

listed in the Rock Hill company at the beginning of the war and was soon made sergeant. He was overseas ten months, and went through the drive against the Hindenburg line without being wounded. James was a first lieutenant in the Rock Hill and Fort Mill companies. He has the honor of having won the congressional medal of honor, the British military cross and the French croix de guerre. The four elder sons are in business in Rock Hill and Charlotte, N. C. About thirty were present at the reunion, and a real banquet was enjoyed by all. Ice cream, cake and watermelons were plentiful all day and late in the afternoon a picture of the father, mother and eight sons was made. This is the first time in over twelve years that all members of the family have been together.

MERE MENTION.

President Wilson before leaving Washington, Wednesday evening on his tour of the country signed the bill to make permanent the rank of general John J. Pershing, commander of the American forces. President Wilson will review the Pacific fleet at Seattle, Washington on September 13. Mrs. C. B. Slaughter of Richmond, Va., killed her three children and then committed suicide last Wednesday. The father was away from home at the time of the tragedy. J. C. Bruce of the state department of agriculture has just completed a trip of inspection through the Virginia bright tobacco belt and reports that the yield will not be over fifty per cent. of a normal crop. The United States owed $796,668,111 more at the close of business August 30, than on the last day of July, making the total national debt $26,596,701,648. Issuance of additional treasury certificates in anticipation of forth-coming payments on taxes and the Victory loan accounted for the large increase. Consideration of the house measure for the enforcement of national prohibition was started yesterday. More than 2,000 textile workers of Macon, Ga., are still out on strike. They are employees of the Bibb Manufacturing Company which has refused to treat with their union. The people of Georgia will be asked to subscribe a minimum of $500,000 to erect in or near Atlanta, a suitable memorial in honor of Georgia's soldiers, sailors and marines who took part in the world war. King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium will arrive in Washington about October 1, and will be the guests of President and Mrs. Wilson for three days. Evangelist B. F. McLendon, conducting a meeting at Wadesboro, N. C., preached to 5,000 men Tuesday night. War and the withdrawal of radical insurgent members have reduced the total membership of the national socialist party in this country to 42,217, according to a report read at the convention of Socialists in Chicago Wednesday. Before the war the Socialist party claimed a membership of 117,000. Arthur P. Gorman, chairman of the state commission of Maryland, and a leading Democrat of his state died Wednesday.

R. R. Moton, Booker T. Washington's successor as principal of Tuskegee Institute, declared in a statement at Tuskegee, Ala., Wednesday regarding the recent race riots in several cities in the north and south that it was difficult to understand why there should be so much apparent suspicion and bitterness on the part of both the white and negro races. "I have never known the colored people to have more intense feeling toward the white people than at the present," Dr. Moton said, "and I have never known a time when there was less reason. I never knew a time when the white people of the south, not only the leading white people, but the average white man, was more anxious than at present to be absolutely fair and just to the negro—to see to it that the colored race in the south had better school facilities, better railroad accommodations and adequate protection under the law. This is also true of the north. There was never a time when the south and the north, too, saw more clearly the value of the negro as an economic factor in industrial operations. I never knew a time when more southern white people felt more chagrined and humiliated at the awful crime of lynching than they do today, and I never knew a time when they were more determined to put down mob rule, whether aimed at black or white than now. Many of the leading papers of the south are speaking out as never before against all forms of injustice and unfairness to the colored race. We, north and south, should make up our minds that there is room enough, there is opportunity enough for colored and white to work peacefully and harmoniously here in America, each living his life unhampered by any act or any untoward attitude of the other, and I hope that our leaders in every community, white and black, will get together and smooth out matters that are misunderstood so that America can teach the world that black people and white people can live peacefully and harmoniously in our great country."

SOUTH CAROLINA NEWS.

H. C. Branch of Wilmington, N. C., has accepted the position of secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Branch expects to move his family to Chester as soon as he can secure a house. Second primaries will be held in the Sixth and Seventh congressional districts, next Tuesday to name congressmen to succeed Congressman J. Willard Ragsdale, deceased and Congressman A. F. Lever, resigned. Messrs. Ed C. Mann and George Belle Timmerman are the candidates in the Seventh district and Messrs. E. J. Sherwood and P. H. Stoll are the candidates in the sixth district.

A case like the Killkenny cats happened near Starr, in Anderson county Monday afternoon, when Charles Rice and Moot Sanders, two negroes, killed each other. There were no witnesses, but the weapons were found, a pistol and a shotgun. Both negroes were in buglies when they met, and whether they fired at the same time or whether one was not seriously hurt at first will never be known. A singular coincidence was that both men stayed in their buglies after being shot to death, one being carried to a neighbor's house by his mule and the other getting very near his own home when he fell from the buggy. Sanders had two wounds from a .38 calibre revolver, one in the leg and one in the breast, and Rice was shot in the legs by thugs and shot. It is supposed that he bled to death.

Spartanburg, September 2: The Spartanburg Cotton association, according to reports compiled here this afternoon by John B. Cannon, county chairman, has 1,750 members. The county furnishes 1,554 of these and has paid in dues to the association $2,426.75. The canvass of the county today brought 136 members with fees paid totalling $2,009.75. In addition to these the 27 cotton mills of the county will become members of the association, paying $100 each. It was stated the banks of the county have not reported and that the canvass in the city has not been concluded. Mr. Cannon said this evening the membership in this county would reach 2,300 and that the fees would amount to $10,000. The campaign of the Spartanburg Cotton association has been waged for 10 days for the immediate purpose of building a system of warehouses in the county owned and controlled by the growers of cotton. The stock subscription to the warehouse company amounts to $150,000 and members of the association have guaranteed $300,000 for this purpose. It is proposed to build in Spartanburg county seven cotton warehouses, one in the city and six in the county, to serve important sections. The warehouse organization is to be perfected within the week under the direction of federal agencies. Mr. Cannon, who has been most active in the county campaign, has accepted an invitation to speak in New Orleans next week on the methods employed in the organization of the association in this county.

COURTNEY TRACTOR COMPANY, INC. S. L. COURTNEY, President. J. A. RIDDLE, Sec.-Treas. FORDSON TRACTOR No. 46 South Main Street, York, S. C.

YOU CAN FOOL SOME MEN ONCE BUT NOT NINE TIMES It has been more than twenty years since I made my original contract with Mr. M. M. Mattison, General Agent for the Mutual Benefit for South Carolina, to represent the company in this territory. Before making or signing the contract I had made a pretty extensive investigation of the records, standing, and reputations of the various legal reserve or "old line" companies then doing business in the State, and became thoroughly convinced that not one of them was in its class when the matter of a Square Deal to policy holders under any and all circumstances was taken into consideration, or had carried out its contracts at lower cost, and while today there may possibly be men engaged in soliciting life insurance in this country who have been in the work longer than myself, there is not one who has represented the Same Company continuously so long, in fact, so far as I know, half so long. Twenty, yes fifty years ago, the Mutual Benefit, wherever known, was regarded as the best policy-holder's company in the business and it has exactly the same reputation today, and it has its because it was established in 1845 for the express purpose of furnishing absolutely safe insurance to its members at a minimum cost— And each successive management has religiously lived up to the ideals of the founders, and up to this day it has never resorted to any experimental schemes or issued any special "prize box" policies, that would not bear dissection at the hands of a man capable of explaining exactly what they meant. It is a fact that there is not a single feature of real value embraced in the contract of any other company doing business in the United States today that is not in all Mutual Benefit contracts, whether one week or seventy years old. FOR MORE THAN TWENTY YEARS I have been reiterating in the columns of the Yorkville Enquirer that the average individual in buying life insurance actually bought the gab of the agent and neither knew or cared, evidently, whether the company he represented was financially safe beyond the possibility of a doubt or whether it had a record covering fifty years or longer for square dealing and economical, conservative management, and never gave a thought to the probability that he might go on paying premiums for years before the ability and willingness of the company to make good the representations of the agent were tested. If it is a solemn duty that every man owes himself in buying life insurance to KNOW that the Company and Contract are all that they should be. Numerous citizens in York County have from three to nine policies in the Mutual Benefit, taken out at different times, and many of them are among the leading business men of the county, and yes of the State. "You may be able to fool some men once; but you can't fool any man nine times," especially the kind that has nine Mutual Benefit policies for a total amount of about $25,000.00. Brother, when you decide to buy life insurance, or take out additional insurance, just bear in mind that it is barely possible that by looking around some you may be able to find something that will prove more satisfactory than that you have already examined. SAM M. GRIST, Special Agent You can investigate the Mutual Benefit without incurring any obligation to buy.
