- Admiral Evans's fleet is now being entertained at Punta Arenas, the southermost port of South America, and the social activities in progress are on a more extensive scale than that far out of the way place has ever before known. The torpedo boat flotilla reached Punta Arenas on Wednesday.

-- In the nine years that the United States has had possession of the Philippine Islands the receipts have totalled $115,646,945. The net revenues in in 1907 were $2,936 869 in excess of the expenditures. There are nearly $6,000,-000 in the Philippine treasury today, available for purely administrative purposes. Last year there were one hundred and eighty-three Filipino youths in this country studying in colleges and universities. Only two were sent home on account of misconduct, and of the one hundred and eighty-one who stayed a large majority took courses in law or pedagogy.

- Dallas, Texas, February 3: The Rev. Angus Johnston, only a few months less than 100 years old, has died at Avalon. Born in Robertson county, N. C., in June, 1808, he was licensed to preach on April 10, 1836, by the presbytery of Harmony, in South Carolina, thus having served continuously in the ministry seventy-two years. It is said that no other known living minister in the United States has served that long. Doctor Johnston during the last few years frequently expressed the hope that he would live to be 100 years old, that he might fulfill a desire he cherished to preach one sermon each in Dallas and Fort Worth on his centenary birthday. He preached his last sermon in the little church at Avalon during the present month.

- In a speech in the house last Tuesday, Mr. John Sharp Williams served notice that the Democratic party is going to insist upon legislation to accomplish the following objects: The publication of the names and postoffices of all persons contributing to campaign funds; five days' notice to the opposite party before a writ of injunction involving property rights can be sued out; the right of any one charged with a Federal government pay for all property contempt of court committed outside the view of the court, to be tried before a neutral judge; the election of United States senators by the people; the enforcement of collections under the income tax laws; investigation of the so-called white paper trust; restraint of over-capitalization of combinations: amendment of the interstate commerce act so as to further do away with destructive methods of crushing competition.

I place of the harm that the grain gamblers myself entirely in your hands, needing and believing in your patriotism and do every day, nor did they ever exerwisdom." Wholesale arrests have been made throughout Lisbon during the past few days. Much of the disorder the New York purchases and sales of through which the country has passed stock and of produce are merely bets is generally conceded to have been due to opposition to the policies of Premier deliver, or on the part of the purchaser Franco, recently made dictator by the to receive. late king. Franco placed an embargo on the liberty of the press and proceeded to govern by personal decree, putting men in prison and punishing them as he would without let or hindrance. Upon the assassination of the king blame fell principally upon him, t and on Monday he renounced his power and, it has been reported, fled the country. Admiral De Amarel has succeeded to the premiership and has since been trying to organize a cabinet that will be composed of the various wings of the monarchial factions. He has agreed to raise the embargo that had been put on the press and to grant amnesty to all purely political prisoners Confidence has not yet been restored however, and the danger of serious trouble has not passed. If any headway has been made in the unraveling of the plot that culminated in the assassination, the fact has not been made known. The funeral of the king and Premier De Amarel says that if there was ever any danger of a revolution that danger has passed away as the remitted. He will call the national elections to be held in April and the understanding is that the government is to

There is no class of people in the state, he declared, who have asked for more or who have received more at the hands of the general assembly than the farmers, and they have no right to ome to the legislature and ask for the assage of a law which will mean the enslavement of another class—the poor armers who are forced to get.credit each year in order to make their crops. Otts said that no class of eople in the south have prospered so nuch in the past decade as the farmers. In 1890 the average yield of cotton per acre in this state was one-third of a bale; in 1900 the average had inreased to one-half a bale per acre. he price of farm lands has increased every county in the state-and all of his under the operation of the lien law. Why repeal this law? Why change onditions in this state under which rosperity has come to every class? Senator Otts said that a crop mortgage is far worse than the lien law. Inder the former a man can mortgage his crop not only for supplies actually needed, but he can secure luxuries and even include in it past inlebtedness, while under the lien only supplies necessary in the production of the crop can be secured. If the lien law is repealed, he said, he proposed to
