dispatch filed Saturday confirms the report that the Entente Powers have declared a commercial blockade Greece. The announcement, in the form of a note issued by the British legation at Athens is given as follows: Because of the attitude taken by the Hellenic government in regard to certain questions touching closely the se curity and liberty of action to which the Allied troops have the right under the conditions of their disembarkment on Greek territory the Allied powers have deemed it necessary to take certain measures which will have the effect of suspending the economic and commercial facilities which Greece has received from them heretofore. It is not the intention of the Allied powers to constrain Greece to abandon her neutrality to maintain which, in their eyes, is the best guaranty of her interests. The Allied gov-ernments have been somewhat dis-turbed by certain allusions to eventual measures which, if taken by the Hellenic government would appear to them to be conciliatory to assurances they have received. As soon as their doubts on that subject—due, no doubt, to a misunderstanding—have been dispelled, the powers will be happy to remove the obstacles now opposed to the arrival of merchandise in Greece and to accord her facilities which result from normal relations." - Comptroller of the Currency John Skelton Williams said at the Waldorf-Astoria, Thursday that he had no comment to make on the action of the advisory council in recommending to the Federal reserve board that his office be abolished. The suit The fact is a man is foolish to buy potmake the national banks comply with who differed with it standing up for is entirely friendly and is for the purprotection.

The first record of this difference is found in The Enquirer of the 18th of final judgment. December, 1856. The town council of that day had promulgated an ordinance vember 21. It gives the situation from in which it levied on non-resident the German viewpoint: "The defeated buyers a direct tax of 50 cents a bale buyers a direct tax of 50 cents a bale at McLeod's mill, in the upper part where they do not charge more than for each bale purchased, and it was of Marlboro county, near Kollock. frankly stated in the ordinance that The shooting occurred this morning the object of the same was to preserve ed twelve hours later. The Enquirer made in 1856 has been fully verified in all the years that have elapsed since, and further, we want to say that the people who have all along been standing in the way of this reform and who are still standing in its way, may shout "get-together," "progress," "quit your knocking," and all that until they are hoarse; but they will not deceive anybody, and furthermore, the community ought not, will not, cannot, begin to come to its own until its cotton and other domestic markets are set free.

Not only is it necessary to over-throw that protectionist license tax that was levied in direct disregard of the act of the general assembly; but it is necessary to establish a public platform to be presided over by an official weigher to be elected by the cotton producers. With the accomplishment of these things, the town will begin to take on new life.

FORMS OF LAW.

It would not be correct to say that the forms of procedure in connection with the arraignment of a defendant and the empaneling of a jury are very complex. At the time these forms were instituted, no doubt, the effort was to make them as simple as possible. But notwithstanding the centuries during which they have been in use, they are still Greek to many of the ignorant free American citizens to whom they are applied.

Upon the arraignment of a negro de fendant in the court of general ses-sions yesterday, the clerk of the court explained the procedure in connection with the drawing of the jury telling the defendant that upon the presentation of each juror he would say, "Object," or "swear him." The first juror was presented an the clerk proceeded with the usual formula:
