SOUTH CAROLINA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.—A movement is on foot in Charleston to revive the South Carolina Historical Society, an institution which, before the war, accomplished much good in collecting and preserving valuable archives of the history of the State. It published three volumes of transactions, containing a mass of historical information on the French settlement in Abbeville, and on other early incidents in the life of the State, elsewhere unattainable. It has had only a nominal existence since the war. The only surviving officer of the old organization is the Secretary, Prof. F. A. Porcher. At a meeting, a few days ago, of those favorable to the resuscitation of the society, Prof. Porcher was elected President, and Mr. A. B. Holmes, Secretary. This effort to re-establish a society which can be made useful and beneficial to the State should meet with warm encouragement.

A MULE FOR NOTHING.

WE have just bought out the Livery and Sale Stable of Messrs. Thompson & Steele, where we expect to carry on the LIVERY and SALE STABLE BUSINESS, with the same unabated attention to the public demand that has characterized this well known Stable for the past year or two.

NAPOLEON XXIII.

Sensible to the Last.

A colored gentleman calling himself NAPOLEON 23rd, alias N. B. GAILLARD, called at the "Little Man's" Store, a short time ago, to make inquiry about the "Stolen Hat," and wanted to know what Nigger stole it; and upon being informed, and receiving an introduction to "HUBBARD'S Nigger," immediately proposed a trade for the Hat. The Nigger offered the Hat for one dollar, as it cost him nothing; and without a half dozen words Napoleon took the Hat on credit, and thought he was better off than the "Nigger," for he got it honestly, and the Nigger stole it. The truth is, HUBBARD is a little afraid that his Nigger will sell all his Hats, as he don't care what they cost HUBBARD. He thinks it right to sell at some price.

Napoleon was so well pleased, he bought something else, and that seems to be the way they are all doing.
