Poor Crow.
"You know, of course," said the man in the mackintosh, "that you can teach a crow to talk."
"Silence gave negation to this proposition."
"It's so anyhow," he persisted: "but if you slit his tongue straight down the middle, lengthy, he can talk a good deal better. Why, I've seen that thing tested. A neighbor of mine, a college professor, had a crow that could speak several words. He had his tongue slit, and when the tongue got well the bird could say almost anything the professor wanted it to say."
"Did it perch upon the bust of Pallas, just above the—"
"Cut that out! I'm telling you something that actually took place."
"Did the bird talk itself to death?"
"Did it talk the professor to death?"
"Could it sing two parts?"
"Did it use words that had a double—"
"Gentlemen," interrupted the man in the mackintosh, "you make me intensely weary. The professor, it is true, gave the bird away. A bartender has it now."
"What was the trouble?" inquired the man with the green goggles.
"He couldn't make it talk grammatically. It split its inflections."—Chicago Tribune.

Finds Himself Through Fine.
Police Judge McGannon looked down from his bench the other morning upon a well-dressed man, who was charged with intoxication and whose case was marked "special," says the Cleveland Leader.
"What's your name?" asked the judge.
"Well, sir, I've forgotten it, but do you know I've forgotten it altogether," replied the man with a smile.
"Maybe a fine of $5 will help you to remember," said Judge McGannon, and the court also smiled.
"No, judge, you've fined a man whose name I don't even know."
"Well, be a good Samaritan now and pay this stranger's fine."
"I've always been stung when I have essayed to do things for folks I did not know," the prisoner replied.
"You're stung now," said the judge, "I fined the stranger $5, and now I fine you also—$10 in all."
"By George!" exclaimed the prisoner, "that makes me think, my name is Brown. Yes, sir, that's it; and let me say it is worth $10 to find myself, even if I am in the company of a more or less respectable stranger."
And, stepping up to the clerk's desk, the man tossed down a $10 bill and walked away.

News and Comments About Things in and Around the Country.
Chester Lantern, October 21: Capt. Wade Osborne died yesterday at his home near Lockhart. The funeral service took place this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. H. J. McCarty, and the remains were interred there. He is survived by his wife whose maiden name was Miss Mary Crosby, of York county and the following children: Miss Nellie Osborne, Mrs. J. M. Ferguson, of Swainsboro, Ga., and Mr. Francis Osborne of Washington, D. C. Captain Osborne was about 70 years of age. He was a gallant Confederate soldier, having been a lieutenant in Co. B, 4th cavalry, Capt. Barber, commanding. He was also a well known citizen and was a prominent man. Capt. Osborne suffered a stroke of paralysis some months ago and never fully recovered. He was married to Miss H. Marion returned yesterday from Laurens where he has been the past few days. He is a member of the special court for that county as special judge. Col. Marion made a most favorable impression upon the judges all of which he well equipped judges possess. It is a source of gratification to Col. Osborne to have had to see him again in such a good record in this capacity, and it would not surprise to see him one day a member of the state bar.

THE HUMAN CARPET.

Living Pathway Formed as a Compliment to a Bride.
A writer in London Tit-Bits describes an extravagant compliment which he witnessed some years ago while traveling in the Brazils.
The occasion, he tells us, was the wedding of the daughter of the commanding officer of a large military training college. The bride, with her sisters, had from childhood taken part in the entertainments and concerts in the school and was immensely popular with the students.
The wedding took place in the college, and from the door by which she was to leave to the bridal carriage, some little distance, a bright strip of carpet had been spread. This was flanked on either side by a wall of eager cadets.
As the bride appeared about fifty-five to fifty of these stepped forward and immediately laid themselves side by side, face down, upon the carpet, thus forming a living pathway extending from the door right to the carriage.
I do not know who invented the idea, but it was evidently a complete surprise to the bride, who looked quite scared as she halted in the doorway. The bridegroom, however, laughingly took her hand and, himself walking on the ground, persuaded her to advance.
"Once her surprise had been overcome and she realized the compliment intended, the bride's smile was radiant as she slowly walked over the line of men with a care and tenderness which were almost a caress, her little high heeled slippers treading daintily upon the live, yielding bodies, which formed what is surely the most luxurious pathway ever traversed by a beautiful woman.
Probably this incident is unique, even in a country where politeness is carried to such a pitch that workmen and beggars in the street gravenly raise their hats to each other.
That there is nothing new under the sun is, however, shown by the fact that the natives of the Hervey Islands in the Pacific, were formerly accustomed to provide in this same manner an "ara tananga," or living pathway, for the bride, extending from her home to that of her newly wedded husband.

Rock Hill Herald, October 21: A meeting of the old and new officers of county S. Association was held at Sharon at the hospitable home of Mr. Evers on last Thursday evening. Mr. Sec. and Treas. turned over the books and funds to the newly elected secretary, Mr. H. W. Shannon, who entered upon his work enthusiastically. Mr. W. S. Wilkinson, who rode eleven miles and returned the same night, has already proved himself an efficient county president and entered upon his duties not to keep York county at the second place among the states but to bring her to first place by the time of the Spantaburg convention, March twenty-eighth to thirty-first, 1911. The meeting was held on November 15 and December 15. There may be a grouping of townships when it comes to the election of a president. H. W. Milling promises to be a valuable helper in this important work. The chairman, George R. Rock Hill, this time another white man. The unfortunate white name is George Lander, of Florida. He had been in Baltimore working but got broke and was beating his way home on a southern freighter. He was sent up for 20 days. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Black, of Yorkville, came to the meeting. Mrs. Black is well with relatives. Master Lewis Fowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fowell, who live out near the dam, while riding a horse, was thrown from the horse and quite badly broken by the horse falling down, throwing him to the ground. A programme of entertainment was given at the First Baptist church, of Florence, Ala., has been received here. Rev. J. W. Willis, the Sunday school superintendent, is here and the programme has been read with interest. The dedication of the church was held Sept. 25 and consisted of music, sermons, reports, addresses, etc., and were attended by large numbers of the community. The church is an unusually handsome and striking one, of Grecian architecture, resembling closely in every particular the church in Rock Hill. Mr. Willis is much pleased with his new field and will doubtless do a fine work here.

Gastonia Gazette, October 21: Yesterday's Charlotte News says: "A marriage which will occur soon and which will be attended by much interest will be that of Miss Johnnie Babington and Mr. Herbert Hunter, both popular young people of the city." Miss Babington is a sister of Mr. B. B. Babington, of Gastonia, general manager of the Piedmont Telephone and Telegraph company, and is quite well known here having been married to Mr. H. J. Kennedy, of Yorkville, in 1906, and Mrs. M. E. Kirby, Jr., returned at noon today from Charlotte where they attended the wedding of Mr. W. C. Kirby's brother, Mr. W. C. Kirby, and Miss Anna Dotger. The marriage was an event of much social interest in Charlotte, took place at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Decker, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. M. Patton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Both bride and groom are popular in Charlotte and social circles. Mr. J. C. Carr, of Yorkville, who was a business visitor in Gastonia yesterday. Mr. W. R. Johnson, who had been spending the last six weeks in Yorkville, returned to his home in Jacksonville, Ark. Mr. Johnson, who is a contractor and has just returned to his first visit "back home" in quite a while. He, of course, enjoyed it as did his numerous friends. At Wednesday afternoon and made a quick run to Mr. J. H. Kennedy's residence on South York street, only to find a chimney after, from which no flame resulted. A neighbor, seeing the burning chimney, was called in to investigate and danger had been turned in the alarm. Mayor T. L. Craig returned yesterday morning from Baltimore where he went to visit Mrs. Craig and her father, Mr. William Watson, both of whom are at the Johns Hopkins hospital for treatment. He reports that Mrs. Craig is recovering rapidly and since Sunday Mr. Watson has begun to improve and is now on the road to recovery. The two great old daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lawford, 618 East Radford avenue, died at 2 o'clock this morning from pneumonia, following an illness of several months. Following funeral services at the grave conducted by Rev. J. J. Peach, pastor of the East Baptist church, the body was interred in the plot cemetery at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The stockholders of the Piedmont Telephone company, recently chartered for Gastonia, met yesterday and organized, electing the following officers: President, A. C. Boyd; Vice-president, S. N. Boyd; Secretary and Treasurer, L. L. Luffin; Secretary and Treasurer, L. Luffin; Secretary and Treasurer, L. Luffin; Secretary and Treasurer, L. Luffin. There are about fifteen stockholders in the company and it is understood, purchased the plant of the defunct Gastonia News and expects to begin the publication of a paper. No time has been set, however, for the commencing of the publication. Cherokee News, October 19: The city council met in the city hall last Monday evening at a special called meeting to consider matters of moment relating to the city and several important subjects were up for discussion. Practically the entire council was present. The first matter discussed was that of the telephone situation. For some time there has been dissatisfaction on the part of a number of people regarding the management of the telephone system in Gastonia and the council proposed to look into the matter. Mr. J. M. Patton, of Gastonia, N. C., general manager of the Piedmont Telephone company, was called on by the mayor to state the company's position. Mr. Babington said: "I am extremely sorry that the people of your city have been obliged to register a kick against the methods and service of the company. I deeply regret that in the case of Gastonia your company has been in Gastonia we have been accorded the most courteous of treatment, not only by the council and subscribers but by the people as well. For this we are more than grateful and it is fully appreciated. I will disclose to you the phrase around which the entire trouble regarding non-subscribers using the phone is centered. This expression in the contract between the city and my company means that the service shall be unlimited to a subscriber that every thousand may call as he desires each month without extra pay. It does not apply to non-subscribers, however, and we did not intend it in that way when it was inserted in the franchise. You will find that some towns, Charlotte for example, have a system by which a man may have 200 calls a month at a low rate. All above 200 he pays for at the rate of three cents per call. They, however, do not have the phone and an unlimited one also. The council will grasp my explanation of the 'unlimited' part. The purpose of that severd thousand may calls to give better service to the subscribers. Our company has in this city 3000 calls a month, which is 15 times as many as in any other city in this state. I do not know who invented the idea, but it was evidently a complete surprise to the bride, who looked quite scared as she halted in the doorway. The bridegroom, however, laughingly took her hand and, himself walking on the ground, persuaded her to advance. "Once her surprise had been overcome and she realized the compliment intended, the bride's smile was radiant as she slowly walked over the line of men with a care and tenderness which were almost a caress, her little high heeled slippers treading daintily upon the live, yielding bodies, which formed what is surely the most luxurious pathway ever traversed by a beautiful woman.

That Cold Room

on the side of the house where winter blasts strike hardest always has a lower temperature than the rest of the house. There are times when it is necessary to raise the temperature quickly or to keep the temperature up for a long period. That can't be done by the regular method of heating without great trouble and overheating the rest of the house. The only reliable method of heating such a room alone by other means is to use a

PERFECTION OIL HEATER
Absolutely smokeless and odorless which can be kept at full or low heat for a short or long time. Four quarts of oil will give a glowing heat for nine hours, without smoke or smell.

An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. Filler-cap does not screw on; but is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached by a chain and cannot get lost.

An automatic-locking flame spreader prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that it can be cleaned in an instant.

The burner body or gallery cannot be wedged, and can be unscrewed in an instant for rewicking. Finished in japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental. Has a cool handle.
