Anderson Intelligencer.

ANDERSON C. H., S. C. THURSDAY MORNING, JAN. 11, 1872.

We are under many obligations to Col. Thos. Dodamead, Superintendent of the Greenville and Calambia Railroad, for a complimentary pass for the current year over the Road and its branches.

Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of New York, issue the American Newspaper Reporter, which abounds with information of practical utility to the profession, and is always a welcome guest at our editorial table.

Mer The Legislature re-assembled on Friday last, but there was no quorum in either House. The same result was ascertained on Saturday. The proceedings of Monday, when there was a quorum present, are not especially interesting.

Our Columbia exchanges contain the announcement that Haight & Co's. Empire City Museum, Menagerie, Circus and Balloon will exhibit at Anderson on Tuesday, 6th of February. If there is anything in a name, this ought to be a mammoth exhibition.

The drawing in the South Carolina Land and Immigration Scheme commenced, in Charleston on Monday last, and a large number of prizes were distributed that day. The prize of $100,000 was won by No. 120,296, which ticket we did not hold. We make this statement for the information of our creditors.

We would call attention to the fact that a public debate will take place in the Court House on Tuesday evening next, under the auspices of the Anderson Calhoun Literary Society. The subject for discussion is an interesting one, and a large audience of ladies and gentlemen ought to encourage the efforts. of the young gentlemen composing this society.

Greenville and Columbia Railroad.

The transfer of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad has been completed, and it is now under the management of the South Carolina Railroad. The schedule for the passenger trains has been changed, so as to shorten the time to Columbia, as will be seen on reference to the revised schedule in another column. The train on the Anderson Branch now runs through to Walhalls. The direct management of the entire line above Columbia is still entrusted to Col. Thos. Dodamead, an able and experienced officer, whose administration heretofore has been successful and satisfactory to the traveling public. Under the new arrangement, the following gentlemen have been elected President and Directors :

President-W. J. Magrath.

· Vice President-John J. Patterson. Directors-Jas. L. Orr, J. L. Nengle, J. J. Patterson, T. Hurley, J. M. Allen, Joseph Crews, H. T. Farmer, Thos. Dodamead, J. C. Roath, J. E. Marley, C. B. Walker and John T. Sloan

Increased Rates of Freight.

"Many of our citizens have long desired the railroad lines from Charleston to the mountains to be under one control and management, in the hope that freights and passengers could and would be transported with more regularity, purpose of beginning the term of the Circuit House next week a bill to extend the provisions celerity and cheapness. But it see

The Case of Col. McMaster. We stated last week that the trial of Dr. Edward T. Avery, of York, was then progressing in the United States Court at Columbia. When the testimony had been concluded, and the argument of the case was about to begin, it was discovered that Dr. Avery was not present .-District Attorney Corbin made known the fact to the Court, and Judge Bond immediately interrogated the counsel of Dr. Avery as to the whereabouts of that gentleman. One of the counsel, Col. F. W. McMaster, refused to answer the question, or rather asked to be excused in a polite manner. Thereupon, it seems that Judge Bond's temper got the better of his judgment, and he ordered a rule to issue against Col. McMaster to show cause why his name should not be stricken from the roll of attor-fessional relation to the absconded prisoner. Argument ensued upon this answer, and it was quite evident that the irascible Judge Bond had given Messrs. Chamberlain and Corbin a very'knotty question to argue, since they failed to establish contempt on the part of Col. Mc-Master, or show any right on the part of the Court to compel the recusant attorney to divulge the secrets of his late client. The respondent was ably represented by Messrs. F. W. Fickling and John Waties, who made strong arguments in defence of the rights of attorneys, and clearly demonstrated that Judge Bond had overstepped the bounds of propriety. The Court reserved a decision, and the next intelligence comes that Judge Bond had gone to Baltimore! Unable to sustain such hasty and ill-advised conduct, Judge Bond retreats from the decision of a question instituted by himself, and seeks an avoidance of the subject by a sudden departure for another sphere of duties! We think Col. McMaster may rest assured that his name will stand upon the roll of attorneys, and we know that it ranks among the ablest, nost honorable and upright upon the list.

South Carolina Monument Association. In our last issue before the Christmas holidays, we published the annual report of the South Carolina Monument Association for the previous year, in which "money received" from Anderson is put down at $3.10. We are assured that the sum of $60.00, raised by the Charades in our village last spring for the Bazaar in aid of the Association, was duly forwarded and received, and we suppose was included in the items set down as "contributions in money, fancy articles and provisions" for the Bazaar from certain Districts, among them Anderson, which is only mentioned in general terms .-There seems to be a distinction made in the Report between "money received by the Association" and "contributions to the Bazaar," the latter being referred to only in general terms, while the former is especially mentioned. As this distinction may escape the notice of others, we make this explanation in justice to those entrusted with the interest of the Association in Anderson.

The United States Court-

For some unexplained reason, the work of the United States Court has already virtually ended by the discharge of the petit jury and the absence of Judge Bond. It is said, however, that the latter goes to Baltimore for the Court in that city. The grand jury will prob- of the Grant bayonet law, known as the enably be dismissed this week, although a large number of persons are being daily indicted for offences against the Ku Klux law. It seems to be generally conceded that the trials are ended for the present, and may not be resumed in the future. Judge Bryan continues to hold the Court, and on Monday application was made for release upon habeas corpus of several prisoners already sentenced; on the ground of the unconstitutionality of the Act of Congress under which they were tried and convicted. The Judge took the petitions under advisement, and for the purpose of hearing argument.

Our Washington Correspondence. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6, 1872.

Just now we are indulging in a political calm, but the mutterings of the storm which is to break over the heads of Ulys es' friends in the Senate next week are heard most unmistakably. I have it from good authority that ty, has sent in his resignation to the Goverthe batteries of the anti-Grantites are to be nor. opened in the most savage manner on the Administration, and the most serious charges week. made against Grant & Co., the design being by a grand coup de main to send Grant skyward. Last night the black and white Radicals met in council here and endorsed Senator Sumner's supplementary civil rights bill, which mixes the to Northern Georg races in the public schools, &c. Prof. Langston, black, said "he hated negro schools, and so help him God, he never would send his son neys. In due time, proper answer was made to the rule, in which answer Col. McMaster assert-blacks in the public schools was advocated by Marico ed that there was no intention upon his part to Judge Fisher, Hon. W. P. Chipman, delegate throw contempt upon the Court, nor was he from the District in Congress, Hon. Chas. H. adopted by a large majority a bill permitting bound to give information obtained by his pro-Porter, of Va., and others. Gov. Henry D. women to hold office in the departments of that Cooke, the especial friend and chum of the State. President, in a letter also endorses the movement. This monstrous proposition meets the approval of the Republican members of Congress, but some of them, more politic than the rest, do not desire it pressed until after the next Presidential election.

There is now but little doubt that Secretary Fish will remain in the Cabinet. Grant has determined to change his policy with regard to Cuba, and Fish will change also, though he has heretofore been the devoted friend of Spain, which has employed his sop-in-law, Sidney Webster, in several law cases growing out of the Cuban difficulties. The fitting out of our Iron Clads-the arrival here of Dan. Sickles, our Minister to Spain, and the prolonged Cabinet meetings give rise to a great deal of speculation about Cuban affairs.

The Presidential gallivant to Philadeiphia will extend until Monday. The President and family were the guests of the notorious John W. Forney, the author of the Consuelo letter. Our Chief Magistrate is not choice in the selection of his company, or probably "birds of feather"-you know the rest.

The friends of the aforesaid Forney are after the smiling Vice President, and desire a decisve answer as to whether he has any desire to preside over the Senate longer than his present term, as Forney wants the situation, if he can get it, and would-like to take the chances along with his dear friend Ulysses.

The Badical Presidential Convention will be held at Philadelphia, that is, if Grant can have his way. Forney, not content with manipulating the Radical press in favor of that city for holding the Radical Convention, is using his endeavors to have the Democrats also hold their Convention there. I guess the Democracy can settle that question without any advice from that source.

The 928 tobacco manufacturers in the United States claim to pay $25,000,000 per annum as internal revenue tax. The question has been asked how so small a number of men can long sustain this enormous draft upon them. This question will be brought to the notice of the Committee on Finance.

It is reported that a hill will be presented to Congress next week, providing for government election inspectors to canvass the Presidential and Congressional vote.

COKESBURY, January 1, 1872. DEAR SIR: At an early day, I expect to issue the premium list for the State Fair of next fall. During the last fair, I heard many strictures pronounced upon the last premium list. To prevent recurrence of these criticisms, I respectfully ask the co-operation of the citizens of South Carolina in completing the next list. Any suggestions of alterations, amendments or improvements, sent me by mail to this place from any portion of the State, will be thankfully received, and will meet with due consideration. I also respectfully ask the secretary of any agricultural, horticultural or mechani cal association in the State to send me, on receipt of this notice, the names and post offices

OBITUARY.

DIED, at Pendleton, S. C., on the 7th inst., Mrs. ELIZABETH SHARPE, in the 81st year of her age.

A Body and Mind Disease.

Such is dyspepsia. The stomach and the brain are too intimately allied for the one to suffer without the other, so that dyspepsia and despondency are inseparable. It may be added, too, that irritation of the stomach is almost invariably accompanied by irritation of the temper.

The invigorating and tranquillizing operation of Hostetter's Bitters is most powerfully developed in cases of indigestion. The first effect of his agreeable tonic is comforting and encouraging. A mild glow prevades the system, the chronic uneasiness in the region of the stomach is lessened, and the nervous restlessness which characterizes the disease is abated. This improvement is not transient. It is not suc-ceeded by the return of the old symptoms with superadded force, as is always the case when unmedicated stimulants are given for the comunnedicated stimulants are given for the com-plaint. Each dose seems to impart a perma-nent accession of healthful invigoration. But this is not all. The aparient and anti-billious properties of the preparation are scarcely sec-ondary in importance to its tonic virtues. If there is an overflow of bile, the secretion is soon brought within proper limits, and if the bilary organ is inert and torpid it is toned and regula-ted. The offset upon the discharging organs is organ is inert and torpid it is toned and regula-ted. The effect upon the discharging organs is equally salutary, and in cases of constipation the cathartic action is just sufficient to produce the desired result gradually and without pain. The Bitters also promote healthy evaporation from the surface, which is particularly desira-ble at this season when sudden spells of raw, unpleasant weather are ant to check the natua large amount of mathinery, and a full sup-ply of live stock. The Mikado of Japan is de-termined to keep up with the progress of the age. The rear inst commenced is what is gene-from information before us, that our people are likely to be disappointed. Simultaneous, with the news of the purchase of a controlling interest in the Greenville and Columbia R. R. by the South Carolina Railroad, and the lease of the Blue Ridge R. B. to the same, comes a new tariff of freights so increased as to cause severe comment and dissatisfaction among the business community. We append a comparative statement to show our meaning, viz : Freights under old tariff, from Anderson to Pendleton, per 100 lbs., average 12 cts. Average under new tariff, 28 cts.

From Anderson to Walhalla, old 27 cts. new 32 cts. average. Bale of cotton from Pendleton, old 50 cts.

new $1.00.

The difference here given is upon an average of the several classifications of freight, but we learn that a greater increase has been made in some important classes. We trust Col. Dodamead will correct this immediately, before trade is diverted elsewhere, if within his power.

Newspaper Borrowers.

We have been intending to say a word or two on this subject for some time past. It not unfrequently happens that we are accosted by individuals with some remark about the contents of the Intelligencer, when we are puzzled to know how they ever found out any part of its contents, since their names do not appear upon our subscription book. Of course, we set them down among that impecunious class known as "newspaper borrowers." And strange to say, these persons oftener complain and grumble about the price of our paper, and the occasional meagreness of reading matter, than any of our regular subscribers. Upon what principle of justice or right they base these complaints, we are at a loss to discover, as their selfish conduct has never yet placed us under the slightest obligation to consult their wishes. Such persons, when asked to subscribe for a local newspaper, almost invariably reply that "Neighbor Jones takes it, and I have the reading of it every week." Thus are they benefitted every week by the toils, perplexities and expenditures of the publishers, without giving one cent in return. Were all the world made up of such material, newspapers would be "few and far between." But there is another feature in regard to persons guilty of this abominable practice towards the publishers of country newspapers-insufferably mean as it is to borrow your home journal-that plunges them deeper yet this State, and a good number from this Counbeneath the contempt of all right-minded people. It is almost invariably the case that the "newspaper borrower" who surreptitiously gets the benefit of the Intelligencer is a subscriber to some cheap Northern publication, in preference to sustaining a home enterprise. We do not object in the least to every one making his character. We wish him abundant success. own selection of reading matter, nor from what quarter of the globe it may come, but we would question the honesty of any man guilty of paying money to support foreign enterprises and at the same time sponging upon his poorer neigh- ity of three to one over the Republican candibor, perhaps, for local news.

EDITORIAL CHANGE .---- The Laurensville Herald announces a change of editors. Col-John W. Ferguson retires from the helm, after year's industrious and energetic management. He is succeeded by Mr. Thos. B. Crews, so long connected with the Herald as its publisher, and whose experience in the newspaper business will prove a telisman of success in the editorial department. We extend to the outgoing and incoming editors the most fraternal regards, and hope that a century of uninterrupted prosperity awaits our time-honored cotemporary.

NEW DRESS .-- The Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel begins the new year with a full suit of new type, and presents a most handsome appearance. It is one of our most valued exchanges, furnishing daily the most important news from all quarters of the globe, and giving special attention to affairs in South Carolina and Georgia. We congratulate the editors and proprietors upon a successful career, and trust the present year will add largely to their prosperity.

AN EXALTED AND DESERVED COMPLIMENT. -The Laurensville Herald recently gave utterance to the complimentary allusions herewith appended, in relation to our friend and fellowcitizen, Col. Thomas J. Pickens. We unite most heartily in the wish that the Colonel's new vocation may prove highly successful and advantageous, both to himself and the popular Insurance Company with which he has become connected :

We are gratified to meet Col. Thomas J. Pickens, of Auderson, who is the traveling agent, for the State, for the St. Louis Mutual Life Insurance Corpany. He will canvass this and other counties in the interest of his Company. The St. Louis is one of the first class companies. It has a capital of over six millions, and can show an array of patrons equal to any in the United States, many of whom are from forcement act, all over the country ; it at present only applying to cities whose population is over 50,000. This will require an army of federal inspectors and the use of troops as provided for in the present law. When will the people resent these high handed outrages and military usurpations?

Radical members of Congress are very indignant when they apply for positions for their friends, and are told that they must present the application to the board who examines the applicants. They are vowing vengeance when egislation relating to the matter is asked for. Those who have their share and more are decidedly in favor of the so-called reform; but those who have services to repay do not see the eauty of the system which deprives them of natronage. Sharp's the word, even among the Radical brethren in Congress. The civil service reform will soon be proven a fraud.

The Privileges of Lawyers.

Apropos to the instance recorded elsewherean effort to force information from a lawyer as to.his client's secrets-we append an anecdote from "A Book about Lawyers," a work pubished in London and written by Mr. Jeaffreson, barrister-at-law. The story is told on good authority, and relates to John Hullock, an eminent barrister. It may be well to premise that in England attorneys prepare cases, which are managed in Court by barristers or counsellorsat-law:

In an important cause tried upon the Northern Circuit, he was instructed by the attorney who retained him as leader on one side not to produce a certain deed unless circumstances made him think that without its production his client would lose the suit. On perusing the leed entrusted to him with this remarkable injunction, Hullock saw that it established his client's case, and wishing to dispatch the busi-ness with all possible promptitude, he produced the parchment before its exhibition was demanded by necessity. Examination instantly detected the spurious character of the deed, which had been fabricated by the attorney. Of course the presiding judge (Sir John Bayley) ordered the deed to be impounded; but before the order was carried out, Mr. Hullock obtained permission to inspect it again. Restored to his hands, the deed was forthwith replaced in "You must surrender that deed inhis bag. "You must surrender that deed in-stantly," exclaimed the judge, seeing Hullock's intention to keep it. "My lord," returned the barrister, warmly, "no power on earth shall in-duce me to surrender it. I have incantiously put the life of a fellow-creature in peril; and should never be happy again were a fatal result to ensue." At a loss to decide on the prop-er course of action, Mr. Justice Bayley retired from court to consult with his learned brother. On his lordship's reappearance in court, Mr. Hullock-who had also left the court for a brief period-told him that during his absence the forged deed had been destroyed. The attorney escaped ; the barrister became a judge.

It is one of the years in rally known as Lea which the calm, conservative order of things is supposed to be overturned very violently, in which the ladies are supposed to lay aside their coquetry and the privilege of saying "yes," and to assume the delicately discriminating task of selecting their own husbands.

- The press of Mississippi unite in calling a convention of the representatives of political conservatism in that State. The convention will be held at Meridian, on the 23d of January. It is to be remarked that most of the papers of the State speak of this meeting as nonpartisan. It is designed by most of them to organize a party which may rescue the State from the hands of those who have plundered it, and in attaining this end they ignore all partisan associations.

- Lowrey and his gang of outlaws continue to rule Robeson County, North Carolina, undis-turbed. The fruitless campaign waged against them by the State and Federal troops only served to render the desperadoes more desperate and daring. A correspondent who paid a visit to the locality recently, found the inhabi-tants in such a condition of abject fear that they, with one or two exceptions, absolutely re-fused to converse on the subject of the outlaws, and thereby risk their lives. - The New York Guardian says: "How supremely ludicrous is the idea that the great majority of the people of South Carolina, with all the power of the Federal, State, county and municipal government in its hands, and with their majority better armed, and with an armed militia—that this great majority is in such mortal danger from a minority which has proved powerless to protect itself from any of the thousand-and-one wrongs daily perpetrated upon it by this majority, pretending to be in mor-tal fear of its feeble victims."

- The Washington correspondent of the Louisville Ledger says : "Certain Georgia Radicals have been persistent in their efforts to in-duce Grant to interfere in Georgia affairs to the end that Gov. Smith might be prevented from taking the gubernatorial chair. They succeeded in enlisting Cameron and Delano in the scheme, but Grant and the Cabinet concluded it would be unwise and dangerous to Grant's chances of re-election to humor their Georgia friends in their little caprices, and declined to interfere in the matter, at which said friends are very much disgusted."

- On the 4th of March, 1873, the terms of the following twenty-four Senators will end: Spencer, of Alabama; Rice, of Arkansas; Cole, of California; Ferry, of Connecticut; Osborn, of Florida; Hill, of Georgia; Trumall its branches.
