

OGDEN NOTES.

Farmers Too Busy For a Full Vote—Protracted Meeting—All the Schools Closed—Other Matters.

Protracted Meeting—All the Schools Closed—Other Matters. Ogdenville, Sept. 10.—As a rule, there was a very light vote cast in the second primary elections at this place as well as in the precincts, but the voters turned out better last Tuesday than usual.

The protracted meeting which commenced at Antioch Methodist church Sunday night, August 30, and in which the pastor, Rev. W. A. Beckham was assisted by Rev. J. W. Speake, came to a close last Saturday. It was the largest congregation present that attended any of the other services. The attendance was very good, but he held up wonderfully well, preaching twice every day. The results accomplished were very gratifying. There were thirty-seven additions to the church—thirty-five by profession and two by certificate. Another result is a general spiritual awakening in the community, which promises to have lasting effects. Mr. Speake was urged to remain over and continue the meeting through this week, but it was impossible for him to stay any longer than Sunday night, as he was scheduled to assist in a church conference in Greenville this week, beginning Monday night. Since January 1st of this year, there has been forty additions to Antioch church by profession of faith and a total of sixty-one on the entire charge consisting of four churches.

The Ogden school closed abruptly the first of the month on account of the funds of this district being exhausted. The board of trustees were under the impression that there was money enough to run the school until September 1st, but they learned early in the first of the month that the funds were already exhausted, and all the schools in the district were closed at once.

Since cotton picking has commenced in this section, the fact is developing that the crop will be much lighter than last year. The cotton is opening rapidly and as hands are very scarce, as usual, it will be difficult to gather. The fact is that it opens. The farmers of this section are not willing to sell any cotton at the present price, and the indications are that very little of the new crop will be put on the market until the "hulls" get into better control of the situation, which is probably believed they will do later on.

Mr. S. E. Steele met with what came very near being a serious accident one day last week. While cutting corn tops his knife slipped and the keen blade struck his left arm near the wrist cutting an ugly gash, and all but severing a large vein. The wound bled profusely for some time. The voters of this precinct stood by Cotton Smith last Tuesday, giving him 50 out of 67 votes cast. A few days before the first primary election, some five or six citizens were discussing county politics. As usual the newspapers were brought into the discussion. The Enquirer was censured by one of the number for the stand it had taken on certain questions and issues that were being discussed. When another one of the group said that for a long time he was somewhat prejudiced against the Enquirer because of the stand it had taken, just the opposite to his on a number of questions, but he had come to the conclusion that it came nearer to being all the facts and giving everybody a fairer show in politics than any other paper he had read. This is the fact that a newspaper that stands for the right and what it believes to be the best interests of the people, is not afraid to express them, and dares to do its duty to the public, regardless of consequences. It is some enemies, it will eventually get the support and sympathy of all true and loyal citizens of the county. W. H. Dunlap, the best returns from the sulphur springs at Shelby, N. C., somewhat improved in health. Miss Carrie Newsom will return this week from an extended visit to relatives in Tampa, Fla.
