

JORDAN TO FARMERS.

President of Southern Cotton Association Says Hold.

The following letter printed and sent out by President Harvie Jordan, of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association, will be of interest to farmers, especially those who are losing hope that they will ever be profited by holding on to their cotton. Mr. Jordan shows his faith in the effort to keep cotton off the market and believes that 15 cents will surely come. Here is what he has to say:

Headquarters Southern Cotton Association, Atlanta, Georgia, November 27, 1907.—In the face of the present monetary stringency and the strenuous efforts of the banks to prevent the anticipated panic of rush sales, so confidently hoped for from certain speculative sources, the records show that the crop has been manipulated until quite recently, and the year's obligations, due by the farmers, largely liquidated. Every bank has been ready to advance interest in the south should you give every possible aid to the growers in the present holding out, until the price of cotton reaches the high level it should attain, and force the payment of its full intrinsic value.

The recent census ginner's report does not indicate a crop in excess of 11,000,000 bales, due to the very short yield in the southern states. "Production in foreign countries is reported at least 2,000,000 bales short as compared with last year. Exports of American cotton exceeded 3,000,000 bales in the last twelve months, and the demand continues unabated. The money stringency is fast being relieved and the business will soon assume normal level. Sell no cotton that can be financed, or the price of cotton will be forced down to the level of the cotton growing interests of the south depends upon winning the victory in the present struggle. Let every man reward, will be sure and swift in the realization of higher prices.

"Farmers' merchants, bankers and business interests generally favorable to the holding movement should hold mass meetings at their respective counties or parishes and determine upon a concentrated effort and an effective co-operation.

Yours truly, "HARVIE JORDAN, President Southern Cotton Association."

The railroad station at Brunswick, Me., was blown to pieces early Saturday morning by the explosion of the station heating apparatus. Several persons were hurt.

Sid Jones, one of the negroes who was discharged from the army on account of the Brownsville affair, killed a negro girl near Huntsville, Ala., last Sunday. S. V. Nagle, a prominent distiller of Reading, Pa., committed suicide last Saturday, while temporarily insane. Philander C. Boyce, secretary of the Hartford Insurance company, died suddenly in New York last Saturday.

SOUTH CAROLINA NEWS.

The next session of the South Carolina conference will be held in Laurens.

Judge Klugh has been appointed to preside over the balance of the present term of the Richland court.

Congressman Lever has reconsidered his intention to run for the senate as a candidate against Mr. Lattimer.

The state conference of the United Daughters of the Confederacy meets in Chester tomorrow and continues in session until Thursday night.

Montgomery, Ala., November 30: Wade Hampton Hunter, a young man and a member of a prominent South Carolina family, was convicted here today of manslaughter and sentenced to ten years imprisonment. Hunter shot and killed T. M. Sumrall of Meridian, Miss., in a Montgomery saloon in August.

Spartanburg Journal, Saturday: What is probably the largest verdict ever rendered by a Spartanburg county jury against a railroad was that returned Saturday morning in the case of T. R. Trimmer, administrator of the estate of T. W. Allison, vs. the Southern Railway, when a verdict was found for the plaintiff in the sum of $18,833.33. Suit was brought to recover damages in the sum of $10,000. John Gary Evans, assisted by I. A. Phifer represented the plaintiff, while Sanders & DeFass represented the Southern Railway.

Greenville, November 30: Robbers last night entered the store of Baldwin & Whaley, at Mauldin's, and blowing open the safe, carried off $10,000. The store is owned by a man who had a gun and who told him to return to his home. Mr. Baldwin returned to his home and the news of the robbery was not known until this morning. A search of the store about half way to the store he was held up by a man who had a gun and who told him to return to his home. Mr. Baldwin returned to his home and the news of the robbery was not known until this morning.

Greenville News, December 3: A telegram was received yesterday by Mr. Frank Hammond, president of the People's Bank, announcing the sudden death of Mrs. Hammond's nephew, Mr. William P. Caine of Laurens, which occurred yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Caine's death resulted from the effects of a dose of antitoxin, which was administered to him as a preventative of diphtheria. Mr. Caine's little daughter has been ill with diphtheria, or scarlet fever. It could not be learned which, and Mr. Caine had been nursing her. The physician gave Mr. Caine a dose of antitoxin to prevent his having the dreaded disease. Only 100 units were used, but his heart failed, death resulting in thirty minutes. It was rather a remarkable case, for only about one in a thousand die of diphtheria. Mr. Caine was the cashier of the Bank of Laurens and was one of the most popular men in that city. He was 39 years old and leaves a wife and several children. Mr. Hammond left yesterday afternoon for Laurens to attend the funeral of his wife's nephew.

A special of Friday to the News and Courier: Capt. W. E. Goules, chairman of Jamestown Exposition commission, is in Norfolk arranging to close up the South Carolina exhibit at the Jamestown exposition. The exhibit was praised on all sides by visitors to the exposition from far and near and South Carolinians themselves recognized in it a great display of the state's resources. It was not only collected on a broad and liberal scale, but was most tastefully arranged. It is generally felt that it will be a pity if the exhibit cannot be kept together in a central, accessible place, where visitors to the state and citizens of the state can see it. In the appropriation bill of 1907, it is provided that the custody and care of the permanent state exhibit material be transferred for the year 1907, or until the expiration of the Jamestown Exposition, to the commissioner of agriculture, commerce and immigration. Also it is provided in the same bill: "That unexpended (unexpended) balance, if any, of the appropriation for the year 1907, or until the expiration of the Jamestown Exposition, shall be used to provide a permanent home for a state exhibit, provided, the State Agricultural and Mechanical Society contribute a like sum for the same purpose; said building to be located on the State Agricultural and Mechanical Society's property, to be under the control of the commissioner of agriculture."
