

SOUTH CAROLINA NEWS.

—Lucas Gallman, a young white man, died Saturday at Union, from the effect of a pistol shot fired Friday night by John Ray, who claims he knows absolutely nothing of the shooting, as he was drunk at the time.

—Laurens, November 8: An effort to perpetrate a practical joke upon Miss Mary Brown, a young woman, whom he and Wade C. Pinson, his friend, were accompanying home in a buggy from a party late Friday night, resulted in the accidental killing of Thomsen Boyce, a young white man of this county, by a friend, Boyce, it is said, suggested to Pinson in an undertone that the latter discharge his revolver in order to frighten Miss Brown. Pinson pulled the trigger, but the pistol failed to go off. In trying to readjust the hammer Pinson accidentally discharged the revolver, the bullet entering Boyce's head. Boyce died several hours later. Killing was released on bail at a killing which clearly absolved all the parties are prominent.

—Spartanburg, November 6: "The only difference between the fair this year and last is the fact that the show is now in addition to the horse races and disreputable shows," said Dr. Snyder to the Wofford boys in a speech given in an address at the no holiday will be given this year on account of the county fair. Dr. Snyder expressed his no uncertainty in his opinion of the fair. He dwelt on the shows on the grounds, which he said, he does not believe should be allowed in Spartanburg. He believes that they are of the same class as those of last year's fair. He charged that the fact that there is no uncertainty in his opinion of the fair, when the gates should have been closed, and while there were no official races, there were horses on the track and other attractions which hold the crowd to the holiday will be given under any circumstances, he said. Other professors discussed the fair in the class room.

—Governor Ansel has appointed the following delegates to the convention of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, to be held in Atlanta November 19th, 20th and 21st: Dr. P. H. Mell, Clemson college; Prof. D. W. Daniel, Clemson college; Prof. E. L. Hughes, Greenville; Prof. D. D. Wallace, Spartanburg; Dr. W. W. Jacobus, Yorkville; A. T. Jamison, Greenwood; Dr. J. L. Mann, Florence; Dr. T. A. Crawford, Rock Hill; Rev. W. B. Wharton, Columbia; Mr. Thomas P. Parker, Greenville, and Hon. Alan Johnston, Newberry. A banquet will be given on the evening of the 19th, and the principal discussions of the meeting will be: "Industrial Education as an Essential Factor in our National Prosperity." A number of prominent speakers will be heard on this occasion. The National Society has organized a committee in South Carolina as a nucleus of interest in the state, and the Hon. O. B. Martin is chairman. Hon. Hoke Smith, governor of Georgia, issued an invitation to Governor Ansel to be present at the meeting in Atlanta.

—Charles W. Morse, until a year ago, a dominant figure in the world of finance, and Alfred H. Curtis, former president of the National Bank of Commerce, New York, were convicted in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court in New York last Thursday, after a trial which continued for several weeks, on charges of misapplication of bank funds and falsification of the bank's books. Morse was prominent in New York as the head of what was known as the "Ice Trust," and also as the head of the bank's ownership lines. He managed to get control of the Bank of Commerce and under his domination, he was in complete control to use the funds and standing of the bank to further any schemes that he might wish. He was apparently very successful for a time, but after awhile he got in too far to close his account with the bank. He was forced to close his account with Morse and Curtis lost control. Morse is blamed for the beginning of the panic which began last October. On Friday the convicted men were taken before Judge Hough for sentence. Of Curtis he said: "After consideration, which is in accord with my views, together with the position taken by the district attorney, I feel that the ends of justice can be best served by a short prison term on defendant Curtis. I don't believe and the evidence does not show that Curtis embarked on the illegal transactions with intent to benefit himself. He made his first false step when he became subject to the master mind of his employer. He knew his actions were wrong, but he was unable to break himself of the master hold. His feeble effort at reform met with little consideration at the hands of the supreme board of directors. He continued in the illegal path, hoping against hope that the end would come and that the bank would not suffer. He has met total financial ruin through the collapse of the bank. The evidence shows that his personal honesty has not been shaken and I take this opportunity to declare my confidence in him. I think that justice will be well served by sentencing you to five years and suspending the said sentence." Turning to Morse, Judge Hough said: "The evidence showed that you, Morse, fathered an illegal scheme to use the bank and the bank's funds for your own speculative purposes. If by an adequate sentence, the confidence of the public will be entirely at the mercy of any financial institution who cares to act as you did. I sentence you, Morse, to fifteen years in the Federal penitentiary." Morse will probably be sent to the Federal prison at Atlanta. Ga.

COTTON. WE DO NOT KNOW as to whether it is a good idea to hold COTTON FOR HIGHER PRICES OR NOT, but we know you CANNOT LOSE VERY MUCH MONEY by holding NINE CENTS COTTON, and the chances are equally as good for you to make as to lose, and if OUR CUSTOMERS think it a good idea to hold their cotton we HAVE PLENTY OF MONEY TO LOAN THEM AT SIX PER CENT in order to enable them to carry it. While cotton mills are making very little money at the present prices of cloth and yarns, still they are able to be running on full time and everything seems to be much brighter than it has been for twelve months past.
