To the American People.
 If a Merchant buys Corn, Bacon, a Horse, or anything else from a Farmer, or from "any other man," he has no rest till he pays for them, and which is strictly just and right. If a Farmer, or "any other man," buys Provisions, or anything else, from a Merchant, it is equally right that they should be paid also. To all who owe us a Red Cent, we WANT, NEED and MUST HAVE the MONEY. So come on and pay us.
 We also want those who owe for Wando Fertilizer to come forward and pay up, or they may soon be sued. We are still the Agents for this Celebrated Fertilizer.

TERRIBLE EXCITEMENT.
A BLACK FUR HAT STOLEN FROM THE LITTLE MAN'S STORE, And the Negro Arrested!
 THAT LITTLE MAN, having a large assortment of GENTS' HATS, frequently, after showing them to a customer, leaves a good many on the counter when business is brisk, and on the occasion that caused the above excitement a search was at once made for the missing Hat, and after about one hour's search, it was found upon the head of "HUBBARD'S OWN NIGGER," and the Little Man, under the excitement of the moment, had the Nigger put on the counter for exhibition.
 So you will all remember if you want a Hat, and try to get it in the same way, you'll be put on the Counter for Exhibition. But if you want to buy one, it will be wrapped up nicely in a paper for you at THE LITTLE MAN'S.
 P. S.—Hats to fit all kinds and sizes of heads, even some of those fine CABBAGE HEADS at HUBBARD'S.
