

BONUS AND BIG BUSINESS
Republicans Have Themselves in Perplexing Quandary.

TAKES MONEY TO SATISFY SOLDIERS

This Question of Adjusted Compensation Has to be Settled and the Mighty Problem is How to Settle it Without Cost to Those Who Should Pay.

Respecting the bonus, euphemistically termed "adjusted compensation for former soldiers," the Republicans in congress are between Scylla and Charybdis, or "the devil and the deep blue sea," writes H. W. Roberts, well known Washington correspondent.

This is an election year, and the Republicans, if indications are at all symptomatic, have reason to fear the result. They are very anxious to inaugurate a handsome gesture for the dedication of the 4,000,000 American soldiers, and they would hardly do so but for the fact that their conduct would prove seriously offensive to "big business."

"The crown princess," he says, "goes on a visit about two or three times a year to her husband in Holland. The rest of the year she lives in Potsdam at the Cecilienhof castle, with her four children. Her two eldest sons, Wilhelm and Joachim, 15 and 13 years old respectively, have a tutor, but attend the state college at Potsdam where they have to submit to the ordinary rules."

"The two young princes bicycle to school and join in all the sports and games that are going on, and are always dressed very simply. "Prince Adalbert lives at Wilhelms- haven where he leads a quiet existence, associating with a few families of the nobility and is little spoken of."

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer. "His brother, Prince August-Wilhelm joined a bank at once after the revolution, but trade seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Princ Eitel-Frederick lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist manifestations in which he took part last summer with Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well-known, he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Elegantz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the now deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

"The youngest son of the emperor, Prince Joachim, committed suicide, eighteen months ago. A serious illness seems to have been the cause. There has been much talk about the law-suit between his widow and Prince Eitel, with regard to the son Joachim. It appears that the princess leads a very gay life and is said to have gained a dancing prize recently in Baden-Baden."

"The only daughter of the emperor, Victoria-Louise, lives at present on the estate of her husband, the Duke of Brunswick. She has visited her father several times at Dogn. "The Hohenzollern princes receive an income from the German government but seem by no means to be well off."

"An airplane, flying low over woods and swamps of Florida, is used by a deputy sheriff of that state to locate illicit stills. When moonshine operators are spotted, the sheriff returns to the city and prepares to raid the stills. In one day he has found three stills, destroyed 1,000 gallons of mash and arrested three men."

"The Once Familiar Kind.—North— "Has Alice any of the old-fashioned virtues?" West—"I suppose so—most of them are."—Kansas City Star.

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer."

"His brother, Prince August-Wilhelm joined a bank at once after the revolution, but trade seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Princ Eitel-Frederick lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist manifestations in which he took part last summer with Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well-known, he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Elegantz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the now deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

"The youngest son of the emperor, Prince Joachim, committed suicide, eighteen months ago. A serious illness seems to have been the cause. There has been much talk about the law-suit between his widow and Prince Eitel, with regard to the son Joachim. It appears that the princess leads a very gay life and is said to have gained a dancing prize recently in Baden-Baden."

"The only daughter of the emperor, Victoria-Louise, lives at present on the estate of her husband, the Duke of Brunswick. She has visited her father several times at Dogn. "The Hohenzollern princes receive an income from the German government but seem by no means to be well off."

"An airplane, flying low over woods and swamps of Florida, is used by a deputy sheriff of that state to locate illicit stills. When moonshine operators are spotted, the sheriff returns to the city and prepares to raid the stills. In one day he has found three stills, destroyed 1,000 gallons of mash and arrested three men."

"The Once Familiar Kind.—North— "Has Alice any of the old-fashioned virtues?" West—"I suppose so—most of them are."—Kansas City Star.

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer."

"His brother, Prince August-Wilhelm joined a bank at once after the revolution, but trade seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Princ Eitel-Frederick lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist manifestations in which he took part last summer with Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well-known, he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Elegantz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the now deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

"The youngest son of the emperor, Prince Joachim, committed suicide, eighteen months ago. A serious illness seems to have been the cause. There has been much talk about the law-suit between his widow and Prince Eitel, with regard to the son Joachim. It appears that the princess leads a very gay life and is said to have gained a dancing prize recently in Baden-Baden."

"The only daughter of the emperor, Victoria-Louise, lives at present on the estate of her husband, the Duke of Brunswick. She has visited her father several times at Dogn. "The Hohenzollern princes receive an income from the German government but seem by no means to be well off."

"An airplane, flying low over woods and swamps of Florida, is used by a deputy sheriff of that state to locate illicit stills. When moonshine operators are spotted, the sheriff returns to the city and prepares to raid the stills. In one day he has found three stills, destroyed 1,000 gallons of mash and arrested three men."

"The Once Familiar Kind.—North— "Has Alice any of the old-fashioned virtues?" West—"I suppose so—most of them are."—Kansas City Star.

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer."

"His brother, Prince August-Wilhelm joined a bank at once after the revolution, but trade seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Princ Eitel-Frederick lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist manifestations in which he took part last summer with Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well-known, he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Elegantz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the now deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

FAMILY OF THE KAISER
Wonderful Changes Have Occurred Since the Armistice.

Paris, Jan. 27.—After the revolution of 1918 the emperor, the empress and the crown prince were the only members of the imperial family who were exiled from Germany.

The other princes left their palaces in Berlin and took refuge in Potsdam. The emperor has six sons and one daughter, Princess Victoria Louise.

How are these members of the imperial family now living in Germany? A writer in the Echo De Paris tells the story.

"The crown princess," he says, "goes on a visit about two or three times a year to her husband in Holland. The rest of the year she lives in Potsdam at the Cecilienhof castle, with her four children. Her two eldest sons, Wilhelm and Joachim, 15 and 13 years old respectively, have a tutor, but attend the state college at Potsdam where they have to submit to the ordinary rules."

"The two young princes bicycle to school and join in all the sports and games that are going on, and are always dressed very simply. "Prince Adalbert lives at Wilhelms- haven where he leads a quiet existence, associating with a few families of the nobility and is little spoken of."

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer."

"His brother, Prince August-Wilhelm joined a bank at once after the revolution, but trade seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Princ Eitel-Frederick lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist manifestations in which he took part last summer with Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well-known, he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Elegantz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the now deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

"The youngest son of the emperor, Prince Joachim, committed suicide, eighteen months ago. A serious illness seems to have been the cause. There has been much talk about the law-suit between his widow and Prince Eitel, with regard to the son Joachim. It appears that the princess leads a very gay life and is said to have gained a dancing prize recently in Baden-Baden."

"The only daughter of the emperor, Victoria-Louise, lives at present on the estate of her husband, the Duke of Brunswick. She has visited her father several times at Dogn. "The Hohenzollern princes receive an income from the German government but seem by no means to be well off."

"An airplane, flying low over woods and swamps of Florida, is used by a deputy sheriff of that state to locate illicit stills. When moonshine operators are spotted, the sheriff returns to the city and prepares to raid the stills. In one day he has found three stills, destroyed 1,000 gallons of mash and arrested three men."

"The Once Familiar Kind.—North— "Has Alice any of the old-fashioned virtues?" West—"I suppose so—most of them are."—Kansas City Star.

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer."

"His brother, Prince August-Wilhelm joined a bank at once after the revolution, but trade seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Princ Eitel-Frederick lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist manifestations in which he took part last summer with Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well-known, he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Elegantz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the now deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

"The youngest son of the emperor, Prince Joachim, committed suicide, eighteen months ago. A serious illness seems to have been the cause. There has been much talk about the law-suit between his widow and Prince Eitel, with regard to the son Joachim. It appears that the princess leads a very gay life and is said to have gained a dancing prize recently in Baden-Baden."

"The only daughter of the emperor, Victoria-Louise, lives at present on the estate of her husband, the Duke of Brunswick. She has visited her father several times at Dogn. "The Hohenzollern princes receive an income from the German government but seem by no means to be well off."

"An airplane, flying low over woods and swamps of Florida, is used by a deputy sheriff of that state to locate illicit stills. When moonshine operators are spotted, the sheriff returns to the city and prepares to raid the stills. In one day he has found three stills, destroyed 1,000 gallons of mash and arrested three men."

"The Once Familiar Kind.—North— "Has Alice any of the old-fashioned virtues?" West—"I suppose so—most of them are."—Kansas City Star.

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer."

"His brother, Prince August-Wilhelm joined a bank at once after the revolution, but trade seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Princ Eitel-Frederick lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist manifestations in which he took part last summer with Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well-known, he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Elegantz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the now deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

"The youngest son of the emperor, Prince Joachim, committed suicide, eighteen months ago. A serious illness seems to have been the cause. There has been much talk about the law-suit between his widow and Prince Eitel, with regard to the son Joachim. It appears that the princess leads a very gay life and is said to have gained a dancing prize recently in Baden-Baden."

"The only daughter of the emperor, Victoria-Louise, lives at present on the estate of her husband, the Duke of Brunswick. She has visited her father several times at Dogn. "The Hohenzollern princes receive an income from the German government but seem by no means to be well off."

"An airplane, flying low over woods and swamps of Florida, is used by a deputy sheriff of that state to locate illicit stills. When moonshine operators are spotted, the sheriff returns to the city and prepares to raid the stills. In one day he has found three stills, destroyed 1,000 gallons of mash and arrested three men."

"The Once Familiar Kind.—North— "Has Alice any of the old-fashioned virtues?" West—"I suppose so—most of them are."—Kansas City Star.

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer."

"His brother, Prince August-Wilhelm joined a bank at once after the revolution, but trade seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Princ Eitel-Frederick lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist manifestations in which he took part last summer with Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well-known, he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Elegantz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the now deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

"The youngest son of the emperor, Prince Joachim, committed suicide, eighteen months ago. A serious illness seems to have been the cause. There has been much talk about the law-suit between his widow and Prince Eitel, with regard to the son Joachim. It appears that the princess leads a very gay life and is said to have gained a dancing prize recently in Baden-Baden."

"The only daughter of the emperor, Victoria-Louise, lives at present on the estate of her husband, the Duke of Brunswick. She has visited her father several times at Dogn. "The Hohenzollern princes receive an income from the German government but seem by no means to be well off."

"An airplane, flying low over woods and swamps of Florida, is used by a deputy sheriff of that state to locate illicit stills. When moonshine operators are spotted, the sheriff returns to the city and prepares to raid the stills. In one day he has found three stills, destroyed 1,000 gallons of mash and arrested three men."

"The Once Familiar Kind.—North— "Has Alice any of the old-fashioned virtues?" West—"I suppose so—most of them are."—Kansas City Star.

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer."

"His brother, Prince August-Wilhelm joined a bank at once after the revolution, but trade seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Princ Eitel-Frederick lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist manifestations in which he took part last summer with Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well-known, he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Elegantz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the now deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

"The youngest son of the emperor, Prince Joachim, committed suicide, eighteen months ago. A serious illness seems to have been the cause. There has been much talk about the law-suit between his widow and Prince Eitel, with regard to the son Joachim. It appears that the princess leads a very gay life and is said to have gained a dancing prize recently in Baden-Baden."

"The only daughter of the emperor, Victoria-Louise, lives at present on the estate of her husband, the Duke of Brunswick. She has visited her father several times at Dogn. "The Hohenzollern princes receive an income from the German government but seem by no means to be well off."

"An airplane, flying low over woods and swamps of Florida, is used by a deputy sheriff of that state to locate illicit stills. When moonshine operators are spotted, the sheriff returns to the city and prepares to raid the stills. In one day he has found three stills, destroyed 1,000 gallons of mash and arrested three men."

"The Once Familiar Kind.—North— "Has Alice any of the old-fashioned virtues?" West—"I suppose so—most of them are."—Kansas City Star.

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer."

"His brother, Prince August-Wilhelm joined a bank at once after the revolution, but trade seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Princ Eitel-Frederick lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist manifestations in which he took part last summer with Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well-known, he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Elegantz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the now deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

"The youngest son of the emperor, Prince Joachim, committed suicide, eighteen months ago. A serious illness seems to have been the cause. There has been much talk about the law-suit between his widow and Prince Eitel, with regard to the son Joachim. It appears that the princess leads a very gay life and is said to have gained a dancing prize recently in Baden-Baden."

"The only daughter of the emperor, Victoria-Louise, lives at present on the estate of her husband, the Duke of Brunswick. She has visited her father several times at Dogn. "The Hohenzollern princes receive an income from the German government but seem by no means to be well off."

"An airplane, flying low over woods and swamps of Florida, is used by a deputy sheriff of that state to locate illicit stills. When moonshine operators are spotted, the sheriff returns to the city and prepares to raid the stills. In one day he has found three stills, destroyed 1,000 gallons of mash and arrested three men."

"The Once Familiar Kind.—North— "Has Alice any of the old-fashioned virtues?" West—"I suppose so—most of them are."—Kansas City Star.

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer."

"His brother, Prince August-Wilhelm joined a bank at once after the revolution, but trade seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Princ Eitel-Frederick lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist manifestations in which he took part last summer with Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well-known, he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Elegantz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the now deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

"The youngest son of the emperor, Prince Joachim, committed suicide, eighteen months ago. A serious illness seems to have been the cause. There has been much talk about the law-suit between his widow and Prince Eitel, with regard to the son Joachim. It appears that the princess leads a very gay life and is said to have gained a dancing prize recently in Baden-Baden."

"The only daughter of the emperor, Victoria-Louise, lives at present on the estate of her husband, the Duke of Brunswick. She has visited her father several times at Dogn. "The Hohenzollern princes receive an income from the German government but seem by no means to be well off."

"An airplane, flying low over woods and swamps of Florida, is used by a deputy sheriff of that state to locate illicit stills. When moonshine operators are spotted, the sheriff returns to the city and prepares to raid the stills. In one day he has found three stills, destroyed 1,000 gallons of mash and arrested three men."

SPREAD OF INFLUENZA
New York Health Department Publishes Health Rules.

The following precautions against the spread of influenza have been published by the New York Health Department:

Respect the law against spitting. Landlords and janitors must supply sufficient heat in buildings. Cover mouth and nose when coughing or sneezing; the spray is more dangerous than bullets.

Wash hands before eating and avoid placing fingers in nose or mouth. Don't use public towels or one used by another member of your family. Don't use glasses or dishes used by another unless washed in boiling water.

Children should be kept from parties and similar places where people congregate. Ventilate your rooms. Keep them at 65 degrees Fahrenheit. Don't overheat.

—Most war slogans die, but any college boy will tell you the faculty is still using the French motto "They shall not pass."

With Many People
PRACTICING ECONOMY IS A NEW EXPERIENCE.

WE INVITE YOU to come to the CASH AND CARRY AND GET THE UTMOST value for your money.

YOUR CASH HAS a steadily increasing purchasing power when properly applied.

COME TO THE CASH AND CARRY FOR your BREAKFAST BACON, Sliced BEEF, BOILED HAM, BAKED HAM and Pure RIBBON CANE SYRUP.

THE CASH & CARRY

Catholic Books

Sent Free on application. Get your Information First-hand. Questions answered by mail. Write to REV. W. A. TOBIN, P. O. Box 202, ROCK HILL, S. C.

PLYLER
SELLS DRY GOODS, MILLINERY AND NOTIONS AT SUCH A CLOSE MARGIN OF PROFIT THAT YOU CAN'T AFFORD NOT TO VISIT HIS STORE BEFORE YOU BUY.

THE TRADE
STREET STORE
WHERE THOUSANDS DO THEIR SHOPPING IS A MONEY SAVER FOR YOU AS WELL AS THE OTHER FELLOW.

S. W. PLYLER
ROCK HILL, S. C.

IN OUR FACTORY
ON THE PREMISES
We design, make and furnish for your individual eye needs, any kind, style or shape lens known to the optical world.

WILLIAMS OPTICAL COMPANY
Hampton Street
ROCK HILL, S. C.

TAX NOTICE—1921-1922.
Office of the County Treasurer of York County.

NOTICE is hereby given that the TAX BOOKS for York County will be opened on TUESDAY, the 15TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1921, and will remain open until the 31ST DAY OF DECEMBER, 1921, for the collection of STATE, COUNTY, SCHOOL and LOCAL TAXES for the first year 1921, without penalty; after which day ONE PER CENT penalty will be added to all payments made in the month of JANUARY, 1922, and TWO PER CENT penalty for all payments made in the month of FEBRUARY, 1922, and SEVEN PER CENT penalty will be added to all payments made from the 1ST DAY OF MARCH, 1922, to the 15TH DAY OF MARCH, 1922, and after this date all unpaid taxes will go into execution and all unpaid Single Polls will be turned over to the several Magistrates for prosecution in accordance with law.

BUILDER'S SUPPLIES
THAT IS OUR SOLE BUSINESS—supplying the needs and demands of Contractors and Private Individuals with the Lumber, Mill Products, Brick, Cement, Paints, Oils, etc., that are used in constructing buildings or repairing buildings and other work that requires these materials.

LOGAN LUMBER YARD

HERE'S OUR BEST
TO EVERY ONE OF OUR CUSTOMERS FOR A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS YEAR DURING 1922, AND WE ALSO RETURN OUR SINCERE THANKS TO OUR CUSTOMERS FOR THE PATRONAGE GIVEN US IN 1921.

ALSO we want to say that we will be on the job every day in 1922 ready to serve our old customers and new customers with the best of everything in Furniture and House Furnishings—from kitchen to garret.

LET US SERVE YOU—WE CAN AND WILL PLEASE YOU.

PEOPLES FURNITURE COMPANY

REAL ESTATE
$$$$$ If You Want Them, See ME

SOME OF MY OFFERINGS:
Five Room Residence—On Charlotte street, in the town of York, on large lot. I will sell you this property for less than you can build the house. Better act once.

McLain Property—On Charlotte St. in the town of York. This property lies between Neely Cannon and Lockmore mills, and is a valuable piece of property. Will sell it either as a whole or in lots. Here is an opportunity to make some money.

90 Acres at Brattonville—Property of Estate of Mrs. Agnes Harris. Will give a real bargain here.

Loans arranged on farming lands.
GEO. W. WILLIAMS
REAL ESTATE

YORKVILLE ENQUIRER FOR $2.25
Any of the following Clubmakers will receive and forward subscriptions to The Yorkville Enquirer for $2.25 per annum:

- J. K. Allison — Hickory Grove
Mrs. J. E. Adams — Clover, York, 2.
Miss Bertie May Alexander, Yorkville.
W. D. Alexander — Filbert No. 1.
W. H. Bankhead — Sharon No. 1.
J. H. Bigham — York No. 3.
Miss Olivia Brandon — York No. 3.
Mrs. E. N. Brandon — York No. 3.
Miss Maggie Bolla — York No. 5.
C. P. Bennett — York No. 6.
Miss Nannie Barnett — Yorkville.
Mrs. L. P. Boyd — York No. 7.
J. W. Bankhead — Lowryville.
Mrs. S. L. Blair — Sharon.
S. L. Brown — Clover.
Eugene Burns — Lancaster.
Miss Edith Burns — York No. 1.
Claud Burns — Smyrna No. 2.
Jas. Biggers — Clover No. 4.
R. A. Barnett — York No. 4.
Miss Mary Benson — Clover No. 3.
Miss Rebecca Carroll, McConnellsville.
Ernest Correll — Yorkville.
Miss Cora Clark — Gastonia, N. C.
A. B. Clark — York No. 5.
Mrs. R. A. Carroll — York No. 4.
W. H. Crook — Fort Mill No. 1.
Mrs. Dora Chambers — York No. 1.
E. M. Dickson — York No. 5.
Mrs. M. C. Dunlap — Rock Hill No. 5.
Frank Dagnall, Hickory Grove No. 1.
J. C. Dickson — York No. 1.
J. B. Dickson — Bullock's Creek.
Mrs. L. L. Dowdle, Bullock's Creek No. 1.
Miss Mary Engle, King's Creek No. 1.
Mrs. W. E. Femster, McConnellsville No. 1.
Miss Ethel Mae Ferguson, York No. 8.
Edward Faulkner — Yorkville.
Mrs. Edgar Fausch — York No. 8.
Miss Catherine Faulkner, York No. 1.
Lacy Ford — York No. 6.
Miss Alice Garrison — York No. 3.
S. M. Grist — Yorkville.
J. S. Glasscock — Catawba.
Mrs. Belle Gwin — Sharon No. 2.
Mrs. W. T. Harper — York No. 7.
Mrs. V. D. Howell, Hickory Grove No. 1.
Mrs. W. H. Howell — York No. 1.
J. P. Hutchinson, Jr., Rock Hill No. 3.
Mrs. M. E. Harper — York No. 8.
Miss Mary Huey — Rock Hill.
P. D. Hopper — York No. 6.
Miss Marie Jenkins — Sharon.
W. F. Jackson — York No. 7.
Miss Mary Jackson — Rock Hill.
Mrs. C. L. Kennedy — Sharon.
C. H. Keller — Yorkville.
Geo. W. Knox — Clover.
Mrs. John Knox, Jr. — Clover, S. C.
J. Stange Love — Yorkville.
Clyde G. Latham — York No. 4.
W. S. Leslie — Leslie No. 1.
A. W. Love — King's Creek.
Mrs. G. C. McFarland, Clover No. 3.
J. A. McFadyen — Rock Hill No. 1.
Mrs. J. A. Maloney — Sharon No. 2.
Hattie Meeks — York No. 6.
James Moss — York No. 3.
Mrs. W. D. Morrison — Yorkville.
Harry Miller — York No. 6.
Mrs. E. B. McCarter, Smyrna No. 2.
Miss Marie Moore — York No. 3.
Miss Sallie McMackin, Clover No. 1.
J. J. McSwain — Yorkville.
J. M. Mitchell — York No. 1.
Finley McCarter — York No. 6.
Miss Sallie McConnell, McConnellsville.
L. A. Nichols — Smyrna No. 2.
Brice Niel — Yorkville.
Mrs. R. B. Oates — Tirzah.
Mrs. K. F. O