never got no nigher paused and applied her handkerchief to her eyes.

"Well, you can go, of course," said George. "Oh, kin I?" she exclaimed. "I was afeard you wouldn't want me to. I'd rather go, George. I sorter hardened it. That's all over, mother. She and I my heart agin 'im when he was stout an' well, but now he's sufferin', I want have, Mrs. Cranston!" Kitty laughed to be with 'im." She broke down and began to cry again. "There is nothing on earth to hinder you," said her son, who was deeply stag party down the street. He saw touched by her emotion, "and if you

He's my father-the only one I ever had, and"-"One of us will be enough," said Mrs. Buckley. "But, George, I've been studyin' since I got this letter. I never thought of it before, but I never knowed yore pa to do a dishonest act till he had that fall an' hurt his head. I read in the Index t'other day whar a good man had got a lick in the head said. an' it made a demon out o' him till the doctors operated on him an' cured 'im.

yore pa's case, an' them twelve men an' the judge jest sent a pore sick man off fer what he couldn't help. It wasn't managed right. Somebody ought to 'a' fetched up that point. He mighty nigh made life unbearable fer us all, > a man in his condition." She had pushed back her bonnet and her gray eyes were flashing rebelliously. George was deeply moved. "That's right, mother," he said ad-

him. I remember, when I was a very must go to him and do all you can for his comfort. I'll pay for it." "Oh, George, George!" the old wom he really uses grain as only about onean cried, standing up. "It don't seem "I want to do it, mother," he said gested that he take you instead, I was simply and firmly. "You must take the afraid he might be offended, but he night train, and remember, you are to "I said I felt relieved to have 'im go and kaffir corn make 1.36 per cent. of herself in such a conspicuous position off," whimpered Mrs. Buckley, "but

'a' had 'im back without the responsi-"Well, I'm going to bed," said Kitty. billty of what he'd do I'd 'a' been so different. George, I'd 'a into coal bags to be used where a It is Gradually Displacing All Othe Textiles.

Miscellaneous Beading. MORE USES FOR COTTON.

Cotton today stands at the head o her actions said it, an' she knowed I the world's textile products. Not only understood. She don't like that man has it won an ever growing place for a bit, but her pa wants 'er to marry itself, but in numerous lines where it 'im, an' she's afeard it will kill 'im ef competes with wool and linen, it has she refuses. George, she axed me right displaced both. The consumption of out what I thought she ort to do, an' cotton is more than twice as great as to save my life I didn't know-I couldn't these two products combined. Primaritell. She told me she loved me, George, ly this was brought about by the cheapness of the staple. Of late years the to 'er an' never understood 'er an' that most important element has been the she'd come to me fer advice. I hugged improvement in manufacture, better her up in my arms, an' she sobbed like machinery and more highly skilled labor. Experts cannot tell the difference solvin' the riddle. When she went between goods of cotton mixed with down to the big party the governor wool and those made all of wool. Chemgive 'er. I thought maybe she'd decidical tests are not infallible in aiding ed to marry to suit 'er folks." detection. "She has," Buckley said, swallowing The linen shirt, which not so many his emotion. "But let's not talk about ears ago was regarded as an absolute essential of the masculine wardlive in absolutely different worlds." robe, is now a thing of the past, owing "No, you don't, nuther," said Mrs. to the encroachment of cotton, and Buckley. "She's jest a good, natural. linen bosoms and cuffs are considered lovin' woman that wants to do her sufficient concessions to flax, even for duty accordin' to her lights, but thar the most expensive garments. The is a sight agin you both, an' thar's no term "household linen" today is largegittin' round it. A heap o' people blame ly a misnomer, simply because this a sin like yore pa's on a child, an' that material has been supplanted by cotton family, folks tell me, has never mixed for sheetings, table cloths, napkins, etc with crime o' any sort." Even silk has not escaped, owing to "It was all my fault," he answered the excellent and growing popularity sadly. "I ought not to have visited their house so much. My trial will of mercerized goods. So much for generalities. Much nat come, mother, when she is Telfare's been said of curtailment of consumpwife. I get desperate when I think tion, not only by the mills, but by the of that."

consumer-the public. It might be well "Well, try not to think of it," she to point out certain factors in consumption that would not be greatly affected Her train was coming, and he went by such curtailment, as they constitute to buy her ticket. He found her fixed demands on the output of manuseat and then kissed her goodby. factured goods. Some of these items "Telegraph if you need me," he said. "I'll come on the first train." . TO BE CONTINUED.

Vast Number of Seeds and Insects He tural product.

Not on1... have new avenues been op Emerson Hough, editor of "Field and ened up, but the old items have grown Stream," in the September number of Jargely. This is not only because cotthat magazine, calls attention to the ton is cheaper than any other textile miringly, his fine face aglow, "stick to fact that the Bob White quail is the products, but because in many respects most useful of all our game birds it is better. Some of these items are little fellow, that he was kind and gen- since it is a scavenger among injurious large, some are small, but in the ag-"Really, I was proud of her," de-clared Mrs. Dunleigh. "She's just a pure, sweet, unspoiled girl, and every-could forget that period. Yes, you although sportsmen commonly believe fluctuations in the price of raw mater-that Bob White eats little but grain, ial. Armies Now Wear Cotton.

fourth of the total amount of his food Five years ago the armies of the Corn makes about 19.41 per cent, and world, with the exception of those in wheat about 3.04 per cent. of his food. tropical countries, were clothed in A captive will eat corn and wheat alwoolen uniforms. Today a large promost indifferently. Of the other cereportion of the world's troops are clothed in cotton. The United States alone als, sorghum, millet, barley, oats, rye which maintains a small standing force the grain consumed; yet the latter comparatively, has within the last four never pulls up a grain of planted corn, vears taken 13,000,000 yards of eight ounce khaki cloth. Great Britain uses wheat or other cereal. He eats wheat which has fallen upon the ground. Six an amount even larger, not even in-Bob Whites have been found with as cluding the inferior khaki duck that all over except in Colleton county chute cannot be employed to advantage. Cotton duck is the basis of enamelle goods such as the so-called leathernids, which for many purposes are bet-cement bags. Two million yards annually enter into the manufacture of feed bags for horses. It is estimated that 15,000,000 yards of duck are made used annually for wagon tops, cushions water-proof coats, etc. Both drills and ducks are used for the garments known as "slickers." A heavy duck forty-six inches wide is used to the extent of millions of yards annually for the purpose of filtering oils. Four million yards of heavy duck are used annually for the purpose of draining portions of mines that are difficult of access. A large outlet is found in the use of cotton for making the asbestos jackets used to cover steam pipes in large build-

Big Demand From Africa.

The tarpaulin business is constantly expanding. In the British possessions, and especially in South Africa, it has displaced the old flax duck as covers for flat cars and vans, wagon covers and tents. In South Africa the covers and tents. In South Arnea the cotton blanket has completely driven out the woollen blanket and 2,500 bales, 200 blankets to the bale, are im-ported by that country annually. Con-sul W. Stanley Hollis places the cot-ton imports into the Transvaal for the eleven months ending November, 1903, at £294,000, against £253,000 for the corresponding period of the previous year.

for linings and drills form the basis of rubber shoes. Cotton duck is used as wrapping for underground cables. Cotton bags are used for shipping sugar, salt and flour. They are regarded as more serviceable and convenlent than barrels, and notwithstanding the relatively high price of cotton they

Cotton is the basis of rubber belting. It is used in the air brake hose on all railroads, also fire hose, gar den hose and automobile tires. The sales to these branches of the trade nually.-New York Commercial.

Pat Doolen. Many were the stories of the civil war told by the late Confederate General Longstreet, but none of them were fuller of pathos and humor than his treat, made his adieus with: "An' how much do I owe ye, ma'am? "Nothin' at all, honey, if you all ain't got it convenient," 'was the hospitable reply, "and not many of the boys has these days. I've got three of my Georgetown-M. W. Pyatt and J. W.

Doar. -B. Cothrane, Jno. R. Harrison, L. O. Pat-terson and Jno. J. Watson. Greenwood-P. B. Callison, W. H. Yeldell, J. F. Morrison.

Hampton-G. M. Riley, T. B. What-

ey. Horry—D. D. Harrelson and D. A.

are new and have sprung into existence in the last few years, for new needs are being discovered for cotton every day. At the present it enters into the manufacture of more articles of commerce than any other known agricul-

Cotton is used exclusively in shoe are still cheaper.

alone amount to 50,000,000 yards an-

A READY COMFORTER.

One of Longstreet's Stories of Private reminiscenes of Private Pat Doolen. It was this Doolen who, having been regaled with buttermilk and sweet potatoes by a withered old country woman whose cabin he and his comrades had encountered in a straggling re-

own with Stuart this minute, if so be the Lord's spared them." "An' sure," returned Doolen, as quick as a flash, "if this isn't the identical loidy as-the saints forgive me, but his name's slipped me moind this minute, but he told me to sure look out for ye if we come this way." "It warn't Joe Davis, war it?" eagerly suggested the innocent old woman. "The very same, to be sure. Pat Doolen's memory'll never save his soul! Joe sent his love to his mither an' told me to be sure to give her this." He brought from a pocket a bulky wallet. The old woman fell or his neck with tears of joy. "An' me jes' a-prayin' the good Lord would send me some word of him, an' somethin' to see me through the next little while. That there dinner we all jes' eat was nigh the las' they war in sight!" wept the unsuspecting old voman. 'Pat, you liar," said one of his com panions as they walked away, "aren't you ashamed to deceive a credulous old woman like that? Where do you expect to go when you die? You don't know any Joe Davis, and you found that wallet at Manassas." "Who knows that better'n meself?" asked Pat. "But she'll niver know, barrin' the tellin' by Joe himself, an' she'll be ready to forgive twinty like where there is to be a third race to determine whether the remaining vacancy on the house delegation is to be filled by Mr. W. J. Fishburne or Mr. ter than leather. Millions of yards are W. J. Goodwin.

W. J. Goodwin.
The following senators hold over: h J. R. Blake, Abbeville; J. K. Hood, An-derson; Geo. F. Von Kolnitz, Jr., Charleston; T. B. Butler, Cherokee; P. L. Hardin, Chester; Edward McIver, chesterfield; C. M. Davis, Clarendon; f J. H. Peurifoy, Colleton; G. W. Brown, Darlington; E. F. Warren, Hampton; J. T. Hay, Kershaw; W. C. Hough, f Lancaster; T. B. McLeod, Lee; C. S. e McColl, Mariboro; C. H. Carpenter, Pickens; J. Q. Marshall, Richland; R. i. Manning, Sumter; J. T. Douglass, Union; Dr. A. H. Williams, Williams-h burg.

The following were re-elected: W. E. Johnson, Alken; LeGrand Walker, Georgetown; J. G. Holliday, Horry; James Stackhouse, Marion; T. M. Raysor, Orangeburg; D. E. Hydrick, Spartanburg; J. S. Brice, York.

The New Senators.

The following are the new senators: Dr. J. B. Black, Bamberg; Geo. H. Bates, Barnwell; E. J. Dennis, Jr., Berkeley; N. S. Connor Dorchester; W. J. Johnson, Fairfield; T. G. Tal-bert, Edgefield; Walter H. Wells, Flor-cond. Wire I. Walder Greenville; J Ragsdale of rabrence, Hernand of Oconec, Gaines of Greenwood, Good-win of Laurens, Mower of Newberry, Sheppard of Edgefield and Mayfield of Bamberg did not offer for re-elec-tion. Of those re-elected Senators Holliday, Hydrick and W. E. Johnson had oncestition

had opposition

House of Representatives. The members of the house of representatives are:

Abbeville-J. Fraser Lyon, J. N. Nance and J. C. Lomax.

Nance and J. C. Lomax. Aiken—Dr. L. B. Etheredge, G. L. Toole, Jno. R. Cloy and B. K. Keenan. Anderson—J. W. Ashley, J. B. Wat-son, Geo, E. Prince, M. B. Tribble and J. C. Millford. Bamberg—J. S. J. Faust and E. T. Lafitte.

Lafitte.

Bannoerg-J. S. J. Faust and E. T. Lafitte. Barnwell-Dr. Ryan Gyles, J. E. Harley and Dr. J. Milton Turner. Beaufort-C. J. Colcock, Jos. Glover and W. N. Heyward. Berkeley-E. E. Ballantine, W. L. Parker and Geo. B. Davis. Charleston-Huger Sinkler, R. S. Whaley, J. E. Herbert, R. M. Lofton, E. M. Seabrook, D. J. Baker, D. McK. Frost and O. A. Hamilin, Cherokee-J. C. Otts, W. D. Kirby. Chester-A. L. Gaston, Paul Hemp-hill, T. C. Strong. Chesterfield-G. K. Laney, W. P. Pollock.

Pollock. Clarendon-D. J. Bradham, R. S.

Clarendon-D. J. Bradnam, R. S. DesChamps, D. L. Green. Colleton-W. C. Brandt, J. M. Walk-er (third place to be filled). Darlington-L. M. Lawson, J. P. Kirven, A. L. Gray. Dorchester-J. A. Wimberly. Edgefield-B. E. Nicholson, J. W.

Edgeneta—B. E. Nicholson, J. w. DeVore. Fairfield—J. G. McCants, A. Homer Brice, C. S. Ford. Florence—W. B. Gause, F. T. Ker-shaw and J. H. Poston.

and miserable, into a chair and covering her face with her hands.

"I say, don't let it worry you," said Miss Cosby. "But the whole thing makes me fighting mad." "Mad?" said Lydia, looking up al-burst.

"Yes, mad," said Kitty. "Why should sneak around behind rosebushes merely to see the idol of his dreams step into her carriage, while a half bald, sallow faced creature receives her under palm trees, in the glare of electric lights, in the perfume of costly flowers and amid the plaudits of a squirming, low necked, white shirted mass denly:

of hero worshipers-hero worshipers, indeed! - when George Buckley, the you are crying!" kind of hero we know, is left out in the cold?

"Oh, Kitty, you are a darling!" The color was running into Lydia's wan face. Her eyes were gleaming as they I'd better get it done. Those two womyou do about him?"

"What would I do about him? I'd make him change his pills. I don't think he has any more heart disease than I have, and mine flops as regular as a clock, except when George Buckley comes near, with those big, dreamy eyes of his. Lydia Cranston, I told your mother I wasn't going to influence wanted me like he wants you he could have me at the drop of a hat. God dry season or dry weather in wet, but doesn't bring up real men in velvet lined cradles; he simply gives them the call his attention to real downright chance to bring themselves up. I know where you stand tonight, Lydia. Secure in the joy of George Buckley's to try to help you and George out of love, you are drifting away from it. the mess you are in. You are both too You are in danger, my girl-in danger good and sweet and noble to"- There of losing the very thing you treasure above all else. You think you can obey your parents and always retain George Buckley's love, but as sure as fate, while you are now all a woman could be in his sight, if you degraded yourself by marrying Telfare he would gradually cease to love you and would transfer his giant heart to some other woman. I'd hate to be second choice: but, as God is my judge, I'd like a chance to make that man thoroughly happy. What do I care about his family? Napoleon said he was the first of his name, and George Buckley may be the first of his." Lydia looked up sharply and fixed a he said. "I left 'er up at the postoffice steady glance on the face of her friend. readin' a letter. She'll be down direct-sleepy." "She's an original creature," said I was so proud of 'im, an' was the hap-

Mrs. Dunleigh, when Kitty had left piest woman alive fer several years them. "I wish you'd share her with me."

"Mad?" said Lydia, looking up al-most hopefully at the unexpected out-Mrs. Cranston. "Almost too independent to be a favorite with men, but women adore her. She's very exactingthat young god of a man be kicked and wants men to be more perfect than sneered at by our world, forced to they are. I really think she admires George Buckley, and she won't help me with Lydia a bit."

When Kitty returned to Lydia she found her in bed, the gas burning low, her face to the wall. Kitty disrobed noiselessly and got into bed. She lay still for a moment, then she said sud-

"Look here, are you-well, I declare.

There was no response. Kitty was quiet for several minutes, then she rose. "In the excitement of it all," she said. "I forgot to say my prayers. had not gleamed that night. "But pa- en fell into my trap with a dull thud pa? What about him? What would just now. I'll tell you about it in the morning.'

Lydia still made no sound nor movement to indicate that she was awake. but Kitty knew she was. Kitty knelt at the bedside for several minutes; then she rose, with a sigh, and got back under the covers. "If it will do you any good," she said, "I'll tell you I've been praying about this thing. I don't you either way, but if George Buckley believe God pays the least attention to people who pray about wet weather in heart suffering. I told him I was at the end of my rope and that he ought was a sudden catch in Kitty's voice, at her tenderly. and a sob struggled into her throat and shook her from head to foot. "Now, what's the matter with you?" Lydia suddenly exclaimed, and she turned over and put her arms about her friend. "Don't, don't, Kitty!" Then things different, but he's my father and they cried silently together until they picked yore pa out of a thousand men. had 508 grains of wheat in its crop,

HE next morning, after his return from Atlanta, George met Bascom Truitt at the warehouse.

"Brought yore mother in with me."

WORK OF BOB WHITE.

Destroys.

FD

She broke down and began to cry again after you was born. George, ef he gits well and serves his time out I think me somehow I believe he listens when you 'n' 'im had better move off somers whar we don't conflict with yore interests. I see my duty clearer now. I'll stick to 'im fer bette: or worse as long as me or 'im lives." George Buckley's head sank for an instant, then he looked up and gazed "There is nothing, mother, that can keep me from being with you and him. When his time is out we'll all live together. I've made up my mind on that point. He's a convict, and I want you are my mother, and that settles it." The old woman started away. She had reached the door, but turned back and stood near him. "George," she said huskily, "you are a good boy," and then she slowly walked away. She came in about the middle of the afternoon ready for her train, and as he was walking with her to the station she surprised him with a confes-

nuch as 181 kernels of corn in their is employed for the uniforms of the crops, but they did not steal it. It native troops in India. The utility of was already wasted. One Virginia quail khaki was triumphantly demonstrated during the Boer war, not only on acbut it was wasted grain. The seeds of count of its color, which rendered a the sumac plant makes some portion of hostile force indistinct at a moderate its food. It eats dewberries, wax myrdistance, but its lightness and general tle berries, bay berries, wild strawserviceability made it far more availberries and wild grapes up to a per able for an extended campaign. The cent. of 8.53 of its total food, but it is Russian service uniform in the far no robber of vineyards or cultivated East is of cotton and Japan also laid berry patches. It will eat sheep sor- in large supplies of khaki duck and rel, red or white clover, grass, lettuce has been making inquiries in this city or chickweed, but not vegetables. for more. "There are sixty different kinds of The navy uses an immense amount weed seeds which Bob White destroys, of khaki duck running from eight to and these make up 50.78 per cent. of eighteen ounces a yard. A manufachis food. To show how valuable he is as turer who supplies a large portion of a weed exterminator, it may be stated this material for our navy says more that one bird has been found with its cotton duck is used by our navy tocrop loaded with thirty buttonwood day than in the days when sailing vessels constituted our men-of war. In seeds. Others have been found to have eaten 200 to 300 smart weed seeds or 500 this connection it may be stated on the eeds of sheep sorrel, or 700 of threesame authority that the decline of the sided mercury seeds, or 1,000 seeds of sailing vessels has not produced any the ragweed! Cne Bob White was found decrease in the use of cotton duck for with 3,000 different seeds in its crop. ships. Although sails have been dis-Another bird killed on Christmas day, placed by steam cotton duck is used 1901. at Kinsale, Va., was found to have so extensively for awnings, coverings for launches, etc., that the amount of eaten 10,000 seeds of the pigweed. "Besides this, the Bob White is material used remains the same as it cavenger among injurious insects. It did in the height of the old clipper eats the potato bug, the cucumber beetrade. As Covering For Tobacco.

tle, the bean beetle, the ladybird bug, the wire worm, the May beetles, the Another demand that has sprung up boll weevil, the caterpillar, the army has been caused by the increasing use worm, the cotton worm, the cut worm. of cotton cloth for growing tobacc the Rocky mountain locust and the under shade. Seven hundred acres of chinch bug. In the spring and summer tobacco land in Connecticut are covthe number of these insects eaten by ered in this manner. The Continental the Bob White quail figures into the Tobacco company uses 1,000,000 yards many millions. How useful that little of cloth for its shade culture in Florgame bird may be is to be seen by the ida and Cuba. As an illustration of fact that the cotton crop has at times the fact that expansion of trade in been damaged to the extent of $15. various lines brings increased demand 000,000 by the boll weevil. The potato beetle sometimes costs the farmer $10,-000,000 a year. The cotton worm may cost $30,000,000 a year, and there have purpose of making bags for two been years in which the chinch bug brands of smoking tobacco." cost this country $100,000,000 in a Cotton is extensively used in farm welve-month."

PALM TREES .- The various kinds of palm trees on the island of Ceylon are in themselves of great interest, and when their different uses are ex- are enormous consumers of cotton plained a person can well appreciate duck, which they use for driers. The how essential they are to the natives material frequently runs twelve inches in low country Cingalese districts. wile and weighs from seven to ten From the sap of the cocoanut palm pounds a yard. Pottery establishthe spirit he drinks is distilled; the ments use millions of yards of army kernel of the nut is a necessary ele- duck annually for the purpose of ment in his daily curry; the milk is squeezing clay to get the water out the beverage offered to every visitor of it. The government uses 3,090,000

We at the role with right? — She sudded in covered her face.
"Oh, don't be a goose!" Kitty sudd.
"We're got work to do before we go to bed. Your mother and Mrs. Durleigh are now rolling a delightil more sel of gossip under their numbling vices. I can hear their mumbling vices. I have rid their minds of the belief that George__Buckley was hiding vo. the a fightam sunbonnet_and, it was to the office. She wore a checkor sinvite to Atlanta she driv out her fightam sunbonnet_and, it was to day are rid their minds of the belief that fightam sunbonnet_and, it was to a goose!" Kitty sudd.
to head you was on hand. Lord, I missed
to head you was on hand. Lord, I missed
to his domain; his only lamp is fed
from the oil; his nets for fishing are made from ingle delightil more sele of gossip under their nonges.
have rid their minds of the belief that del gingham sunbonnet_and, it was to the office. She wore a checkof gonga mumber and datter the right about?
the difficult content and a sixty-seven shall be and to office. She wore a checkof sinvite to Atlanta she driv out here
to his domain; his only lamp is fed
the optical size was there are sin head a sixty-seven shall be made of the sole.
to his domain; his only lamp is fed
to his domain;

me if that comes to pass."

The Cost of Cotton.

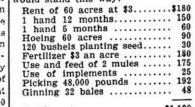

Farmers and cotton experts do not know what the cost of producing cotton is. The quality of the land, the seasons and the cost of labor are the important factors in the problem. A farmer might make cotton one year a various lines brings increased demand for cotton it may be stated that this year it would cost 7 cents. To get at same company uses 4,000,000 yards of the real cost the rent of land should be control of annually merely for the purpose of making bags for two number of annually merely for the purpose of making bags for two number of annually merely for the purpose of making bags for two rent and the labor of himself and chilis to dren. The way to get at the cost o producing a pound of cotton is to count the cost of every thing. Tak machinery. One company in its threshers and reapers finds use an-nually for 3,000,000 yards of cotton duck weighing from two to three pounds to the yard. Paper mills uso

Total cost$1,130

Spivey Kershaw-M. L. Smith, J. G. Rich-Lancaster-J. W. Hamel, H. W. Fos-Laurens-W. C. Irby, Jr., R. D. Boyd, Laurens-W. C. Irby, Jr., R. D. Boyd, J. H. Miller. Lee-M. H. Pittman, W. McD. Green. Lexington-E. J. Etheredge, J. M. Epting and Paul E. Hutto. Marion-John C. Sellers, George R. Reaves, L. M. Gasque. Mariboro-D. D. McColl, Jr., W. W. Bruce, J. P. Gibson. Newberry-F. W. Higgins, J. W. Earhardt, J. W. Taylor. Oconee-E. E. Verner, J. D. Sheldon. Orangeburg-J. A. Banks, T. F. Orangeburg-J. A. Banks, T. F. Brantley, R. F. Dukes, D. O. Herbert, E. L. Culler. Pickens-Laban Mauldin, T. J. Mauldin. Mauldin. Richland—A. D. McFaddin, J. D. Rawlinson, P. A. McMaster and L. W.

Haskell. Saluda-W. A. Webb, J. C. Edwards. Sumter-Altamont Moses, T. B. Fra-

Sumter-Altamont Moses, T. B. Fra-ser, J. H. Clifton. Spartanburg-C. P. Sanders, J. Wright Nash, W. M. Walker, K. D. Edwards, H. H. Arnold, W. J. Gibson. Union-H. C. Little, L. J. Browning. Williamsburg-W. L. Bass, John S. Graham, Philip Stoll. York-Dr. J. E. Massey, J. W. Ar-drey, J. E. Beamguard and Dr. J. H. Saye.

Saye.

HUSBANDS AND WIVES .- A reserved lover, it is said, always makes a suspicious husband.-Goldsmith.

Certainly wife and children are a kind of discipline of humanity.-Lord Bacon.

When a man should marry-a young man not yet, an elderly man not at all.

-Thales. He that loves not his wife and chll-dren feeds a lioness at home and broods a nest of sorrows.—Jeremy Taylor. I have hardly ever observed the marriage condition unhappy but for want of judgment or temper in the man.— Richard Steele. He that hath wife and children hath given hostages to fortune, for they are impediments to great enterprises, ei-ther of virtue or mischief.—Lord Bacon. After treating her like a goddess the husband uses her like a woman. What is worse, the most abject flatterers degenerate into the greatest tyrants .ddison.

AN OLD ENGLISH WOOLEN LAW.—An act passed in the time of King Charles II of England, "for the encouragement of the woolen manufacturers of this kingdom and the prevention of the exportation of the monies thereof for the buying and impo. ing of linen," pro-vided that "from and after the five and twentieth day of March, in the yeare of our Lorde one thousand six hundred and sixty-seven, no person or hundred and sixty-seven, no person or persons whatsoever shall be buried in any shirt, shift or sheets made of or mingled with flax, hempe, silke, haire, would be less. Count-$15 a ton and the cot-the net gain would be an acre. If the land y 500 pounds seed cot-the cost would be a the cost would be a to be burled in a linen shroud. Other-The act was repealed in