Tribute of Respect.

Presbyterian Church, held on the 13th day of July, in the Presbyterian Church, the following resolutions in relation to the death of Ruling Elder A. O. Norris were unanimously adopt-

Resolved, 1st. That the death of our brother, and for many years senior counsellor in the Session and the Church, is a serious affliction to the Session, we have lost an efficient and wise counsellor, an experienced and faithful colleague, and a respected and venerable brother. As a Church, we have lost the example and personal influence of a faithful Christian, the true and hearty devotion of a fellow-worker, and the parental oversight and care, constant and unwearied, of a father.

2nd. Few men have maintained so much, and for so long a time, uniformity and perseverance

WILLIAMSTON, June 15, 1873.

Messrs. Sharpe & Towers:

Sirs—In answer to your inquiry in regard to my opinion of the BROWN COTTON GIN, I can say that I would not take it down to put up any other Gin that I am acquainted with. It runs very light; is no trouble to keep in order. To prove the last assertion, I ginned three hundred and twenty bales on mine and never removed the caps from the inks; in fact, I don't think I lost 20 minutes in all the time from anything wrong with the Gin. It makes a very good staple, and sells in our market at the highest prices.

in all the duties he owed to the Church; often honored by his brethren as their representative in the Presbytery, the Synod and the Assembly, in which bodies he very often sat and contributed, by his faithful attendance and individual counsel, to their success in deliberation. His ripeness of judgment, clearness of perception and fullness of experience qualified him to fill such a position of usefulness.

3rd. It is with pleasure we bear testimony to the liberality with which our late colleague embraced all true Christians. Though he ardently loved the Presbyterian Church, and was never willingly absent from her services, yet with fullness of charity he loved all, uniting in their prayers and assisting in their charities.

fullness of charity he loved all, uniting in their prayers and assisting in their charities.

4th. Often entrusted by his fellow-citizens with offices of public trust and responsibility, our brother carried his christianity with him into these duties, ever faithful and upright in the discharge of them, and far from seeking his own aggrandizement in public positions. Many, and especially his poorer fellow-citizens, who have sought his official advice, have been the recipients of his generosity—too good a Christian to grow rich out of the need of his fellow men.

Christian to grow rich out of the need of his fellow men.

5th. We bear testimony to his character as a steady, strong, ardent, good man, quick in opinion, positive in position, lenient to the erring, uncompromising to the wrong, tender of heart, unswerving in purpose, in religion uniform, faithful and true.

6th. As a session, we tender our sympathies to the bereaved family, the large circle of relatives, the Church, now bereft of a father and ruler; and pray that the dispensation of affliction may be overruled by a wise Providence for future good to all.

THE celebrity of the January Infirmary, established in Murphreesboro, Tenn., in 1848, associated the above name with the treatment of Caneer until they became synonymous, both passed away with the war. But great discoveries, like truths, live forever. Dr. J. O. January, inheriting his father's talents, and improving on his experience, has achieved a success in advance of their former history, owing to his increased patronage he has permanently located in St. Louls; the numerous letters he is receiving, and large arrival of patients, justify his move to this central point.
