Paragraphs That Are of More Especial Interest to Women

Glassware on the Table.
Glasware is so delightfully cool looking in the summer time that it adds a great deal to the appearance of the table, not to mention the encouragement it gives the logging appetite on sultry days. Besides, compared with china it is inexpensive—with the exception of the fine glasses such as Venetian, Favrilite or other art wares. Glasware is now designed for every course of a complete dinner.
Soup, whether hot or cold, is both pleasing and up-to-date served in transparent glass soup plates, gold-banded. They have the additional charm of revealing an attractive service plate beneath. Salad looks especially dainty in glass plates about the size of bread and butter plates. These may be of plain clear glass with a frosted pattern etched on or may be chosen from the very artistic colored glasses which come in infinite variety. Among the colorful tints of up-to-date glassware there are the peacock, turquoise, ruby, mulberry, raven, amethyst, verde and amber shades. The raven glassware is most effective when used as a background for colorful fruits or gelatines.
Nearly every dessert looks exceedingly attractive served in glassware. One may choose a plate, saucer, punch cup, sundine glass or footed compote and fruit whips, gelatines and ices, all look equally tempting in these dishes. Of course, too, there is a choice of plain or cut glass. But for inexpensive, good looking, every day ware, the plain glass, with perhaps a dainty etching decorating it, has much to commend it. Some of the colored glasses, too, are very reasonable and add a bit of cheerful color to the table.
For the table extras in glassware there are nappies, berry bowls (also suitable for desserts or fruit), celery trays, ice tubes, sugar and creamers, bon-bon dishes and baskets for sandwiches or cakes. A unique bowl designed for oranges is oblong in shape.
For the hospitable summer hostess, glassware for refreshing beverages is all important. Sets for either iced tea or lemonade vary little. One charming iced tea set of celstic blue included a tall, graceful pitcher and glasses that were vase-shaped. Many of the glasses for beverages, indeed, resemble vases—especially those that are tall. Many too, are inclined to curve in a little at the top. Straws or spoons of glassware, too, are part of all up to date beverage sets, even the straw tips or the spoon bowls have coloring. Cut or etched glass are equally popular. Some pretty patterns are the Lotus, Virginia, Cumberland and Renaissance effects. Gold banded lemonade sets are among the choicest selections. And it is worth knowing that glass teaspoons come as reasonably as a dime apiece!
For household decoration glassware again triumphs. Per the goldfish aquarium, the newest is the pedestal style bowl. These have a capacity of two and a half to three gallons.
New For Milady.
A wardrobe trunk with an ironing board included. Think how useful when traveling.
Glass tubes open at both ends which diffuse perfume with a delightful fragrance, and yet do not lose a single drop. A tube will fit into such places as a bureau drawer, purse, week-end case, work basket or desk with pleasant results.
Blue taffeta parasols designed for either rain or shine! An ivory handle is up-to-date.
A hat box of black enamel dueling with a colorful cretonne lining. Similar week-end cases are completely equipped with every toilet article in ivory or amber or tortoise.
Vanity dresser dollies of fillet lace fifteen inches square.
Hat pins with pendants of jade or pearl. Also milady may have hat-pins and ear-rings to match!
Telephone dolls that hide the instrument in very elaborate fashion for the dolls are hand-painted bisque, have real hair, the most adorable hoop skirt frocks of rose taffeta trimmed with flowers and silver or gold lace.
Flower holders for the desk or in three slender columns of pastel tinted pottery. They suggest the pipes of Paris and are just the thing for a few exquisite blooms.
Ready made washes of satin embroidered in wood to go with any frock.
Mildest size fountain pens or pencils. These are very handy for the purse or vanity case. Also comes a writing case of tortoise which is an up-to-date material or purse frames, toilet sets, vanities and bracelets.
Bases made of straw to match hats and both hat and bag wood embroidered in bright sports colored wools.
The Wearing of Clothes.
Are you one of the people who can pick up a marked-down frock, or a bargain counter hat—and wear it in such a manner that it looks twice the price.
Some people can do it; they have the marvelous quality called natural style, or, as the French say, "chic." Such a woman, however, she does it, manages to look smarter in a reduced-to-$29.50 coat than another woman looks in a coat bought from an exclusive shop for $129. It is all in the way one wears her clothing; and that means the way a woman carries herself.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale
BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

IRIS AND BEE.

"Ah," said the Bee to the Iris flower, "how good you are to me."
"Perhaps that is true," said the Iris.

"It most certainly is true," said the Bee.
"Yes," said the Iris, "but at the same time you are good to me."

"I want to be a real friend to you. I don't just want to take everything you have to give me and then fly away. I want to show my friendship. I want to let you know that I care for you and want to do all I can to help you."

"And you do, too," said the Iris. "You do a great deal, kind Bee."
"Ah, that rejoices my little bee heart to hear you say so," the Bee answered.

"You see," the Bee continued, "you guide the way for me to follow. Not only do you let me have a banquet within your lovely petals, but you show me the way to get there. You might leave me to find it myself, which in time I would do, but you help me by showing me the way."

"Well," said the Iris, "I don't think it would be very polite if I said: 'Come to dinner, Bee,' and then didn't show you the way to the dining room."

"If people went out to dinner and the host or hostess let them find their own way to the dining room without leading the way I don't think it would be so very polite."

"And the Iris, you know, wants to be polite."
"Ah, you are so very polite," said the Bee. "You tell me first to come to your lovely blue doorstep and then you show me by your golden lines how to get to the dining room where the lovely sweet drinks you have are kept. Your drinks are sweeter than soda water to children, better than ice cream or lemonade or anything in the world."

"And then we can make honey from your sweetness. Honey, as you know, is so very sweet."
"Oh, Bee, how I've always admired you and your family for the fine honey you make!"

"But you help us so much," said the Bee. "Without us we couldn't make such fine honey. Indeed, we couldn't."
"Your sweetness is so lovely and helpful. And, oh, lovely Iris, you are so beautiful."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL, Sunday School Lesson

LESSON FOR AUGUST 28 FROM ASIA TO EUROPE.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:6-18. GOLDEN TEXT—And they said, believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.—Acts 16:31. REFERENCE MATERIAL—Rom. 15:13-21. PRIMARY TOPIC—A Wonderful Dream. JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Crosses Over Into Europe. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Beginning Work on a New Continent. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul Carries the Gospel to Europe.

I. Forbidden by the Holy Spirit to Preach the Word (vv. 6-8). We have here a lesson on divine guidance. The inclination of Paul and his companions was to tarry in the provinces of Asia preaching the word, but contrary to their inclination they were hurried along. They might have reasoned "What difference would it make as to where we preach, just so the Gospel is preached?" Though seemingly small, the question as to whether the Gospel should be preached among the people in the East or in the West has determined the entire history of the church. Had they preached among the people in the East, Christianity would never have become worldwide. On the other hand, by laying hold upon the Grecian intellect and combining with it the push and energy of the Romans, it became worldwide. In the guidance of the Spirit we find Him just as active and as faithful in closing doors as in opening them. "The steps as well as the steps of a good man are ordered of the Lord." We ought to as truly recognize God's hand in the "shut-ins" as well as in the "open-ings."

II. Called to Macedonia (vv. 9-12). A vision was given to Paul of a man from Macedonia pleading for help. This was the solution of the mystery of closed doors about them. There is a negative and a positive side to the Spirit's guidance. If we will note both we shall be able to determine with a surety the proper course of action. In order to be led aright we must be sure that we are willing to be led, pray definitely for leading, and then render willing obedience as fast as the light comes. As soon as the divine way was known they rendered immediate obedience.

III. The First Convert in Europe (vv. 13-15). The missionaries went to Philippi. The Jewish element in this city was very insignificant; so much so that they could not afford a synagogue; therefore the devout people were accustomed to worship at the river side. To this humble gathering Paul came and preached to the women gathered there. A certain woman from Thyatira believed his message, and was baptized. Lydia was a woman of wealth, culture, and wide experience, and yet she had need of Christ. The steps in Lydia's conversion are worthy of note:

1. Attendance at the place of prayer (v. 13). This is the case with most people who are saved.
2. Listened to the preaching of the word of God (vv. 12-14). The instrument used by the Holy Spirit in the conversion of sinners is the word of God. "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

3. Her heart was opened by the Lord (v. 14). Regeneration is a supernatural work. When the Gospel is preached the Spirit of God makes it living and active, opening the sinner's heart for the reception of Christ.
4. She was baptized (v. 15). It is natural for the one who believes in Christ to desire to be baptized.

5. Her household also believed (v. 15). Thus we see that her's was a typical conversion.
IV. A Spirit of Divination Cast Out (vv. 16-18). As the missionaries went out from day to day to the place of prayer they were accosted by a young woman possessed by a spirit of divination. She was owned by a syndicate of men who derived large gains from her soothsaying. This act of the woman became a great annoyance to Paul who, in the name of Jesus Christ, commanded the evil spirit to come out. Here is a case of a spiritual medium, a fortune-teller, being freed from demoniacal possession. Many men today are making money by the degradation of womanhood, and they resent all efforts to destroy their infernal business, even try to destroy those who interfere with their business. Here as everywhere Satan blocks the way as the Gospel of Christ is carried into new fields, but the Lord is again triumphant.

The Multitude of His Mercies. For the Lord will not cast off forever; but though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies. For he doth not afflict willingly nor grieve the children of men.—Lamentations 3:31-33. Word of Lord Was Precious. And the child Samuel ministered unto the Lord before Eli. And the word of the Lord was precious in those days; there was no open vision, —I Samuel, 3:1.

Overlooked by Man. What is it that every man overlooks?—His nose. —Miss Dorothy M. Rehfeld of Aberdeen, is said to be the only woman practicing law in South Dakota.

A. R. P.'S BUY GROUNDS. Take Over Tract Near Hendersonville for Location of Seminary.

By the terms of a deal announced in the Asheville Citizen, the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church of the South has bought a large tract of land near Hendersonville, which will be converted into a home for a theological seminary and summer assembly ground. The development will be similar to Montreat, Junaluska and Ridgecrest.

This is taken to mean that the summer conferences which have hitherto been held at Linwood college will be discontinued in favor of the mountain resort. At one time a deal was under way by the A. R. P. church to purchase from Rev. A. T. Lindsay the Linwood college property and convert it into a summer assembly ground. The offer was predicated upon the ability of the immediately adjacent A. R. P. churches to bear a share of the purchase price. At the Linwood conference held this summer it was announced that the deal had fallen through.

Following is the dispatch from Hendersonville to the Asheville Citizen: "A committee consisting of Rev. W. B. Lindsey, Rev. W. A. McCauley, Rev. R. N. Hunter and R. S. Galloway, representing the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church, were in Hendersonville last week and entered into negotiations which will result in the establishment of a great theological seminary here as well as summer camps for theological students, vacation grounds and conferences of ministers and laymen interested in the welfare of the Associate Reformed church, similar in many respects to the other large theological centers in the mountains of western North Carolina.

The seminary will be established on a large tract of land near the city and which has been developed to such an extent as to make it ideal for the purposes intended. "The establishment of the seminary and the arrangement for other activities, such as the summer camp, will mean so much to Hendersonville that the committee was given genuine and sincere assurance that the city and county will co-operate to the fullest extent in the work to be done.

"The deal is being handled through Smith, Jackson & Morris, real estate men in Hendersonville, who have been handling some of the big land transfers being made there during the past few years." It was learned Saturday from a member of this firm that a warm reception would be given and every effort made to show the appreciation of the city and county to the conference for selecting this section in which to establish their great theological plant, which will be second in importance to none in the country.

"It is understood the seminary will have several hundred students with sessions from September until June of each year. From June until September there will be meetings of laymen and of clergymen, with inspirational lectures, courses of instruction in Sunday school and mission work and similar educational features, all in connection with a delightful and restful camp life, where overworked ministers of the Gospel may rest and recuperate and at the same time keep in touch with their brothers and the progress of Christianity throughout the world.

"The place selected has a large garden, with many fruit trees; a splendid lawn, with fountains and flower beds, a small lake, some timber and an unsurpassed view of the adjacent mountains. It is situated on two macadamized roads in fine condition and is near enough to Hendersonville to be almost included as a part of the city.

"R. S. Galloway of Due West, S. C., who is chairman of the committee that decided on this property and engaged Smith, Jackson & Morris to negotiate the deal for them, is assistant editor of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian, the official organ of that denomination.

"The conference covers the states of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Mississippi, Missouri, Kentucky and West Virginia."
