ITEMS-EDITORIAL AND OTHERWISE

-Hon. John P. Hale, of New Hampshire, is prestrated by an attack of congestion of the brain, and his situation is critical.

- Gen. Meyers, of the national weather bureau, has gone to Vienna to attend a meeting of meteorologists to arrange for an extended system of weather reports.

— Hon. Daniel W. Voorhees, of Indiana, will deliver the annual address before the North Carolina State Fair, at Raleigh, in October next. The Fair will commence on the 13th and continue six days.

— Rev. Benjamin Thornton, a Baptist minister, was thrown from his buggy, in the viciniister, was thrown from his buggy, if the vicinity of Hartwell, recently, and was severely bruised. His advanced age made the injuries more serious than they would otherwise have been, and his recovery has been retarded from been, and his recovery has been retarded from divided into 12,000 cash gifts, will be distributed by lot among the ticket-holders. the same cause.

— Mrs. Sally Clinkscales, wife of Capt. E. R. Clinkscales, died in Florida on the 11th instant. She was standing talking to her husband at the time, and dropped dead on the floor. She was a daughter of Robert Brownlee, who lives near Donaldsville, in Abbeville County.

— A farmer writing from West Mississippi, on the 20th ult., says the boll worm and cater-pillars have ruined the cotton crop of that section in the last six or eight days. They will not make a bale to six acres, and that is the finest cotton-growing section in the State. All they have to depend on now is a few hard bolls, and the farmers will be ruined.

- Hon. James P. Holcombe, of Virginia, died at Capon Springs on the morning of the 22nd ult. He was a member of the Confederate Congress, and was regarded by all as the ablest orator in that assemblage of Southern talent. He was sent by President Davis on a secret mission to Canada, and accomplished all that could have been done by any man under the most favorable circumstances. Since the war he has devoted himself to teaching.

— Rev. Gardner Spring, D. D., pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, died in that city on the 25th ult., in the eightyninth year of his age. Dr. Spring was one of the brightest lights of his church, though in his early days, according to his cwn account of his life, he was wild, reckless, and gave no promise of ever becoming a preacher. His father was a chaplain in the Continental army, and was an intimate friend of Aaron Burr. acand was an intimate friend of Aaron Burr, accompanied the expedition to Canada under Arnold and Burr, and was on the Plains of Abraham when Montgomery fell.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The fall trade has now opened, and with a view to meet all its requirements, Messrs. I. H. H. L. & Co., Proprietors of the Great Southern Builders' Emporium, Charleston, S. WILLIAMSTON, June 15, 1873. Messrs. Sharpe & Towers:

Sirs-In answer to your inquiry in regard to my opinion of the BROWN COTTON GIN, I can say that I would not take it down to put up any other Gin that I am acquainted with. It runs very light; is no trouble to keep in order. To prove the last assertion, I ginned three hundred and twenty bales on mine and never removed the caps from the inks; in fact, I don't think I lost caps from the links; in lact, I don't limb riss.
