Conferences between members of the territories committee and leaders of the house have been held frequently within the past two weeks and the advocates of statehood from both territories have been active in a quiet way. stration - Glenwood Springs, Col., January 15: Twenty persons were killed and thirty injured, many of them seriously, in a head-on collision between westbound passenger train No. 5, and an eastbound freight on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, twentyone miles from here last night. While nothing official has been given out as to the cause of the wreck, it is said to have been due to a misunderstanding of orders on the part of Engineer Gustaa Olson of the passenger train. Olson, however, claims, he understood instructions perfectly, but misread his watch, thus encroaching upon the time of the freight, which was in charge of his brother, Sig Olson. When the news of the catastrophe reached Glenwood Springs, every physician and nurse in the city was pressed into service, and a relief train was soon on the scene. The train load of thirty wounded and bleeding men and women arrived here today. - Washington, January 16: An innovation in international relief measures, so far as Europe is concerned, is to be undertaken by the American government, in expending the five hundred thousand dollars appropriated by congress for the Italian earthquake sufferers. Ever since the appropriation was made by congress, serious consideration has been given by the president and state department as to the best uses that could be made of it in the way of relief. The following statement was made public by the navy department today: The navy department has arranged for an expenditure of approximately five hundred thousand dollars in the purchase of building material, including all articles necessary for the construction of substantial frame houses, for the Italian sufferers and the shipments will begin by sailing two vessels, probably on Monday. This lumber is being delivered today in New York and the sailing vessels will proceed as fast as they can be loaded. If possible the department intends to send with each of the vessels several civilian carpenters, with plans to assist them in the erection of these houses.

Christ of the Brooklyn Eagle, and William Smith, a newsboy of Washington, engaged in selling New York papers. With the exception of Christ, who is before the grand jury of the circuit court for the southern district, the parties were directed to appear before the Federal grand jury of the District of Columbia, Tuesday next. The World's staff is also directed to bring with them files of the paper for September, October, November and December, 1908, "In the case of the United States vs. The Press Publishing Company," publishers of the New York World. All parties, when interviewed, declared they were wholly ignorant of the case regarding which they had been called upon to testify. #### JUDGE TAFT IN ATLANTA

President-Elect Talks Nicely to the South.

It was a rousing reception that the cople of Georgia gave Judge Taft in Atlanta last Friday and Saturday. The president-elect went from Augusta on special train making a half dozen rear platform speeches along the way, and when he reached Atlanta every steam whistle in the city was set going and kept going for hours. The city was gaily and elaborately decorated, and the streets were thronged with eager, interested people. The programme of the two days included quite a number of receptions and speechmaking; but the feature of it was a grand banquet at the Piedmont hotel, at which 'possum and 'taters with 'simmon beer was the most striking of the many rich courses served. The banquet cost $10 a plate and there were present as many as 500 of the place tomorrow at noon. The election most prominent men of Georgia. Between courses, especially after the introduction of the 'possum and 'taters, ome of the banquetters joined in the singing of old southern plantation songs, Judge Taft joining heartily in Judge Taft had given care to the preparation of his banquet speech, rearding it as his important utterance of the day, and in its delivery he lowed his manuscript closely. He had come south for rest to tired nerves after a strenuous political campaign, ...e began, but when he realized he had fallen into the hands of the strenuous Atlantians he began to realize that his rest was to be seriously broken.

Mr. Taft said with feeling that he was proud to have been the first Republican candidate for the presidency who had carried his canvass south of Mason and Dixon's line. "In the presence of Democrats and Republicans here at a non-partisan banquet expressing the welcome of the whole community, it would neither be courteous nor appropriate for me to go into a partisan discussion," Mr. Taft continued, "I can only refer to the fact with gratification and congratulation that today the expression of any politthat the disease never attacks the ical view in the south is possible with out involving social ostracism or any of the penalties with which it might have been visited in earlier times.
