- Will Thomas, a negro, was taken from a magistrate's constable by a party of masked men at a point about fourteen miles above Newberry at about 10 o'clock last Friday night, and was chained to a tree and his body riddled with bullets. The negro was being brought to the Newberry jail by Constable Gary G. Johnson on a war-rant charging Thomas with the mur-der of Spurgeon Johnson, a white man who was assassinated in the upper section of the county near the Laurens line some weeks ago. The warrant had been issued by Magistrate William Dorroh and the negro was arrested in the community in which Johnson was killed. Constable Johnson was halted killed. Constable Johnson was halted by the mob at a point in some thick woods just beyond Little river bridge. He says when the mob approached him they demanded the prisoner and that he refused to deliver him over and shot off his pistol, thinking to "bluff" the mob. He says he was told that if he did that again he would be killed, and did that again he would be killed, and that he was entirely surrounded by the masked men and had to surrender. He said the mob then told him to get down the road quickly, and that he obeyed. They struck his mule, he says, and before he had got very far he heard the firing of guns and pistols. He says he thinks he heard over a hundred shets. He and Magistrate hundred shots. He and Magistrate Dorroh went to the scene Saturday morning and found the dead body of morning and found the dead body of the negro still chained to the tree. Magistrate Dorroh immediately notifi-ed Sheriff Buford. The sheriff had just returned from a trip in the lower part of the county, where there was a considerable disturbance last night, and, in company with Constable Can-non G. Blease and others, he left im-mediately for the scene. It was im-possible to elicit any further facts than those given by the magistrate's constable. Coroner John Henry Chap-pell held an inquest, the verdict being that the negro came to his death at the hands of unknown parties.

Thinks It a Good Idea.—The York-ville Enquirer, referring to the scram-ble for the Chester postoffice that seems to be presaged, although the incumbent has more than three years still to serve, says this: "Why don't you tell them to submit it to a primary to be participated in by all the patrons of the office, including the rural routes? That is the good old Democratic way of settling such matters." It is the right way, too, and the one, we think, that should be adopted here in Chester, if the applicants for the office of postmaster prove to be as nu-merous as they are said to be.—Chester Reporter.

00, do you think you would wait un-

A Word to Procrastinators If you owned a dwelling worth $10,- ooo, do you think you would wait un-til next week, next month or next year before insuring against Possible loss by fire? No you would not wait until tomorrow. Yet you say you are not ready to insure your life for the pro-tection of your wife and children or creditors, but hope to do so later. Erother, I can explain to you why you are so particular about the house, that may never burn, and so procrastinating about the life that is sure to end sooner or later—possibly within six months. If your house should burn without insurance, the loss would fall on YOU! But if you die without any Prayer meeting Wednesday evening Life Insurance, or less than enough to comfortably provide for those you profess to love, the loss would fall on THEM. If you have no fire insurance you are carrying the risk. If you have no Life Insurance, your family and creditors are carrying the risk; but when you are gone without Life Insurance you will not be able to hear the kind things (2) your family and ance you will not be able to hear the kind things (?) your family, neighbors and creditors will have to say about you, as you would in case your house should burn uninsured. See? The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company during the past 67 years, has paid out to beneficiaries over $300,-000,000; But Not One Cent of This Huge Sum Was Paid to the Beneficia-ries of Those Who Expected to Insure, But Did Not Do So.
