More and Better Buildings—Cotton Mill Employees Make Big Record as Meat Raisers.

Correspondence The Enquirer

Clover, Jan. 27.—Mr. W. B. Stroup is erecting another brick store room between the building in which W. B. Stroup & Bro. do business and the two-story building on the corner of the new building is to have a glass front and the front of the old building is to be torn out and a new building erected and an addition made to the rear that will make it the same length of the two-story building. The new building is to be constructed in the same manner as the old building, but is to be completed in about thirty days and will be occupied by the "City Drug Store," a new concern. The new building is to be a vehicle and harness repository. Dr. M. B. Neil and Dr. R. L. Wylie expect to erect a new building on the corner of the new building and will have bought on the same street and west of the new school building. It is probable that Mr. W. H. Purcell will erect a residence on the same street. Mr. Walter McElwee will erect a residence in the same section of the town.

It is said that the aggregate net weight of the home raised hogs slaughtered during the winter was 25,000 pounds, many of them weighing more than 400 pounds. In fact the porker that weighed less than 400 pounds, passing notice. Some were killed that were so large as that of Mr. J. A. Clinton, which weighed about 575 pounds. The new record was set by Mr. H. B. Maxwell, which weighed 555 pounds.

Dr. M. B. Neil has been particularly unfortunate in the matter of losing his horses recently. He had a valuable animal burned in Quinn's stable on the morning of December 12, and another which he said $500 to die on Wednesday morning.

—Columbia, January 26: For the purpose of securing for South Carolina the National Corn Exposition for 1912, business organizations in several cities are today working on plans to send large delegations to Columbia, S. C., January 28 to February 1. It is quite favorably disposed toward the south, and the remarkable corn crop of the south in the last two years may influence the directors to allow the exposition to come south next year. The corn show in Columbia was probably the largest in the history of the exposition during the two weeks, and it is believed half that number would be drawn to Columbia. The State Agricultural and Mechanical society will probably erect a building suitable to house the exhibits, and Columbians will guarantee, reduced rates. The local Chamber of Commerce will send a delegation, the Southern Railway will send Col. M. V. Richards and the Columbia city council will send Mayor Gibbs. In addition to these, private individuals have subscribed to the cause. Charleston has promised to aid along with Florence, St. Matthews and other communities. Conservative people are of the opinion that the securing of the National Corn Exposition will be the greatest boost for South Carolina and the south of anything since the Charleston Exposition. The cheap farm lands in this section, together with the knowledge of what can be produced here, will be an incentive to bring it is believed, hundreds of good farmers to the south. Rutherford P. Hayes of Asheville, N. C., a son of the late President Hayes, is of that opinion, and is in consequence one of the most enthusiastic workers for Columbia.

OLEOMARGARINE BUTTER?

It looks like butter, it tastes like butter and it melts like butter. The people who make and sell it say it is as good as butter, but we all know better. Many people who sell hand separators say their machines are just as good as the De Laval but most people know better. All who have tried, know it is about 90 per cent hot air.

Ninety-eight per cent of the world's farmers use the De Laval. The greater per cent of these men know what it takes to handle milk to the best advantage.

The skim milk fed hot and sweet to the pigs and calves is worth 100 per cent more. Enough difference saved to pay for the little machine in one year. The machine will last 20 years if cared for. On a large herd of cattle it would not take long for the machine to pay for itself. Have one set up in your home without any expense to you, and try it and be convinced.
