J. commissioner of agriculture Georgia. Mr. Brown's statement fol-lowed a meeting here Monday between himself, Daniel J. Sully and farmers of Georgia and South Carolina. As described by Mr. Brown, the corpora-tion will serve as a marketing and financing agency—a medium between the producer and the spinner of cot-ton. It will provide a cotton exchange for the farmers of the southeastern belt and will eventually stop short belt and will eventually story and was speculative selling on the cotton exchanges, he said. The directors will lease, buy or build warehouses, in which farmers may store their cotton for a small charge. If it is necessary money will be advanced on the cotton. The corporation will embrace the entire cotton states, in its activity, but will be chartered in Georgia, with headquarters probably in Atlanta. - Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, after a confer-ence with Admiral Sims on plans for the demobilization of the American navy in European waters, said Tues-day he was confident that, with the exception of about 3,000 men, the American navy would be out of Euidly as possible. One of the present difficulties in the way of complete de-mobilization is the uncertainty as to how many German passenger ships will be allowed to carry American soldiers home and as to when the ships will be delivered. These ships will be manned and operated by the American navy and their advent into troop ser vice will require the services of men at the ports from which they will sail. The navy is having little difficulty in disposing of the vast amount of material and supplies in France, England nd Ireland. - In the times of war "Britain must maintain her fleet to resist unjust aggression, for if she didn't she would starve in a week, declared William Howard Taft in an address a few nights ago. He added that "England's surpremacy of the seas" in times of peace had always meant "equality of peace had always meant "equality for all nations." Asserting that the question of disarmament "must de-pend on the success of the league of nations," the former president con-tinued: "Some years ago the league of its consideration. There are persons in our country who say that it ought to be postponed, James M. Beck, among to be postponed. James M. Ambassador Davis, at London, ha advised the state department at Wash ington, with reference to the issuance of passports for Americans to visi Europe, that while there is very little trouble about getting over there, there is a great deal of trouble in getting back. In fact, it is almost impossible to obtain return passage from Europe to the United States.

One thing that makes America the greatest country in the world is the fact that every man can vote. We be-lieve it would be still better if every woman could vote also; but anyhow i s universal suffrage that makes Amer ica great. Also it was universal suf frage that enabled France to make plendid fight against Germany. An of Germany had had universal suffrage before the war as she has now, there rould have been no war.

> It looked yesterday as if the general assembly might adjourn until July on the statement was made in the con account of the influenza. The senate wanted to adjourn and voted to do so, 22 to 13. The house, however, did not appear so certain that this was the best thing to do. It was argued that the appropriation and supply bills, es-pecially needed to be looked after, and there were those who thought that all necessary work of the general assembly could be completed in two or three weeks. Dr. James A. Hayne, of the board of health, advised adjournment.

There is a lot of promise for the progress of York county in that com munity council proposition, if the peo-ple will take hold of it in the right way. By taking hold of it the right way, we mean that all classes of peonations was an academic question. In England they got a league of nations having the purpose of it. having the purpose of it to preserve peace, but they refused to put the world peace in it. Now the issue is acute. The congress at Paris has put the issue down as the first subject for truck traffic, regular schedules. better roads, means of collecting and distributing produce of all kinds, the establishment of uniform prices for uniform values etc. Of course it is not purely a trade proposition. There is nore to it than that. The successful development of a system such as outlined will result in development, pro-gress and uplift of all kinds. The main thing is to get an intelligent start without too many initial mistakes. The proposition calls for the best brains and abilities to be had, though. Every

There was a time when the banking ower of the country was more in th hands of individuals than it is now. In those days the controlling banks of New York, Boston and Chicago, often of New York alone, could agree among the country as they saw proper, or a they desired. If there was a great volume of loans outstanding, and the vol-ume of ready money available to the people independent of the banks was small in proportion, the financial dicta tors could call for a settlement with the result of bringing about a most tremendous stringency, if not actual rific bullets. He was removed to the county jail, but was later taken to the York banks could do very much as garet Ford, Master Dan and Little Miss county jail, but was later taken to the state penitentiary for safe keeping and was barely alive at the time. The supreme newer latter than the penitentiary for safe keeping and that in the breast. shot struck him and that in the breast. By a vote of 101 to 3 the house of representatives passed over the gov-ernor's veto the bill providing that the Columbia Gas and Electric company should charge only five cents fare be tween the city of Columbia and Camp Jackson. The three who voted to susstory of the bill goes back to the estab- ter in 1918 and sentenced to five year tablished at 10 cents each way. There were lots of protests, not only in Columbia but all over the state. The issue was the flagrant violation of voluntary agreement rather than the price of the fare. Thinking people, or many of them, were of opinion that the passage was really worth ten cents and more, for that matter, and there was reason for question as to whether the street railway company could break even on a five cents fare, even with crowded cars. But there was the un-disputed and undisputable agreement. The general assembly took the matter up and promptly passed a bill to com-pel the street railway people to stand by their promise and haul people to and from the camp for 5 cents each way. After the adjournment of the general assembly the railroad people got after the governor and he vetoed bill, leaving the street railway to continue to charge 10 cents in the meantime. Among those who appear ed before the governor in behalf of the veto was Col. A. C. Dalton, of the army, then located at Camp Jackson is not of record that any of the private soldiers were in the delegation. The matter has been talked all over the state ever since the veto, and the house was quite ready for the veto when the matter came up.

The Fatherless Children of France We cannot afford to lose France from among he nations of the earth, and so in this sym-athetic country of ours there has grown up a eally great organization called the "Fatherless hildren of France."

Children of France."

Through it any person or group of persons, for a small sum, may save and protect a child of France. $35.50 keeps a child a year in its mother's home. Subscriptions may be paid by the year, quarter or month, and a child may be assigned upon pledge of a year's care. Every school in York county can arrange to adopt a French orphan, if the privilege of doing so, appeals to them.

The pledge and the first installment is sent through the County Chairman to John P. Thomas, Secretary, Columbia, S. C., and is recorded by him. Then subsequent payments, monthly or quarterly, may be sent directly to S. T. Carter, Treasurer, Columbia, S. C., who keeps an account with each pledgor. This information applies to individuals as well as to schools adopting on the installment plan. 150 orphans remain of South Carolina's apportionment for adoption. This is York county's opportunity.
