AS a Top Dressing to a growing crop this Fertilizer cannot be excelled. It may be used before or after the planting of the crop; for even when applied as a top dressing it cannot be lost by evaporation, as none of its constituents are volatile. It may be applied at each hoeing of cotton, and in the hills during the cultivation of corn and other crops. When crops have been previously manured in the usual way, and found to be of sluggish growth, it may be augmented by the use of this Fertilizer. It has been successfully used throughout the Southern States during the past fifteen years. Call and buy your supplies from the agents, REED & BROYLES. May 6, 1868 46
