

The CALL of the CUMBERLANDS

CHARLES NEVILLE BUCK WITH ILLUSTRATIONS FROM PHOTOGRAPHS OF SCENES IN THE PLAY

CHAPTER VIII. The boy from Misery rode slowly toward Hixon. At times the moon struggled out and made the shadows black along the way.

The correctness of his inference brought a brief smile to his lips when he crossed the creek that skirted the orchard and heard a stable door creak softly behind him.

"I haven't skinned of work," he said. "I believe that. Also, you've got to keep out of trouble. You've got to ride your fighting instinct with a strong curb."

"When I gets back home," he promised himself, "you'll be one of the best folks I'll look for. Jim Asberry, damn you! All I hope is that nobody else don't git ye fast. Ye 'bongs ter me."

"You are a dear, Wilfred!" she said. "I'm glad to see you. You've been away for a long time. How are you getting on?"

"I'm much too fond of all of you to risk letting you laugh at my barbarian," he said. "I'm glad to see you. You've been away for a long time. How are you getting on?"

"I've not yet begun to scowl," he assured her, and proceeded to show her what superlatives of saturnine expression he held in reserve.

"Right, oh," laughed Lescott. "I thought maybe you'd bring a trunk, but it's the wise man who travels light."

"I'm glad to see you. You've been away for a long time. How are you getting on?"

FOOTSTEPS OF THE FATHERS As Traced in Early Files of the Yorkville Enquirer

NEWS AND VIEWS OF YESTERDAY Bringing Up Records of the Past and Giving the Younger Readers of Today a Pretty Comprehensive Knowledge of the Things that Most Concerned Generations that Have Gone Before.

The first installment of the notes appearing under this heading was published in our issue of November 14, 1912. The notes are being prepared by the editor at this time and opportunity is taken to bring into the foreground the pleasure and satisfaction of the older people and for the entertainment and instruction of the present generation.

114TH INSTALLMENT (Thursday Morning, Sept. 10, 1862.) 17th Regiment, S. C. V. The following are the casualties in Co. F, (Capt. Avery) in the battle of Grovetown, on Friday, the 29th of August:

Killed—Privates O. L. Wallace, W. A. Parker, Jonathan McClain. Wounded—First Lieut. D. J. Logan, seriously; Lieut. E. P. Moore, flesh, thigh; First Serg. C. G. Gunthorp, both thighs; Fifth Serg. Wm. Dunwoody, flesh, arm; S. C. Lowry, flesh, thigh; J. E. Hetherington, breast, seriously; Jas. Garvin, two fingers off; G. W. Moore, one finger off; Robert Hayes in hip, slightly; Jerry Green, head, slightly; A. Dover, arm broken; Joseph Seapock, in shoulder; Wm. Martin, in leg, flesh; Jas. Lathrop, hip, slightly; J. Wilkerson, slightly; Reuben Roberts, in breast, not severely.

Gen. Evans' brigade nearly annihilated. J. W. Avery, Capt. Palmetto Sharpshooters. List of casualties in the Jasper Light Infantry, on the 30th of August: Killed—John Neil of the Citadel, who joined the company during the battle.

Wounded—Lieut. Carroll, Sergt. O'Farrell, slightly; J. P. Black, in leg; Corp. W. E. Campbell, in foot; Privates—J. E. Barber, in thigh; E. A. Gettys, in thigh; J. J. Dunlap, in thigh; Wm. A. Jeffrey, in back and thigh; David McSwain, in neck. J. L. Gill, commanding Co. F.

Our Wounded. By a dispatch from the Rev. J. M. Anderson, dated Warrenton, 25th, ult., we are glad to learn that John J., son of Mr. Dudley Jones, of this place, died on the 25th, ult., aged 33 years. His right arm was amputated.

The following is a list of the casualties in the King's Mountain Guards: Wounded—Lieut. A. P. Black, in leg; Corp. W. E. Campbell, in foot; Privates—J. E. Barber, in thigh; E. A. Gettys, in thigh; J. J. Dunlap, in thigh; Wm. A. Jeffrey, in back and thigh; David McSwain, in neck. J. L. Gill, commanding Co. F.

The following is an extract from a letter from Capt. John L. Miller, dated Smithfield, Va., Sept. 22: "I am glad to say that none of my men were killed. W. C. Childers was shot through the foot, Martin Holbrook, a little piece of his thumb shot off. W. C. Manning was shot through both thighs; J. L. Smith through the neck—the two latter fell into the hands of the enemy. I think they were both mortally wounded. A great many others were stunned by shells but nothing serious."

Capt. Erwin was killed, Lieut. Kerr severely wounded in the hip, and fell into the hands of the enemy. Maj. McCorkle was unhurt. I did not hear of but one man killed in Capt. Grist's company. W. S. Traylor received a painful flesh wound in the left thigh. Capt. Barnes was shot through both knees."

A list of the killed and wounded in the battle of Sept. 17th, 1862, in Maryland, of Companies A, B, and H: Co. A—Lieut. John T. Parker, commanding; Private S. R. Pratt. Wounded—Sergt. Wesley C. Crepps, seriously, in leg and taken prisoner; Private R. M. Allison, slightly; W. H. Carnes, slightly; J. N. Clark, severely, in side and taken prisoner; E. Jackson, severely, in head; J. W. Lawrence, severely, in thigh and taken prisoner; R. N. Whitesides, severely, in shoulder, and taken prisoner; W. S. Traylor, mortally.

Killed—None. Wounded—Capt. John L. Miller, slightly, in leg; Privates J. L. Smith, mortally; W. C. Childers, severely, in foot; Martin Holbrook, slightly. Missing—A. J. Wallace. Co. H—Capt. F. A. Erwin, commanding; Killed—Capt. F. A. Erwin, Private J. L. Roach. Wounded—Lieut. R. M. Kerr, severely, in thigh; Sergt. J. N. Steele, slightly, in head; Privates W. W. Patterson, severely, in thigh; J. H. McCannan, severely, in thigh; J. N. Henry, severely, in arm; S. Carder, slightly, in hand; D. A. Button, slightly, in thigh; W. J. Kimbrell, slightly, in leg; S. P. McCullough, slightly, in foot; A. J. Bell, slightly, in abdomen; W. C. McCammon, slightly, in thigh;

TOLD BY LOCAL EXCHANGES News Happenings in Neighboring Communities.

CONDENSED FOR QUICK READING Dealing Mainly With Local Affairs of Interest to the Community.

Gaffney Ledger, Feb. 26: Dr. Arch C. Cree of Gaffney, has accepted the position of secretary of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation. He will be elected by a convention of delegates held in Atlanta. He will assume his new duties March 1st.

Fort Mill Times, Feb. 26: In a transaction consummated last week, Oscar T. Culp purchased the residence of W. J. Powell on the grocery concern of Stewart & Culp, and the business will hereafter be known as the Culp Grocery.

Gastonia Gazette, Feb. 26: William C. Harris, aged about 24 years, died at Lowell Friday afternoon, of tuberculosis. He was a son of the late Cleo Harris and less than a year ago he was a member of the Baptist church.

Chester Reporter, Feb. 26: Mr. Addison Kitchens, a former citizen of this county, living in the Roseville neighborhood, who left for Phillips county, Ark. died January 1st. Mr. Kitchens was in his 83rd year, and had numerous relatives here.

DAY OF THE QUILL PEN When Writing Paper Was Poor and Envelopes Were Unknown. The constant demand required by quill pens in the days when no others were available, says the London Chronicle.

King's Mountain Herald, Feb. 25: Mr. Frank Rudin was married at Sheldovia, Ia., on February 11, to Miss Maude Wilson of that place. Mr. Rudin is a member of the Antioch church of King's Mountain.

Rock Hill Record, Feb. 26: The department of industries of the chamber of commerce, which Alex. Long is director, with J. B. Johnson as chairman of the committee on new industries, has announced that another in-

HAPPENINGS IN THE STATE Items of Interest from All Sections of South Carolina.

R. R. Hafner has announced his candidacy for mayor of Chester. Receipts at the Greenwood postoffice during 1914 were $3,000 in excess of those of the year previous.

The 11th company of coast artillery, U. S. A., now at Brownville, Texas, has been ordered to Fort Moultrie, Charleston.

Hon. John P. Grace has announced his candidacy for re-election as mayor of Charleston. Maj. T. H. Hyde entered the mayoralty race several weeks ago.

George Harper, a well known citizen of Anderson, died at his home in that city, Friday afternoon, aged 74 years. He was for many years a prominent figure in the South Carolina Methodist conference.

An aged white man, arrested in Spartanburg Friday, on the charge of begging on Main street, was found to have more than $100 in his possession when searched at the police station. He was required to put up a bond of $15, which he forfeited.

David Perkins, a young white man of Chesterfield, shot himself through the lung with suicidal intent Thursday night. He had been drinking heavily for several days and had declared to several friends his intention to kill himself. The wound will very likely prove fatal.

Judge M. L. Smith has appointed Augustus M. Deal of Columbia, stenographer for the court of general sessions of the Fifth judicial circuit. W. H. McPeck is stenographer for the court of common pleas of the Fifth circuit. The additional stenographer was provided for by an act of the last general assembly. The salary is $600 per year.

A young man posing as a son of Governor Richard I. Manning, passed a bogus check for $5 on an Aiken merchant a few days ago. The young fellow also pretended to be a representative of the Manufacturers' Record, and talked quite optimistically of business conditions. An Augusta, Ga., paper printed an interview with the bogus representative. The bogus check and a copy of the Augusta paper were sent to the governor's private secretary.

Members of the dispensary board of Barnwell county, appeared before Governor Manning last Thursday to show cause why they should not be removed from office. The hearing was attended by the Manufacturers' Record, and talked quite optimistically of business conditions. An Augusta, Ga., paper printed an interview with the bogus representative. The bogus check and a copy of the Augusta paper were sent to the governor's private secretary.

Spartanburg, Feb. 26: The Clinchfield Navigation company has been formed and will have a fleet of vessels plying in and out of Charleston en route to the coast. This announcement was made here this afternoon by C. E. Bockus, president of the Clinchfield Fuel company, who has just returned from New York, representative of the company at Norfolk. The first boat of the Clinchfield's fleet has just been purchased at Ashtabula, a Lake Erie port, at a cost of $250,000, and will be delivered in Charleston early in May. The vessel has a capacity of 5,000 tons. In the past the Clinchfield people have been forced to charter vessels needed in their coastwise trade between Charleston and Florida and Texas ports, but the business has so increased the decision to operate its own vessels was reached some months ago.

Charleston Post, Tuesday: Robert Smalls, one of the most prominent figures of negro politics in the state, who died at Beaufort, last Tuesday, was well known here. He was born a slave at Beaufort, April 5, 1839. As a slave, during the civil war, he was a member of the Confederate steamboat Planters. When the officers of the boat came ashore to sleep in the city, Smalls and a crew of nine negroes ran the boat down the bay and delivered her to Federal gunboats lying outside the forts. He afterwards acted as pilot in the United States navy until July, 1862, and from then to the close of the war, was captain of the steamer "Planter." He was a member of the South Carolina constitutional convention in 1868, and a member of the Second Methodist church, Mr. David Hartman of Greensboro, N. C., to Miss Martha Stroud of Lancaster, Rev. C. W. Burgess officiating.

Rock Hill Record, Feb. 26: The department of industries of the chamber of commerce, which Alex. Long is director, with J. B. Johnson as chairman of the committee on new industries, has announced that another in-