SOUTH CAROLINA NEWS.

-- Col. J. D. M. Shaw, a well known citizen of Laurens, died at the Columbia hospital last Saturday.

- A meeting was held in Columbia Wednesday to promote the candidacy of Major J. L. Coker for the United States senate. An address to the general assembly was prepared and signed by a number of prominent citizens from different parts of the state.

- Columbia, February 26: Mrs Paul D. Elizer, an aged white lady living about two miles from here, was brutally murdered today by a negro. The motive for the crime was robbery. The negro saw the woman's husband leave the house, and creeping up behind Mrs. Elizer, brained her with an axe, wrapping her body in a quilt, placed it on a bed and proceeded to rob the house. Negroes are aiding the authorities in searching for the murderer.

- After four mistrials, G. Wash Hunter, of Laurens, was convicted of manslaughter at Greenwood last Wednesday for the murder of Elbert Copeland, whom he shot in a quarrel over a poker game near Clinton, in a country store, in July, 1906. Copeland had a withered leg and used a crutch. In a quarrel said to have arisen of Copeland accusing Hunter of cheating, Copeland felled Hunter with his crutch and drawing Hunter to him threatened to kill him with a knife, when Hunter shot four times. Hunter was sentenced to eight years at hard labor in the state

- Col. Lawrence W. Youmans, of Fairfax, died in a Savannah hospital last Wednesday of cancer. He was one of the most conspicuous figures in the famous Tillman campaign of 1892 when Colonel Youmans stumped the state for secretary of state against Tillman on the "straightout" ticket He was one of the best stump speakers in the campaign, the one man Tillman is said to have acknowledged as his equal as a stump speaker. Colonel Youmans was a man of education and refinement. He served a term in the famous Wallace House and before that was state senator. - Columbia, February 25: The state will need $1,585,857.27 for expenses under the appropriation act of 1908. The legislative appropriation act is not included in this summary and with this the total expenses of the state will run up to $1,635,857.00. Mr. Jones has done some figuring on the situation and does Mrs. W. R. Hayes of Sharon No. 1. not think the matter serious, but is only The deceased was aged 3 years. Death impressed with the suddenness of the increases in the state's expenditures. He figures that the taxable property of the state is $257,000,000, and this will raise by direct taxation $1,486,500. In addition to this the state gets from charter fees, insurance fees and license total income from these sources up to Chester, February 25: Messrs, Henry Gibson and W. G. Dye, two of the young men engaged in the shooting scrape near Richburg a few days ago, which culminated in the death of Reuben Douglas, colored, and the wound-ing of three of his sons, came here today and after consulting their attorney S. E. McFadden, Esq., surrendered to the sheriff. It is understood that warrants will also be issued for at least two others who were in the party when the battle with the negroes occurred. It will be remembered that Gibson, as deputy for Magistrate Gibson of the Richburg neighborhood, attempted to arrest one of the younger Douglases and meeting with resistance deputized the others to assist him, when the fatal

- Columbia, February 26: Mr. T J. Gibson, the aged bond broker who was one year ago convicted of con-spiracy in connection with the theft of the bonds from the state treasurer's office and a sealed sentence left for him by Judge Prince today, for the first time appeared in court and the sentence was opened. It was six months in the penitentiary without hard labor. An appeal was entered and the sentence stayed. Mr. Gibson gave bond in the sum of $2,000. When Gibson was tried one year ago his attorney was Mr. Andrew Crawford. Judge Crawford put up a magnificient fight for the old man, who he said might not live until the next term of court. When the court ended Gibson was too ill to appear to receive sentence. Since that time Crawford has himself passed away but Gibson still feeble is alive.

- Columbia, February 27: cision in a criminal case which has attracted much attention throughout the state was handed down in the supreme court today, affirming the finding of the circuit court at Union where James W. Gallman, of Jonesville Union county, got fifteen years for the killing of Sims Gillmore, his nextdoor neighbor. Both men were prom-inently connected throughout that section of the state and the trial las summer created much feeling. The children of Gilmore, it is said, began to "guy" the children of Gallman over the matter. Shortly after this the two men met at a store. Gilmore after he was fatally wounded followed his antagonist, greatly his superior physically, attacking him with a claw hammer and severely wounding him before he dropped exhausted. The supreme court also affirmed the death sentence of Gus Lee, a negro, sentenced to hang at Chester last June for the murder of another negro named Lucius Jones.

The inspector, his wife and mother-in-law have been arrested. The detectives traced the false money to this town and finally learned that it was emanating from persons connected with the prison. Detective Inspector Schneder had himself committed as a convict and shut up in a cell. After a day or two of observation he heard a sound of faint hammering from a detached cell. He called some of his colleagues and last night they "raided" the cell of the midnight worker It was found to be a veritable counterfeiter's workshop.
