HIS NEIGHBOR'S CAT.-A Cleveland lawyer tells of a man living in a suburb of that city whose sleep has been disturbed nightly by the howling on his own back fence of his neighbor's cat, proaching term of superior court on a says Lippincott's. At last, in despair, he consulted his lawyer.

"There sits that cat every night on our fence," explained the unhappy man, "and he yowls and yowls and yowls. Now, I don't want to have any trouble with this neighbor, but the thing has gone far enough, and I want you to suggest a remedy."

The lawyer looked solemn and said not a word. "I am well within my rights if I

"No." "And the fence does?"

"Yes." "Then," concluded the lawyer, "I think it safe to say that you have a perfect right to tear down the fence."

MADE IT RIGHT .- There lived in the town of Epping, N. H., an old man who was noted for his penuriousness. One winter the school teacher boarded at his house, and she had a beau who came once a week to spend the evenin~ with her. This, of course, necessitated heating and lighting the parlor.

Nothing was said about the item of expense at the end of the term, when the teacher paid her board bill, but the next day, happening to meet the young man on the street, the old man accosted him, and, after a few preliminaries about the weather, remarked: "You know we've been to some little extra expense this winter running that fire in the parlor for you and teacher. I didn't say anything to her, but I though perhaps you'd be willing to make it right."

"Why, yes," replied the young man. "I am willing to pay anything reasonable, of course. How much do you think you ought to have?" "Waal," drawled old Mr. B., "I guess 'bout ten cents will do."

an Act of Treachery. Osceola went through many battles, writes General Howard in St. Nicholas, but never despaired and never surrendered till the fearful battle came when the Indians were defeated by General Taylor. Then the waters ran with the blood of Uncle Sam's quarreling children, and Osceola's men were scattered to the four winds. Even then Osceola would not have been captured but for an act of treachery. He was asked to come to a conference at a camp not far from St. Augustine. He GOING TO came with some of his warriors, trusting to the word of the commander, but he and his companions were at once surrounded and carried to St. Augussaid it was right to do this because Fall Festival Opens Notine as prisoners of war.
