The Baltimore Sun says that some of the leading London journals are urging the establishment of steamship lines with the Southern ports of the United States, especially with New Orleans and Charleston, in order not only to secure a larger proportion of the cotton trade, but also to extend facilities to the Western agriculturists, if they wish to send their grain to Europe through its direct channel, the Mississippi River.

The New York Tribune deprecates the shelving of the bill by the Senate, limiting the tenure of the Presidential office to one term. The principle, it thinks, is too clearly correct; and the evil results of having our Presidents scheming through one term for election to a second, have sometimes been so glaring that the measure must certainly be some day adopted.

The New York Herald, in a leading article, says that Charleston is one of the commercial centres which are rising to be only second to Gotham itself in exterior and interior trade, and that when Charleston learns that she is as near, if not nearer the Great West than New York, she will commence a rapid march to commercial greatness.

SOLUBLE MANURES!

Sulphuric Acid & Superphosphate Company,
Charleston, S. C.

HAVING completed their extensive Manufactory, are now prepared to furnish SOLUBLE FERTILIZERS, no other kinds being available to Planters for immediate returns for their investments. This Company, under the direction entirely of Southern men of high character, offers inducements which will recommend it to Southern Planters. Their works are among the largest and most complete in the United States, and enable them to prepare at home an abundant supply of the proper solvent for the South Carolina native Bone Phosphates which are near by. From these Phosphates they propose to manufacture a FERTILIZER even richer in Soluble Phosphates than those made from Raw Bones, and containing more than twice the quantity of Superphosphate of Lime found in the best average manures heretofore offered for sale, the rates at which we offer them being no higher than the average price of other Fertilizers, while the Manures contain twice as much fertilizing material; they are in fact much cheaper to the consumer. They are offered on the market in two forms, with a guarantee that the material in each will correspond to the advertisement:

ETWAN No. 1.—Soluble Phosphate, containing from eighteen to twenty-five per cent. of Pure Soluble Phosphate of Lime, and furnished at sixty dollars per ton.

ETWAN No. 2.—Peruvian Superphosphate, containing from sixteen to twenty per cent. of Soluble Phosphate, and three to four per cent. of Ammonia, at seventy dollars per ton, for approved acceptances, bearing interest, or such other security as may be acceptable on the above prices will be made for cash. Orders to be forwarded immediately to the Agents, and delivery made as directed.

Office of Udolpho Wolfe,

SOLE IMPORTER OF THE
Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps,
22 BEAVER STREET, NEW YORK,
NOVEMBER 3, 1868.

To the People of the Southern States:

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 20 years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with the strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to pirate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medicinal purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with an unalloyed character of the alcoholic element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted: a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with his private seal. No article had ever been sold in this country under the name of Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by reading deleterious trash under their name, that the protection so carefully thrown around these Schnapps would have precluded the introduction and sale of counterfeiters. They seem, however, to have, only stimulated the rapacity of imposters. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the endorsement which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by mendacious humbugs; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, dishonest retailers, after depredating on the genuine contents of his bottles, have filled them up with common gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus made his name and brand a cover for their fraud.

The public, the medical profession and the sick, for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned, in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequalled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps in those markets; and travellers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in the atrocious system of deception. In conclusion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs unanswerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should protect the public and himself against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison, and experiment in all its forms; and from every ordeal the preparation which bears his name, seal and trade mark, has come off triumphant. He therefore feels it a duty he owes to himself against fraudulent imitations; to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and expose the charlatans who counterfeit these evidences of identity, and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates from the leading physicians and chemists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all they are represented to be.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

I feel bound to say, that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of medical patronage. At all events, it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretofore obtainable, and as such may be safely prescribed by physicians.

DAVID L. MOTT, M. D.,
Pharmaceutical Chemist, New York.

26 PINE STREET, NEW YORK, Nov. 21, 1867.
UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR: I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps, with the intention of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirit.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the same contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself or to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed,) CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.
NEW YORK, 53 CEDAR STREET,
November 26, 1867.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR: I have submitted to chemical analysis two bottles of "Schiedam Schnapps," which I took from a fresh package in your bonded warehouse, and find, as before, that the spirituous liquor is free from injurious ingredients or falsification; that it has the marks of being aged and not recently prepared by mechanical admixture of alcohol and aromatics.

Respectfully,
FRED. F. MAYER, Chemist.
New York, Tuesday, May 1.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq.:

DEAR SIR: I have submitted to chemical analysis two bottles of pure Wines and Liquors for medicinal purposes has long felt by the profession, and thousands of lives have been sacrificed by the use of adulterated articles. Delirium tremens, and other diseases of the brain and nerves, so rife in this country, are very rare in Europe, owing, in a great degree, to the difference in the purity of the spirits sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your gin, which you sell under the name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation which it has acquired in this country; and from your long experience as a foreign importer, your bottled Wines and Liquors should meet with the same demand.

We would recommend to you to appoint some of the respectable apothecaries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandy and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

Wishing you success in your new enterprise, We remain your obedient servants.
