- The Standard OII company means to monopolize as nearly as possible, the manufacture of denaturized alcohol in the United States. After the Monday ordered the apportionment passage of the denatured alcobill by the recent congress the Standard's experts after considerable experiments, decided that denatured alcohol cannot be manufactured cheap enough to seriously compete with gasoline. However, as there will be considerable demand for alcohol for manufacturing purposes the Rockefeller interests want to control the output. The Standard has made offers for large alcohol distilleries at Peoria, Ill., and on refusal of the alcohol plant to accept the price offered, has threatened to put up distilling plants to manufacture alcohol. The Standard Oil company figure that control of the alcohol business will prove very profitable.

ago and it worked nicely this year. The only issue in the present campaign is whether the state dispensary shall be abolished. Senator Tillman stands for its continuance. He had no way to work up interest except by bantering the opposition to scratch and in that way secured many a vote for the dispensary that would have otherwise gone the other way.

Of course, Tillman is neither dead nor bereft of direct positive influence in South Carolina politics; but just as the ancient Spaniards won a battle with the help of the horse and accourements of El Cid, Senator Tillman was able to stir up many a dispensary vote as the result of the antagonism engendered by those who bit at this shrewd suggestion and sought to punish him by means of scratches.

Senator Tillman is not and has no been an issue in this campaign, and to undertake to persuade people generally to scratch him was not wise politics. If the case had been left entirely to its merits the dispensary people vould have gotten still fewer votes. But notwithstanding this scratching incident and all the good it was to the dispensary, still the voting shows that the big wholesale liquor establishment has got to go, and even it is not abolished as the result of the present campaign, it will hardly be able to withstand another general election.

The Right to Vote.

"I don't believe that a man who does not know how to fix his own licket should have the right to vote. That is a sentiment that is more or less common at every election; but it usually comes from the side that is getting the worst of it because of the superior energy put forth by the other side.

There would indeed be cause for general congratulation if every voter could know just exactly how to fix his own ticket along intelligent lines, and could vote that ticket without advice or assistance; but such a situation has never existed and it will be a long time before it does exist. As matters stand, there are hun-

STATE ELECTION ECHOES.

Josh Ashley was defeated for the house in Anderson county. T. Y. Williams has been elected to the state senate from Lancaste county on the anti-dispensary plat econd race for railroad commissioner Hub Evans was defeated for the house in Newberry county, he receiv-ing only about 500 votes. Blease failslight plurality over Ansel.

The aggregate figures for state of-fices as collected by the Columbia State are as follows: There were nine new dispensary sen-ators elected and seven new anti-dis-pensary senators. There are four sec-ond races to be run between dispensary and anti-dispensary candidates. If McCain lost one, and Neil Edwards ... Sloan ... Should be elected, the dispensary senators, still have a majority of two. It is impraticable to give any definite information about the house. Paul Hemphill, A. G. Brice and S. T. McKeown were elected to the margin of two votes and an official count will be necessary. I. McD. Hood is reelected auditor, defeating Boyd's majority, 33,306. The most interesting and important and four will run a second race. All 4 race as showing the sentiment of the people with reference to the dispensary restriction is that for attorney general.
