

seven by seven feet apart and when six months old attains a height of seven feet, and bears a small crop of the first season. The trees can be kept strong and of convenient size by only a small amount of trimming each year. Each tree is claimed to yield from 300 to 500 bolls a season, and it is further claimed that 70 of the bolls will make from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 pounds of clean lint. It is now believed that a variety of cotton has been found that can be successfully grown in the northern part of Australia, and every inducement is to be offered by the governments of the states of South Australia and Queensland to the growers who may secure land in the northern sections of these states for raising cotton.

The second variety of cotton displayed at that exhibition is that of the 'Hess' variety, which is perhaps about as good as has been given out about its qualities and the ease with which it may or may not be cultivated. It is called the Caravello II, and is claimed to be a very silky cotton, valued at 24 cents a pound.

SOUTH CAROLINA NEWS.—A steel cage is being built in which to confine the Hess Springs robbers when they are brought from Wadesboro to Lancaster to stand trial. Mack Jones, a white man, who had been acting as special constable at the term of court in Bamberg, was killed by a Southern Railway passenger train Saturday night. He was struck while sitting on the end of a cross-tie. There was a bottle of whisky in his pocket at the time. In Charleston, April 15: In the United States court today, the three men recently convicted of the postoffice at Latta, S. C., were sentenced. Rudolph Rabens got three years; James Johnson, alias Murphy, five years; and John King five years, all at hard labor in the Federal prison at Atlanta. The sentence on King was longer on account of his plea of guilty to larceny of government funds at Enoree. Notice of appeal to the court of appeals was given by the attorney for Rabens.

—Marion Pharr, the Richland cotton mill operative murdered by a boy, Clarence Shealy, whom he killed in a most brutal manner by slipping under him behind him, apparently in a drunken frenzy, was sentenced to life imprisonment with hard labor for the murder on the gallows in Columbia last Friday with a smile on his face. He was about a tremor. Under the influence of spiritual advisors who have constantly been with him, he was pronounced dead in 48 minutes, his neck having been cut by a guillotine. The coarseness of his features was even more pronounced in death than in life.

The state of South Carolina will probably be sued by the state of New Hampshire in a suit similar to that recently filed by the state of Dakota against North Carolina for money paid on bonds issued by the latter during the reconstruction period. It will be remembered that the supreme court decided this in favor of Dakota and that since that time a number of other states have been threatened with suits. Today the attorney general received a request from the attorney general of that state had given the state $30,000 worth of bonds and the attorney general was asked to know if they were redeemable. As the numbers of the bonds were not given, Assistant Attorney General Townsley answered that as no numbers were given, he could say nothing definitely as to whether the bonds were valid or not.

—Pickens special of April 16 to News and Courier: Yesterday was designated as reckoning day in the names on the dispositive petitions. There are now in the hands of the county supervisor, G. M. Lynch, petitions aggregating 701 names, presumably qualified voters. It is said that there are known to be 146 additional names on other petitions that have not been filed with the supervisor. Next Tuesday a committee will canvass the names on the petition, and the names on the books of the supervisor of registration, and see just how many are qualified voters. About 750 petitions will be examined, and it is a foregone conclusion that the question will come to a vote. The question that is now pending is whether the prohibitionists as well as those who favor the dispensary, is the time for ordering the election. The opinion that it will likely be best to wait until the busy season is over with the farmers in order to have a full vote had on the question. This would indicate holding the election some time in the month of May. To say that the names do not satisfy the prohibitionists, as they claim the election should be held at once, as there is no need of longer delay, or to say that it will cost something to hold the election in a legal way, and the county commissioners, as it is stated are somewhat dubious about holding the election on account of the expense. If there was a majority of the voters of the county, and the names they would likely not hesitate. Should they hesitate on account of the expense of the election, the names would not be held until the next general election, which is more than eighteen months off. The prohibitionists object to so long a delay, and think the election should be ordered in about thirty days. The state attorney will advise the election, and the prohibitionists with the county supervisor. Some final decision will be made of the matter next week, and the names on the petitions have been canvassed. In the county the taxable property amounts to $1,783,000, and the dispensary be voted out the half mill tax would raise $134,400 for the enforcement of the prohibition. The contest in the election is to be warm and close is to speak mildly. It will take a war of ballots to settle the matter.

Secretary Hester's weekly cotton statement, issued last Friday shows: For the 14 days of April an increase over last year of 359,000 and an increase over the same period year before last of 259,000. For the 226 days of the season that have elapsed the aggregate is ahead of the same days of last year 1,783,000 and ahead of the same days year before last 1,351,000. The amount brought into sight during the past week has been 223,545 bales against 52,705 for the same seven days last year and 119,563 year before last. The movement since Sept. 1st comes to be 1,899,103 against 6,716,114 ports to be 1,899,103 against 6,716,114 last year. Overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada 887,338 against 881,579 last year. Interior stocks in excess of those held at the close of the commercial year 467,163 against 201,032 last year; southern mills' takings 1,566,074 against 1,446,000 last year. The movement since Sept. 1st is 1,089,564 against 9,325,025 last year. Foreign exports for the week have been 114,057 against 48,803 last year, making the total thus far for the season 6,228,599 against 5,325,979 last year. The total takings of American mills, north, south and Canada, thus far for the season have been 3,411,185 against 3,452,536 last year. Stocks at the board and the 29 leading southern interior centers 28,122 bales against a decrease during the corresponding period last season of 47,632. Including stocks left over at ports and interior towns from the last crop and the number of bales brought into sight thus far from the new crop, the supply to date is 11,271,532 against 9,492,524 in the same period last year.

IMPORTANT RAILWAY INNOVATION.—Railway officials today who made a 200-mile trip in the Union Pacific gasoline motor car, which will be placed in commission by that road tomorrow, express the opinion that the success of the car will result in a revolution of suburban and branch line railroad passenger and freight service. Today's test of the Union Pacific car was the final one before placing it in practical service between Grand Island and St. Paul, Neb., where it will make two trips daily as a branch train. The car, which was built purely as an experiment, seats 20 persons, and in the forward end, where is located the gasoline motor, is a space reserved for baggage. The regular service cars, which will be a number of which will begin at once, will be fifty feet long, will seat 55 passengers and accommodate their baggage. The cars will have a motor of sufficient horse power to haul two "trailers" when it is found necessary to use extra equipment. The expense of operating the gasoline car will be very small—Omaha dispatch of April 18.

PROTECTION FROM HAIL. Mutual Insurance That is Safe and Economical. PREMIUMS NOT TO EXCEED FOUR PER CENT OF POLICY. I HAVE the pleasure of announcing to the farmers of York county that I have just completed arrangements with the FARMERS' STATE MUTUAL HAIL INSURANCE COMPANY OF SOUTH CAROLINA, whereby I can offer safe and reliable insurance against damage by hail at a reasonable premium rate. The plan in brief is like this: 1. You pay $2 membership fee cash down, and I give you a policy protecting all or a part of your crop in any amount you might desire, not exceeding $40 an acre on cotton. 2. In case of damage by hail, we proceed at once to adjust the loss on a mutual basis. You select one man, I select another, these two select a third and whatever these three say the loss amounts to within the limits of your policy, you get. 3. Except the membership fee down you are not asked for any cash until the medium price, payable next fall for the premium, and the amount you will be required to pay (not more than 10 per cent of the aggregate loss and expense). 4. Say you insure 40 acres of cotton at $200. That will give you protection on that field to the amount of $800. If a hail storm wipes out half of the field, we will pay you $400. We guarantee that the cost of your premium next fall will not exceed $32, and we calculate that it will be much less. You will see that you are going to pay one cent more than enough to pay actual expenses. The Farmers State Mutual Hail Insurance Company is incorporated under the laws of South Carolina, and is managed by men of high moral and financial standing. I am prepared to give full information either by correspondence or in person, and will take pleasure in visiting by appointment any neighborhood in which my presence may be desired. If you are interested, talk the matter over with your neighbors and send for me. Very respectfully, J. R. LINDSAY, Sole Agent for York County, Yorkville, S. C.
