

particulars, through the broad, intelligent liberality and splendid tact of the temporary chairman, which was brought to bear to keep the discussion in bounds.

"Perhaps the most significant incident of the meeting was the enthusiasm and heat developed because of certain remarks of Mr. B. W. Crouch of Saluda and a brief colloquy with Mr. J. P. Derham of the tax commission.

"I came to this conference," said Mr. Crouch, rising to his feet apropos of nothing in particular, "supposing that the purpose was to reduce taxes; but from all I have heard here it appears that the sole object is to raise more taxes. I am not interested in raising more taxes. What I want is relief from the terrible burdens that have already been loaded upon us."

"The declaration came out wonderfully clear-cut and sharp and it hit the spot. There was an involuntary burst of applause, handclapping and cheers, the first of the day except the perfunctory compliments to the presiding officer and the keynote speaker.

"The plea on which the tax commission was erected," went on Mr. Crouch, "was that it would put on the tax books millions of dollars of property that are now escaping taxation."

"And it has done it," said Mr. J. P. Derham, rising to his feet, "came back Mr. Crouch, 'but you told us that the addition of this property would reduce the levy and make the burden lighter on us. In 1912 the levy was 5-3-4 mills and the appropriation was $2,000,000. This year you've got our levy raised to 12 mills and you are making us pay $6,500,000. What I want is to get back to pre-war appropriations.'" [Applause.]

"But the tax commission does not make the appropriations," said Mr. Derham. "It only puts the property on the books and the legislature does the appropriating."

Mr. Crouch assured Mr. Derham that he meant nothing personal in his remarks; that he merely wanted to emphasize how the increased assessed valuation and the increased mill levy had been increasing the burdens of the people and he wanted relief.

Mr. Derham still directing his remarks to Mr. Crouch, said: "But since we have the increased valuation and the increased levy, and the burden is so largely on visible property, are you not in favor of adopting means whereby this burden can be redistributed so as to put a part of it on people who are not now carrying their proportionate part? That is the purpose of the action we are considering now."

Mr. Crouch repeated his previous disclaimer of intention to be personal, indicated sympathetic acquiescence in the purpose of the meeting with regard to more equitable distribution of taxation; but again emphasized his desire to get rid of so many unnecessary impositions with which the people have been burdened and wanted to get back to old time conditions.

After the adjournment of the meeting the executive committee got together with a view to agreeing upon plans for educational work in the furtherance of its plans.

free by United States Deputy Marshal Fields. Mr. Morse pleaded not guilty, waived a hearing and furnished $50,000 bond for his appearance before the grand jury. The warrant upon which Mr. Morse was arraigned was issued upon complaint of Frank Burke, manager of the investigation department of the shipping board. It alleged violation of sections 37 and 35 as amended, of the criminal code charging that Mr. Morse and his sons, Erwin A. Henry F. and Benjamin B., and others, conspired to defraud the United States. The warrant sets forth that the Morises conspired to "cheat, swindle and defraud" a corporation in which the United States is and was at the time, a stockholder—the emergency fleet corporation—by making "certain false and fraudulent statements" in connection with certain contracts and claims.

—Camden, Dec. 15: W. Hamp Jordan, a white man, said to be about 50 years of age, was shot and instantly killed about one mile north of Westville in this county, early Wednesday evening. Coyt Jordan, a lad of about 19 years and a son of the dead man, was held today by a coroner's jury charged with the killing. From the evidence produced at the inquest it was testified that the older Jordan came home in an intoxicated condition and began a row with the family. He is said to have slapped one of the children and had his knife drawn in the act of attacking another, when Coyt Jordan went outside the house with his shotgun and fired at him through the door. The load took effect in his right eye, killing him instantly. There were four witnesses examined by the coroner's jury, with J. V. Young as foreman, and they all testified practically the same. Some of the witnesses were not members of the family but were visiting at the house at the time. Jordan was a native of Chesterfield county, but had been residing around Westville for two years or more. The killing occurred about 7 o'clock. Jordan leaves a widow and several children who were all present in the room when the unfortunate affair took place.

SPOKEN LIKE A MAN

Greatest Surgeon in the World Commands Dr. Lorenz.

Pinehurst, N. C., Dec. 14—"Hundreds of crippled children hidden away in secret nooks and crannies of the city of New York, and whose plight was utterly unknown to the medical men and institutions of the city, are creeping hopefully forth into the light at the call of that modern piper of Hamelin, Dr. Adolf Lorenz. Dr. Lorenz should be helped and encouraged in his great work by every surgeon, physician and hospital authority in the country."

"The foregoing statement was made by Dr. Charles H. Mayo, probably the greatest surgeon in the world, in the course of a statement this evening at Pinehurst, where he is attending the 34th annual meeting of the Southern Surgical Association.

Dr. Mayo side-stepped altogether the charges of unethical and unprofessional conduct brought against Dr. Lorenz.

"Many of my colleagues throughout the country," said Dr. Mayo, "are considerably wrought up over the question as to whether Dr. Lorenz or a hospital or a few men who it has been said are exploiting Dr. Lorenz for their benefit, were making or are now making money and professional capital in an unethical or unprofessional manner in connection with Dr. Lorenz's visit here and its enormous attendant publicity. Personally, I am not greatly interested in the question and do not know much about it. But what I do know and what every other medical man in the country must realize, if he stops to think about it, is that the publicity attendant on Dr. Lorenz's work in New York and his projected tour of the country is bringing or is bound to bring into the light, thousands of cases of crippled children whose intimacies, partly through ignorance or a feeling of hopelessness on the part of their parents, have hitherto been hidden from the doctors and hospitals of their communities.

Dr. Lorenz is deeply versed and widely experienced in his specialty of non-operative treatment of fractures, dislocations and bone deformities. His methods of treatment are of little or no value in treating deformities of the soft parts of the body or those due to nerve destruction, and he could not at any rate personally, treat more than perhaps one in a hundred of the cases in his own line that will be brought to him. But if his visit to this country results in nothing more than the disclosure of great numbers of hitherto unknown cases, he will have achieved a great work, a work that should be encouraged by the authorities of every state in the union and one that he can safely leave to be carried on by the medical profession of this country."

Dr. Mayo suggested that under proper control of an organized charity it should be possible for the crippled children of wealthy parents to see Dr. Lorenz and a fund be thereby created which could be used towards the financing of the often necessary prolonged care and observation of the cases of the poor.

It was concluded with the suggestion that attacks on Dr. Lorenz and obstacles placed in his way by members of the medical fraternity may eventually adversely affect the title of the "public" to the services of the entire medical profession of the country.—Charlotte Observer.

CONGRESSWOMAN IN BAD

Miss Robertson Says She is Getting Hard Knocks.

Miss Alice Robertson, the modest, motherly soul of the plains, at present the only woman in congress as representative from Oklahoma, intends to seek another term, relates the New York Times. She proposes to go before the electorate of her state, despite the fact that certain progressive women have tried to weaken her by labeling her as a "friend of Wall street."

"I'm lined up with Wall street, and I'm in bad all round. I'm in a kettle of hot water all right," says Miss Robertson. "Look here," said the Oklahoma representative, reading a radical newspaper, "Under the heading 'Voting with Wall street against the president' is my name. Poor old I, who never managed to scrape up a bond in my life, because I always had too big a family to feed. 'Lined up with Wall street.' I have a little piece of land down in Oklahoma. When the tax assessor asks me if it has anything on it, I always tell him yes—a mortgage."

BONUS TO COME SOON.

MacNider is Assured of Early Action on Compensation Measure.

Enactment of the veterans adjusted compensation bill will be completed by congress within ninety days, according to information given Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, by Senator McCumber, author of the bill in the senate and Representative Fordney of Michigan.

"The measure Commander MacNider said, in a statement to legion officers, he was assured by two leaders of the congress that the bill will become effective in July, 1922, as originally provided.

"Leaders of the house and senate assured me," said Mr. MacNider's telegram, "that congress believed in the adjusted compensated measure and realizes that immediate action is necessary on account of the present financial condition of many ex-service men and women."
