HOW IT HAPPENED. "Very frequently," says a New York lawyer "there is an element of unconscious humor in the finding of a jury. To my mind, the best I ever heard in this connection was the verdict brought in by a coroner's jury in Michigan, who were called upon to pass upon the case of the sudden death of a merchant in Lansing.

The verdict was, "We, the jury, find from the physician's statement that the deceased came to his death from heart failure, superinduced by business failure, which was caused by speculation failures which was the result of failure to see far enough ahead."
