What Our Neighbors Are Saying and Some Items of Fact, Some of Comment and All Helping to Give an Idea of Doing.

Fort Mill Times, October 26: Fourteen members of the Fort Mill high school football team with their coach, Heath Belk, left this morning for Columbia to witness the annual football game between Clemson college and the University of South Carolina, to be played at the state fair this afternoon. The expense of the trip for the boys was borne by friends of the team. The following members of the team compose the party which left for Columbia this morning: Dudley Cook, Paul Potts, Elliott Harris, Montague Crook, Olin Patterson, Lee Carothers, Stroud Elms, Luther Patterson, Mike Link, Charlie Moser, Tom Harris, Neal Porter, John McKee Spratt. Mrs. Laura H. Drakeford has returned from a visit of several months to her son, J. S. Drakeford, in St. Louis, Mo. Miss Maud Sledge, daughter of the late W. E. Sledge, who moved with his family from Fort Mill to Chester several years ago, had the misfortune last Friday to fall and fracture her hip in a business building in Chester. She was taken to a hospital, and according to the Chester News of Tuesday, was doing as well as could be expected. Thousands of bushels of sweet potatoes are expected to be stored in the warehouses of the farmers of the lower section of Fort Mill township by the end of the week. Most of the farmers who are growing potatoes for commercial purposes, began digging their crop Monday morning and in most instances the yields are said to be satisfactory, ranging from 200 to 250 bushels per acre. The potatoes are being stored in crates holding one bushel each.

Lancaster Citizen, October 26: Mrs. Nannie Hunter, wife of Mr. Will Hunter of the Belltown section, died at her home there this morning. Burial services will be conducted at lower Camp Creek Methodist church, of which deceased was a member. She is survived by her husband and five or six small children. Mrs. Hunter was 37 years old. She was a daughter of Mr. A. H. Carter. Fifteen veterans of the Confederate army from Lancaster county took advantage of the generous offer made by the railroads to furnish a trip to the state fair, and they left here Tuesday morning. Most of them will return some time today. Several hundred veterans from over the state were in Columbia mingling with the other throngs at the fair and exchanging among themselves reminiscences of the "big war," none of them being willing to concede that the late European scrimmage had anything on their war for size or ferocity. "First free ride since I left Appomattox," one fellow remarked. "It will be sixty years next January since I first saw Kingville," said Veteran Ervin Rowell when the train stopped there Tuesday morning on its way to Columbia. Mr. Rowell with a baker's dozen other veterans from this county were en route to the state fair as guests of the railroad and the state fair association. "The depot has changed wonderfully," he continued, "and the fields and farm houses look different, but these old swamps look just like they did then. And I reckon they will look just like this fifty years from now."

Chester Reporter, October 26: Rock Hill High players claim, according to The Yorkville Enquirer, that they were not showing all of their stuff in the game with the P. C. freshmen, but were saving their best for the big battle with Chester on November 10th. They'll need it. Chester Commandery No. 7, Knights Templar, had a delightful banquet Tuesday evening, with 133 present. A feature of the evening was the initiation of 22 candidates. The banquet was served by the ladies of the First Baptist church. Winthrop Training school, which is scheduled to play the Chester High school eleven here tomorrow afternoon, made an effort this morning to cancel the game, on the ground that the Winthrop Training school aggregation is young, light and inexperienced, and no match for the Chester team; but Superintendent Brockman has taken the matter up with the Rock Hill authorities and hopes to have the game played. With Collins and Tolleson playing at top form, as they are doing now, Massebeau in the line, and the Brices, Stone, Kennedy, Mc-Ninch and the others playing the ball they are capable of, Rock Hill is not going to find the going good, to say the least. It is reported, and is undoubtedly a fact, that Rock Hill has a first-class team, but they are going to have the battle of their young lives to take association championship honors away from the Magill team. Mr. James Christor Robinson, who had been sick with typhoid fever four weeks, died at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robinson, at Rodman. Mr. Robinson was living at Mayesville at the time he was taken ill, but came to Rodman a few days later to be with home-folks. For a while it seemed that his disease would yield to treatment, but he had a bad spell Sunday, and from that time on grew steadily weaker. A peculiarly sad feature is that Mr. Robinson's only child, little 3-year-old Elizabeth, is also ill with the same disease, though we are glad to state shows evidence of improvement, and it is thought will recover.

Gaffney Ledger, October 28: Messrs. E. H. Thomas of Spartanburg, and William E. Woodman of Staunton, Mass., are in the city installing a new make of loom in the Gaffney Manufacturing company's plant. This loom is the very latest product in the weaving world, and is being demonstrated throughout the cloth-making centers. All arrangements have been completed for the entertainment of the delegates to the Methodist conference, which convenes in Gaffney on November 8. Each delegate has been assigned a home and a post card bearing the name of the host has been mailed to each one. The United Daughters of the Confederacy of Gaffney are a wideawake and progressive body of women. They believe in transmitting to generations yet unborn the knowledge of the deeds of valor performed by the Confederate soldiers on the field of battle, and with that idea in view they are actually at work organizing chapters of the U. D. C. wherever possible. Last Wednesday Mrs. R. C. Sarraat, vice president of the South Carolina division, U. D. C.; Mrs. H. M. Brown, president of the Moses Wood chapter; Mrs. W. H. Smith, historian of the Moses Wood chapter, and Mrs. C. H. Robbins journeyed over to Cowpens for the purpose of presenting the matter to the ladies of that town who are eligible for membership. They were greeted by an audience of twenty-five or more and made lucid explanation of the necessary steps to be taken to organize a chapter, the result being that Cowpens has made application for a charter and will soon have a chapter. In referring to the visit of the ladies to Blacksburg last Monday for the purpose of presenting the matter, The Ledger reporter was unfortunate in using the expression "unsuccessful." The truth is that the meeting was altogether successful and the ladies of Blacksburg have also applied for a charter, and they, too, will soon have a chapter. With the several U. D. C. chapters in this section working harmoniously to perpetuate the memory of the greatest soldier the world ever knew there is every reason to hope that lasting good may be accomplished. Mention was made in a previous issue of The Ledger of Sheriff Watkins locating a horse down in Union county that was stolen from L. O. Revis, Warrenton, N. C., and the thief having since died. Thursday Mr. Revis, accompanied by Sheriff Watkins, made formal demand for the animal from its present owner, J. S. Pickens, but all litigation in the matter was waived, by Mr. Revis paying $75 for the animal. The revival which has been in session at the Cherokee Avenue Baptist church for the past several days will draw to a successful close with a sermon by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Kirby, to be delivered Sunday night. The sermons up to the present time have been reaching in their text and have been delivered to the largest congregations that Mr. Kirby has preached to since coming to Gaffney.

Gastonia Gazette, October 27: Marking an epoch not only for the community in which it was held but for the entire county as well was the banquet given at Sunnyside school house on Thursday night when Thomas S. Royster, one of the county's leading citizens, was host to fifty business men and farmers of the county and when there was launched a movement looking to the establishment of the first rural library in North Carolina. That the spirit manifested there will result in the early realization of this splendid plan is not to be doubted. With the progressive citizens of Sunnyside committed to give the first $1,000 towards this project, the live business and professional men from other sections of the county took advantage of the opportunity to swell the library fund by several hundred dollars before leaving. Mr. F. A. Cathey and family moved Thursday from their former residence on West Airline avenue to their new home recently completed on West Second avenue, corner of Hanna street. The jury in the case of W. A. Putnam, charged with the killing of Andy Carpenter in Cherryville on September 30, returned a verdict in superior court this afternoon of not guilty. The jury's verdict sustained the contention of the defense that Putnam was acting in self-defense when he shot Carpenter. In prosecuting the state did not ask for a verdict of first degree murder, but sought a conviction of either second degree murder or manslaughter. Solicitor Clarkson was assisted by Messrs. Carpenter & Carpenter of Gastonia, and Chas. A. Johns, of Lincolnton. The defense was represented by O. F. Mason of Gastonia, Matthew A. Stroup of Cherryville, and O. Max Gardner of Shelby. The taking of testimony was concluded on Thursday afternoon and argument was begun. Mr. Thomas E. Robinson of Gastonia, and Miss Lillie Robinson of High Shoals, were united in marriage Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride in High Shoals, the ceremony being witnessed by a number of relatives and friends. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left on a bridal trip to New York and other northern cities.

Cleveland Star (Shelby), October 27: Elliott & Son, who have the contract for the hard surfaced road from King's Mountain to Shelby, are now grading through the golf course at Cleveland Springs, and are working 25 teams and 35 men. Another crew of similar size will be put on the job the first of the month. Work is moving right along and it is expected that they will begin pouring the base on this end of the road in about thirty days, starting at the end of the present hard-surfaced road at Cleveland Springs. The new route follows the old route on all straight stretches and traffic will have to detour of the road for 12 months or longer. The detour via Grover will probably be the most popular. Contractors have 300 working days to complete the job, which is practically a year and a half and it is expected that it will take fully that long. Rev. J. Marcus Kester may leave the pastorate of the First Baptist church to become educational secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist convention. Mr. Kester was elected to this high and important position last week at a meeting of the board in Richmond, Va., and he received notice of the election last Sunday. The notice was quite a surprise to him for he had declined two positions offered him some months ago by the foreign mission board. One position was the same secretaryship and the other was the headship of a Baptist school in Palestine, which would have necessitated his leaving this country. Two stores were robbed of great quantities of merchandise at Ellenboro last Wednesday night and a negro named Will Smith, was taken off of a Seaboard freight yesterday morning at Shelby with clothing, shoes, etc., which were stolen from the stores of Harrill & McKinney. It is thought there were three negroes in the robbery and that they secured between $500 and $600 worth of merchandise. A brakeman on the Seaboard arrested Smith and turned him over to officers Jim Hunter and McBryde Posten here yesterday morning. Ellenboro officers came for him yesterday at 11 o'clock and took him to the Rutherford jail. Another one of the negroes was arrested on the train at Lincolnton by the brakeman, but he made his escape. It is reported that these negroes also burned an empty store building in No. 2 township Wednesday night.

BONES OF BABIES FOUND.

Ruins Disclose Infant Sacrifices of the Ancients. Scientists searching in the ruins of Carthage, in northern Africa, have torn the veils from the insoluble mysteries which 2,000 years ago attended the worship of the Goddess Astarte. Astarte was associated with Baal as the chief deity of the ancient Phoenicians, of which race the Carthaginians were one of the most important branches. The scientists have discovered sacrificial vaults in the inner sanctuary of the Temple of Astarte, each of which contains the charred bones of thousands of infants ranging from newborn babies to babies of one or two years old. The piles of bones are fifteen feet deep. They believe they have found one of the temples where the

AGENTS RUN RISK

125 Men Have Been Killed in Efforts to Enforce Volstead Act. One hundred and twenty-five Prohibition enforcement agents have been killed and 3,500 wounded in their efforts to enforce the Volstead act, according to the American Issue, the official organ of the Anti-Saloon League. Describing this as a "miniature civil war," Col. Ransom H. Gillett, general counsel of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, made public recently figures obtained in fifty-six American cities, showing arrests for drunk and disorderly conduct were 252,310 in 1920 and 343,065 in 1921, the second year of prohibition, an increase of 36.21 per cent. In the same period arrests of intoxicated motorists increased from 3,588 to 3,825 or 62.35 per cent; arrests for drug addiction and peddling, from 4,829 to 8,252, an increase of 68.68 per cent. Arrests for all causes increased from 1,233,904 to 1,444,296, or 18.67 per cent, and the police expenses of forty-three cities increased from $80,830,846.37 to $99,018,129.89, or 11.2 per cent.

MAY BE VICTOR.

George Wharton Pepper, Republican, of Pennsylvania, will probably be one of the victors in this year's election for a seat in the United States Senate.

REASON FOR ARGUMENT

Nineteen Deadheads On Train and Conductor Couldn't Help It. When Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Cott, parents of five sets of triplets and two sets of twins got aboard a train at La Porte, Ind., the conductor thought it was a Sunday school class. "We can't carry a whole Sunday school class on two adult tickets," the conductor said. "But these aren't Sunday school children, they're all our own," Mrs. Cott replied. She insisted all the children were under the ten-year limit and entitled to travel free. Mr. and Mrs. Cott have been married ten years. They wish to make their home on a big farm in the west, where there will be "a plenty of room," according to Mr. Cott. secret rites of human sacrifice to Astarte were practiced from the seventh century before the Christian era until the days when the Romans conquered and destroyed Carthage and forbade further sacrifices. Astarte is always represented as a tall stern-faced woman, standing upright and clutching in the left arm an infant child. In the old Phoenicians offered newborn children to Astarte, and the bones of older children which the scientists have now found are probably accounted for by the fact

NEW WONDER TUBE MAGNIFIES ELECTRICAL ENERGY.

A 1,000 kilowatt vacuum tube fifty times more powerful than any now in use, has been developed to help send electrical power for many times greater distances than are now possible.

Booster Extraordinary.—Tom Royster, Sunnyside mail carrier and booster extraordinary, is staging something new for Gaston county in inviting business men of Gastonia to a banquet at Sunnyside school house for the purpose of discussing plans for a rural library at that school. It is a good example of city and county co-operation and The Gazette is hoping that all those Tom invites will accept.—Gastonia Gazette.

This Sign Is Certain

SOME OF THE OLD SETTLERS have a habit of looking at the bark of trees or the fur of animals and then forecasting the weather. They say it is going to be a mild winter or a severe winter, according to these signs. WE KNOW A SIGN THAT NEVER FAILS. IF YOU SEE A MAN who has a good job, plenty of coal in his bins and a nice Bank Account—for THAT MAN at least, it will be a mild winter. THEFT ALWAYS PAYS BIG REWARDS.
