The pouch had a slit in one side The registered eight inches long. package had been torn open, the money extracted, and the casing pushed back in the mail bag. The money was shipped from Tampa at 4.40 Thursday afternoon by the Exchange National bank and was consigned to the Bank of Clearwater. Postal off ials decline to give any information until postoffice detectives arrive to make an investigation. The robbery is supbeen committed while posed to have fourteen mail bags for Clearwater and points south of that city were left lying on the platform at Tarpon Springs for over eight hours waiting for the Atlantic Coast Line train, which was eight hours late.

Scraps and facts.

- Galveston, March 26: Ammunition is being loaded aboard the scout cruiser Salem, the gunboat Tacoma and three transports in port. Every preparation is being made for war, even though the mobilization of troops and war vessels here results in nothing more serious than war play. While no official advices bearing upon the proposed movement of the troops have been received here, personal let-Washington indicate that the war scare practically has vanished and that a rther display of armed force is reparded as unnecessary. Gen. Mills is proceeding with the work of training the brigade under his command just as though war was imminent. During hikes up the beach. No word has been received here from Rear Admiral Staunton's armored cruiser fleet, which was expected to arrive here today from Guantanamo. It is believed here that the four vessels are still at the Cuban station awaiting orders.

- Washington, March 26: Magazines and other bulky periodicals, after July 1, will be transported by the postoffice department in carloads as fast freight. Postmaster General Hitchcock is developing as lapidly as possible a plan utilize fast freight in the transportation of magazines when practicable and in instances where a saving to the government in transportation charges may be effected. The quadrennial weighing of the mails in the third contract section of the country, comprising Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michi-gan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri, is now in progress. By direction of the postmaster general, given in accordance with his plans for originating in large publishing centres are being taken and kept separately from the weights of other mails.
