

board fence built around the field. A purse of $26 raised by Clover fans as an offering to the first Clover player who knocked a fair ball over the fence was won by Will Rudisill, "Rounder," first baseman. Coming up in the first frame, Rudisill fanned. The second time up he hit one fair on the nose and away it went over the left field fence for a home run. Rudisill had requested the umpire to announce that he would be willing to divide the $26 with any other Clover player who would also knock one over the fence during the game. The other players strove mightily and hit some long ones but none of them were able to clear the fence so Rudisill went home with the entire sum in his possession.

MERE MENTION

James S. Haskins a newspaper man, widely known under the nom de plume of Luke McLuka, died in a Cincinnati hospital Friday night, aged 53 years. He leaves a widow and four children. The Louisiana state constitutional convention has passed a resolution asking congress to hit some long ones by interstate transmission of racing news by telegraph, telephone or otherwise. Another farmers' relief measure, the bill of Senator Curtis, Republican, Kansas, to loan up to $50,000,000 to federal farm loan banks to distribute among farmers at not more than 1-2 per cent interest, was passed Friday by the senate with assurances of early house approval. The jury in the case of Cecil Burkett, aged 11 tried at Knox, Indiana, last week for the murder of Benny Slavin, aged 7, was unable to agree and the little fellow was discharged on Saturday. Two white men and a negro were instantly killed at Winston-Salem Saturday when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a train. Simon Baruch, noted physician and father of Barnard M. Baruch, financier, died in New York last Friday. Fifty thousand children of Washington paid a tribute of music and flowers to president and Mrs. Harding in the windup of music week in Washington Friday. Miss Laura Bromwell, holder of the loop the loop record for women and the best known woman aviator in the world, was killed at Mitchell field, New York, last Sunday when her machine went wrong and fell one thousand feet. Governor Morrison, of North Carolina, says he will not use troops in connection with the strike unless necessary; but he will preserve the peace. Fullman car employes are voting June 13 to become a union. The R. J. Reynolds tobacco company has announced a 20 per cent cut in wages, the first since the beginning of the war. A dispatch from Leipzig says that Lieutenant Karl Neumann, who commanded the submarine that sank the British hospital ship Dover Castle, has been acquitted after a trial on the charge of having grossly violated the usage of civilized warfare. Tulsa, Oklahoma, business men say they will build 1,000 homes for the negroes whose homes were destroyed last week. The weather bureau on Saturday predicted cool weather for the first half of the present week and normal temperature thereafter. Thomas A. Edison, Jr., is quoted as saying that within the next few years automobiles will be able to generate their own power from the heat and power generated in operation. It is suggested by citizens of Colorado that Governor Shoup ask congress for an appropriation of $5,000,000 for the relief of the Pueblo flood sufferers. The buildings occupied by the Fairbanks-Sealed company at Pittsburgh, Pa., were destroyed by fire Sunday with a loss of about $500,000. Florence June 5: Florence's public market opened with a real success yesterday morning. As early as 6 o'clock there were purchasers gathered on the court house grounds, and before 8 o'clock the available supply of produce had been sold. Those classed among the sellers hurried home, however, and soon were back again with a supply that lasted for several hours. It is expected that the market which has been available Saturday will be largely patronized by the housewives of the city. A committee of the chamber of commerce called during the sale hours and offered all assistance possible. At the public market Saturday young chickens sold at 45 cents a pound. At other places in Florence they brought 70 cents a pound. Wagons covering the city were asking 60 cents. Housewives find it difficult to understand why this discrepancy in prices for so common an article of food. Cabbage sold on the market for ten cents a head, not a bunch of leaves but a regular morning after head. Almost every vegetable grown in this country was on sale.

THE CASH AND CARRY STORE Here Is Where the Cost of Living Comes Down to Rock Bottom. We have had many years of experience in the Family and Fancy Grocery business. We have sold goods on credit and we know what that means. YOU have either got to pay the other fellow's debts along with the cost of delivery or we "bust." We think we know a lot about goods, and where to get the best values for the least money. These conditions are necessary in order that we may give you the best Service. We have come to this community because we had concluded from previous investigation that it is one of the best in South Carolina, and in this we do not believe we have made any mistake. We understand before we came that the family and fancy grocery people here are high class, intelligent men who give most excellent service and our information along that line is also confirmed. We are not here intending or expecting to make any great business sensation. We only seek to give good, intelligent service and make an honest living. By saving the cost of book-keeping and cutting out losses through bad accounts we can sell you goods at a reasonable, uniform profit and by carrying your goods home yourself you save the cost of delivery. Those who are interested in our system can best satisfy themselves by giving us a thorough test. Nothing can be established either by us or the other fellow by an occasional cut price on some one, two or three articles. But if you will try it for say a month and keep yourself the account that has heretofore been kept for you, you can tell without question whether or not there is any merit in our system. We will be glad to have you come and see us. WYCH ELDER, Proprietor

Practical Thrift--- AN EMINENT WRITER on the practical, every day affairs of life says: "No man has reason to say he cannot be thrifty, cannot protect himself and those who must look to him for protection. It is my humble opinion that the life insurance companies have contributed more sound sense to the system of saving and the plan of procuring protection than all the banks east and west of the banks of the Mississippi. Thrift, as taught by the insurance companies, preserves a fine upstanding independence in American citizenship." The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, N. J., has been the leader in promoting and teaching thrift in the United States since 1845, and the man or woman who fails to investigate its standing, record for square dealing and policy contracts will make a serious mistake, and one that will cause regret later.
