PUBLIC GOOD CONFERENCE

Question of Marketing Will be Discussed by Experts. Editor Yorkville Enquirer:
After the crop is made what is to done with it? Marketing is not so sim-ple as it may seem; for the best prices cannot be had with hap-hazard uncannot be had with hap-hazard un-loading on the market. The field must be prepared by co-operation, and low rates must be secured in this way be-fore the farmer with diversified crops can meet competition or the one-crop farmer get a fair return. To dump cantaloupes, for example, upon an ov-erloaded market is about as sensible as shooting them at the moon with smokeless powder, for powder is cheaper than freight bills. Some years ago farmers plowed acres of this melon under because the price was too low to pay to ship to market. Disposing of product clearly needs as much thought as producing it.

thought as producing it.

Now, if farmers and consumers could get nearer together, both would undoubtedly be benefitted. While this ideal situation will not be attained altogether at the Conference for the Common Good, to be held in Columbia August 6-7, and following that, in the various counties, the meeting will. various counties, the meeting will, among other subjects, consider this all important one of what to do with the product after it is produced at the cost of months of toll and anxiety. The re-sult of the conference will be to draw market and farm closer together.

The conference has been fortunate in securing the services of such men as E. W. Dabbs, president of the Farmers' Union; W. W. Long, of the State farm demonstration work; B. B. Hare, of the office of rural economics of the U. S. department of agriculture; W. R. Meadows, the government cotton tech-nologist; J. W. Shuford, of Hickory N. C., Mrs. W. S. Mather, president of the Housewives' League of Charleston, the Housewives' League of Charleston, S. C.; Clarence Poe, editor of the Progressive Farmer, and several farmers of this state. These experts will consider marketing, under such topics as the following: Typical Examples of Loss to Farmers on Account of Poor Marketing, Creating a Home Market for Home Products, Co-operative Marketing in North Carolina, and Marketing the Cotton Crop. The discussion will be open to all farmers and to any others interested.

This is but a part of the programme Other broad topics to be taken up in detail are: Co-operation for Rural De-velopment; the Part of the Church in Rural Development: Permanent Homes for Our People; with plans for helping mill workers purchase homes and for tenant farmers to acquire land; Edu-cation and Child Welfare; and Problems of Citizenship.

FISHING IN CROWDER'S CREEK Party of Seiners Take Seventy Pounds The Yorkville Enquirer

Bethany, July 28.—On Friday party from this section, consisting of Bonner McGill, Jim Adams, Rob Jack son, Carlie Pursley, Lindsay Temple ton John Ratterree, Rob, Choate and Albert Quinn enjoyed a day's fishing on the famous Crowders creek. The party began fishing on Jin Adams' place, continuing to the trestle Adams' place, continuing to the frestie on the C. & N.-W. railroad—a distance of four miles. Fish of all sizes were caught, ranging from one to eight pounds—in all about seventy pounds. When one of the big kind hit the seine the bagger—usually Mr. McGill—would yell in such a voice that fairly shook leaves on the surrounding trees. There was nothing to mar the pleas ure of the day, until twelve o'clock, when John Ratterree dropped off into a hole ten feet deep, and after a few a hole ten feet deep, and after a few moments of sputtering and splashing he again reached the shallow waters. Mr. Templeton immediately took up the burden of pulling the staff, but lost out on the first down. He contended that the coldness of the water was responsible for the chilly effect. Carlie Pursley was then pressed into service, and did fine work until he espled the unpleasant gaze of a harmless waterwhich in all probability moccasin which in all probability, caused the loss of a good catch.

Dinner was served at an old spring on Mr. Adams' place. Albert Quinn acted as chef, and the meal he cooked would make any girl take notice. After dinner a pleasant hour was spent telling fish tales.

"You fellows talk about big fish," said one of the party, well, an eleven pound carp I caught several years ago road at four mile post, or Mr. Jule farms into small farms to suit purbeat anything I ever saw. - Chester, July 25: The remains of Mrs. Sarah Brandt, widow of the late R. Bradt, who died in Athens, Ga., Monday evening, were brought here Tuesday afternoon and, after a short service at the graveside by the Rev. W. E. Tailor, were laid to rest in Evergreen cemetery. Mrs. Brandt was a former resident of Chester, but moved with her family to Athens, Ga., about ten years ago, and had since resided in that city with her son, Mr. Rudolph Brandt.

— Washington, July 25: As a result of constant efforts on the part of Senator Tillman, Representative Aiken and other members of the South Carolina delegation in congress, President Wilson today signed an order to the proper authorities for Milton A. Carlisle, the Newberry banker, who was some time ago convicted of mismanagement of national bank funds, to be confined for the present in the Newberry county jail. During President Taft's administration, Carlisle's sentence was commuted from five years to one year and one day an it is learned from the department of justice that efforts have been made still further to reduce this term of imprisonment. Recently, stories were sent out to the effect that Carlisle's sentence had been again commuted but these were incorrect, as learned here today, after the South Carolina congressmen had seen President Wilson and from what the pardon at-torney of the department of justice said concerning the matter. In a word, the case stands this way: Car-lisle is under sentence of a year and a day in the Federal prison at At-lanta, but in accordance with President Wilson's promise and order today, he will, at least for the present confined in the Newberry county jail, and will not be sent to Atlanta. What further action may be taken by the president looking to more cutting down of the sentence is a matter that has not yet been announced.

- Comptroller General Jones has run afoul of Attorney General Peeples by holding up a claim for somehing less $200 presented by Peeples for expenses in connection with the entertainment of the convention of attorneys general of the United States which met in Charleston some time ago. The gener al assembly had appropriated $200 for the use of the attorney general in en-tertaining the visitors. The attorney general sent in his bill for something less than $200. The bill was itemized and one of the items was a "smoker $150." The comptroller turned down all items except railroad, Pullman and hotel fare for the attorney general, amounting to less than $50. Attorney General Peeples has asked the comptroller to return the bill, saying that he would put it up to the general assem

Clover, R. F. D. 3, July 8. UNFAIR TO THE DRUGGIST

The Old Joke about "Something Just as Good," Doesn't Apply to This

Drug Store. You have probably heard dozens of times the old story that a drug store was a place to "get something just as good." There is at least one druggist n the world that you can't say this about.

It is certain that an inferior article will never be substituted for a guaranteed one by the York Drug Store. Take for instance a safe, reliable remedy for constipation and liver trouble like Dodson's Liver Tone. This harmless regetable liver that has proved so satisfied. regetable liquid has proved so satis-actory a liver stimulant and reliever of biliousness, and to entirely take the place of calomel without any danger of restriction of habits or diet, that there are dozens of preparations springing up with imitations of its claims. But Dodson's Liver Tone is guaran teed to do all that is claimed for it and if you are not satisfied with it, the York Drug Store will hand your money back with a smile. Any person going to this store for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will be sure of getting a large bottle of this genuine remedy in exchange for his half dollar.
