Rates of Subscription.

Single-copies for one year - - $2.00

"six months - - 1.00

Ten copies for one year, $20,00, and an extra copy to person making up the club.

Twenty copies for one year, $37.50, and an extra copy to person making up the extra copy to person making up the club.

Fifty copies for one year, $75.00, and an extra copy to person making up the club.
One hundred copies for one year, $100.00, and a promium of Five Dollars to person making up the club.

The clubs of ten and twenty will be sent to any address. Clubs of fifty and upwards sent to a single address only.

Subscriptions will not be received for a less period than six months.

Payment in every case to be made in advance, and the names of subscribers will be stricken from the books when the time paid for has ex-STEAM pired OINTO wishing to advertise for three, six or twelve months. Advertising by contract must be confined to the immediate business of the firm or individual contracting.

Rates of Advertising.

Obituary Notices exceeding five lines, Tributes of Respect, and all personal communications or matters of individual interest, will be charged for at advertising rates. Announce-ments of marriages and deaths, and notices of a religious character, are respectfully solicited, and will be inserted gratis.

Under no circumstances will an advertisement be received for insertion in our reading columns.

An undeviating rule is to require Five Dol-lars in advance for the announcement of every candidate for office.

TRIED AND TRUE.

It was the Carnival season in Paris, and Colonel Eugene Merville, an attache of the great Napoleon's staff, who had won his way to distinction with his own sabre, found himself at the masked ball in the French opera house. Better adapted in his tastes to the field than the boudoir, he flirts but little with the gay figures that cover the floor, and joins but seldom in the waltz. But at last, while standing thoughtfully and regarding the assembled throng with a vacant eye, his attention was suddenly aroused by the appearance of a person in a white satin domino, the universal elegance of whose figure, manner and bearing, convinced all that her face and mind must be equal to her person in grace and loveliness.

Though in so mixed an assembly, still there was a dignity and reserve in the manner of the white domino that rather repulsed the idea of a familiar address, and it was some time before the young soldier found courage to speak to

Some alarm being given, there was a violent rush of the throng towards the door, where, unless assisted, the lady would have materially suffered. Eugene Merville offers his arm, and with his broad shoulders and stout frame wards off the danger. It was a delightful moment; the lady spoke the purest French, was witty, fanciful and captivating.

"Ah! lady, pray raise that mask, and reveal to me the charms of feature that must accompany so sweet a voice and so graceful a form as you possess?"

"You would, perhaps, be disappointed."
"No, I am sure not."

"Are you so very confident?" "Yes. I feel that you are becutiful-it cannot be otherwise."

"Don't be too sure of that," said the domino. "Have you never heard of the Irish poet life-Miss Charlotte Wigfall, by birth weiled prophet of Khorassan?"

"Ah, lady, your every word convinces me to the contrary," replied the enraptured soldier, whose heart had begun to feel as it never felt before-he was in love.

She eludes his efforts at discovery, but permits him to hand her to her carriage, which drives off in the darkness, and though he throws himself upon his fleetest horse, he is unable to overtake her.

The young French Colonel becomes moody, he has lost his heart, and knows not what to do. He wanders hither and thither, shuns his former places of amusement, avoids his military companions, and, in short, is miserable as a lover can well be thus disappointed. One night, just after he had left his hotel on foot, a figure, muffled up to the very ears, stopped him.
"Well, monsieur, what would you with me?" asked the soldier.

"You would know the name of the white domino?" was the reply.
"I would, indeed?" replied the officer hasti-"How can it be done?"

ly. "How can."
"Follow me."

"But you must be blindfolded."

"Yery well."
"Step in the vehicle."

"I am at your command." And away rattled the youthful soldier and his strange companion. "This may be a trick," reasoned Eugene Merville, "but I have no fear of personal violence. I am armed with this trusty sabre, and can take care of myself." But there was no cause for fear since he soon found the vehicle stop; and he was led, blindfolded, into the house. When the bandage was removed from his eyes, he found himself in a richly furnished bondoir, and before him stood the white domino just as he met her at the masked ball. To fall upon his knees and tell her how much he had thought of her since their separation, that his thoughts had never natural as to breathe, and he did so gallantly and sincerely.

"Shall I believe all you say?" "Lady, let me prove it by any test you may put upon me." "Know, then, that the feelings you avow are mutual. Nay, unloose your arm from my waist. I have something more to say."

"Talk on forever, lady! Your voice is music to my heart and ears."

"Would you marry me, knowing no more of me than you now do?"

"Yes, if you were to go to the very altar masked!" he replied.

"Then I will test you."

"How lady ?" "For one year be faithful to the love you have professed, and I will be yours-as true as heaven shall spare my life."

"Oh, cruel suspense!" "You demur?" "Nay, lady, I shall fulfill your injunctions as "If at the expiration of a year you do not hear from me, then the contract shall be null and void. Take this half ring," she continued, "and when I supply the broken portion I will be yours."

He kissed the little emblem, swore again and again to be faithful, and pressing her hand to his lips bade her adieu. He was conducted away as mysteriously as pressure." he had been brought thither; nor could he by any means discover where he had been, his companion rejecting all bribes, and even re-about the time that Napoleon was planning to much?" "Why, no, sir," answered the doctor, marry the Archduchess Maria Louisa. The deliberately; "I do not know that a little—by the women to captivate him—but in vain; he is constant and true to his vow.

But his heart is not made of stone; the very fact that he had entertained such tender feelings for the white domino had doubtless made him more susceptible than before. At last he met the young Baroness Caroline Von Waldroff, and in spite of his wows she captivates him, and he secretly curses the engagement he had so blindly made at Paris. She seems to wonder at what she believes to be his devotion-and the distance he maintains! The truth was, that his sense of honor was so great that, though he felt he loved the young baroness, and even she returned his affection, still he had given his word and it was his heart, but assumes the most repulsive form in his imagination, and becomes in place of his good angel, his evil genius!

Well, time rolls on; he is to return in a few days—it is once more the carnival season; and in Vienna, too, that gay city. He joins in the festivities of the masked ball, and wonder fills his brain when, about the middle of the even-lightly upon his arm.

"Is this a reality, or a dream?" asked the amazed soldier. "Come, follow me, and you shall see that it is a reality," continued the mask, pleasantly.

"I will." "Have you been faithful to your promise?" asked the white domino as they retired into a

"Most truly in act; but, alas, I fear not in heart !" "Indeed!"

"It is true, lady, that I have seen and loved another; though my vow to you has kept me from saying so to her."
"And who is it that you love?"

"I will be frank with you, and you will keep my secret?"

"Most religiously."
"It is the Baroness Von Waldroff," he said with a sigh.

"And you really love her?"
"Alas! only too dearly," said the soldier, sadly.
"Nevertheless, I must hold you to your promise. Here is the other half of the ring; can you produce its mate?" "Here it is," said Eugene Merville.

"Then I, too, keep my promise," said the domino, raising her mask, and showing to his astonished view the face of the Baroness Von

She had seen and loved him for his manly spirit and character, and having found by inquiry that he was worthy of her love, she had managed this delicate intrigue, and had tested him, and now gave him her wealth, title and

They were married with great pomp, and accompanied the arch-duchess to Paris. Napomade him at once a general of a division.

A LADY WORTHY OF HER NAME.-From the Edgefield correspondence of the Augusta Constitutionalist we clip the following paragraph concerning a young lady of an old and honored South Carolina name, a daughter of the late Rev. Arthur Wigfall, and a niece of the Hon. Louis T. Wigfall, late Senator from Texas, both in the United States and Confederate Congress:

"And another thing which has pleasantly broken our summer monotony lately, was a dramatic entertainment, gotten up in behalf of the Methodist Church by a lady whose dramatic gift, both as acting herself and teaching others to act, is quite remarkable for private Moore's story of the veiled prophet of Khonassan—how, when he disclosed his countenance, its hideous aspect killed his beloved one. How do you know that I shall not turn out a veiled prophet of Khonassan—and the veiled prophet of Khonassan—and the vigitall, by birth, manners and intellect, a queen of society. Miss Wigfall, though a devoted and energetic Episcopalian, is ever ready to exercise her talent and taste for any church, or for any good cause whatsofor any church, or for any good cause whatso-ever; in fact, Edgefield churches, Edgefield soldiers and Edgefield society all owe her a heavy debt of gratitude.

The plays on this occasion were the beautiful comedy, "All That Glitters is Not Gold," with the old and popular farce, "Bamboozle"; and many a New York actor or actress would have started with admiration at beholding either the setting or acting of these pieces. The sum realized for the church was, for so duli a season and so small a community, quite handsome—considerably over one hundred dol-

EDITORIAL CHILLS .- The editor of this mighty sheet has been shaking with a spell of chills during a portion of the week. He shook nearly all the hair off his head and shook so hard that the neighbors thought the town had him over in a state of activity. Many a time caught an earthquake. He shook out what little sense he had left after editing a paper for more than two years, and he shook out some of the poorest editorials ever printed.

"To the end of the earth if it will bring me thought he would shake I mself to death and he was somewhat alarmed at the prospect ahead. If he continues in his present frame flanks; inspect his nostrils and put your ear of mind, the readers of the Gazette may expect close to the side of his chest in order to ascerto see a large portion of its space devoted to tain if the action of the heart is normal. If to religious subjects, and to find sermons in the this exercise has caused him to perspire freely, place of editorials. What peculiar faith will all the better; for you can then see, when you be adopted no one can tell, but it will probably take him back to the stable, whether he dries be rather a promiscuous, miscellaneous and off quickly, as all horses do in perfect health. general one.

But he is greatly changed in appearance, his ponderous proportions have dwindled to those of a walking skeleton, and the rich, ruddy hue of his countenance has turned to the sickly color of the ripe pumpkin, and the blossoms on his nose, which so closely resembled the full blown rose, have all faded and gone. He is, indeed, a miserable looking specimen, and it is a good time for all those who feel offended at anything he has ever done or said to come left her, that he loved her devotedly, was as in and get satisfaction, as he can't fight and don't want to .- Washington (Ga.) Gazette.

IMPORTANT FOR LADIES .- A writer in the Baltimore Sun alludes to the efforts of inventve genius to discover a feasible motive power for the sewing machine, so that it may prove an unqualified blessing, and not, as in some instances, a physical curse. Referring to the drinks no ice water, drinks no warm water, disastrous effects the machine, as ordinarily drinks nothing else, wears flannels, bathes fact that all, or nearly all, the evils produced and follows such other methods of prevention by the sewing machine are in consequence of as his common-sense may dictate, he need have running it with both limbs at once, the opera- no fears of cholera. tor sitting with both feet raised upon the trea-dle, which necessarily compels her to seat her-self at quite a distance from the machine, occasioning a great loss of power, by its indispine, as well as an injurious compression and sewing machines with one foot only, as in this way a more natural position of the body is preserved, a more direct application of power attained, less fatigue produced, and the delicate abdominal viscera relieved from unnatural Says and y, and they stepped met a slop lead by, and in five minutes an ex-President might have been seen measuring the boy for his suit of clothes."

— There is a Rabbinical tradition that when Neah planted the vine Satan attended and

How TO BE SAFE .- "Doctor," said a patient, fusing to answer the simplest questions.

Months roll on. Colonel Melville is true to bis vow, and happy in the anticipations of love. Suddenly he was ordered on an embassy to Viscous the gravest of all the Proposed varieties.

From To BE SAFE.— Doctor, said a patient, about five years ago, after reading over the prescription of a distinguished friend of temperature of the prescription of a distinguished friend of temperature, whom ill-health had obliged him to comes bold as the lion; his courage is soon transformed into the foolishness of the ape; and at last he wallows in the mire like the had enna, the gayest of all the European capitals, spirits, now and then, would hurt me very young colonel is handsome, manly, and already distinguished in arms, and becomes at once a great favorite at court, every effort being made great favorite at court, every effort being made of the court every effort being made of the court every every Singular Story of a Wealthy Lady.

Yesterday morning a widow woman named Mrs. M. E. Crockett died at her residence, southwest corner of First and College streets. Mrs. Crockett had been living the life of a recluse during the past fifteen years, with the exception of about one year, when one of her sisters, Mrs. Hughes, now of Chicago, kept house for her. Her retirement during that time has been so exclusive that the front door of the house was never opened except to admit a servant girl from next door who carried food. The house-of which she was the sole occupant and owner-is a large two-story brick, containing about ten rooms, all of which were comfortably and some of them elegantly furnished. There were no servants employed to The satin domino is no longer the ideal of keep things in order, and the rooms yesterday presented a scene of decay and mustiness. The velvet carpets in one or two of the less frequented rooms were literally riddled and ruined with moths. Spiders had spread webs undisturbed in almost every part of the house. The mould and decay were plainly visible in the bottom of the window shutters and the Advertisements will be inserted at the rate of One Dollar per square for the first insertion, and Fifty Cents per square for each subsequent insertion less than three months. A square consists of the space occupied by ten lines of this type, equivalent to one inch. No advertisement counted less than a square.

Liberal contracts will be made with those lightly upon his arm.

Advertisements will be inserted at the rate his brain when, about the middle of the eventing, when they opened on their rusty window sills, when they opened on their rusty hinges yesterday morning for the first time in many years. The kitchen, with the table ware, stove and cooking utensils, and also the room in which Mrs. Crockett slept, were in much better order. In an old shed in the rear of the house stands the dilapidated remains of lightly upon his arm. Mrs. Crockett's private carriage. It was formerly an elegant vehicle, but now it is covered with dust, rubbish and rust, and is ready to fall to pieces from age and decay, not having turned a wheel for years.

Mrs. Crockett was apparently between seven-ty and eighty years of age, and was possessed of a considerable estate, and has numerous relatives living in this city. About six years ago a niece of Mr. Warren's named Laura Virden, at the solicitation of Mrs. Crockett, would come every day and read the Bible an hour or so for her. One day Miss Virden, with the so for her. One day Miss Virden, with the kindest intentions, purchased a bottle of mineral water, presented it to Mrs. Crockett, and proposed to uncork and pour it out when it suited her to drink it, whereupon Mrs. Crockett flew into a passion, accused the girl of attempting to poison her, and immediately assaulted her, and beat her with a poker. Persons from the outside heard the screems and sons from the outside heard the screams, and came to her assistance. As to the cause of her seclusion, it is said that at the wedding of her sisters, about thirty-five or forty years ago, every one who partook of the feast was poisoned, and Mrs. Crockett narrowly escaped death. Since that time she has been gloomy and unsociable. We heard that her kins-people argued in this city partod of the Chinage and rived in this city yesterday from Chicago and other places, and that the deceased will be buried to-day. The gloom of the grave can scarcely be more dreary to her than was the solitude of her earthly abode.—Louisville Commercial.

Buying a Horse.

The genuine Southern man dearly loves a fine horse. No Arab of the desert is so completely enamored of a gallant steed, when he leon, to crown the happiness of his favorite, gets one. But, while we have excellent judges among us, the large majority of men are easily deceived in the merits and demerits of the noble beast. A new light on the subject of horseselection has arisen in the North, the Rev. W. H. Murray. He seems to be as much rapt up on the subject as General Grant, and really to possess an intimate knowledge of the points of a perfect animal. As his Reverence is more celebrated for his muscular Christianity than for pulpit eloquence, we quote confidently from his horse talk, as follows:

Be sure that the horse you purchase has symmetry—viz: is well proportioned throughout.

Never purchase a horse because he has a splendid development of one part of his organization, if he be lacking in any other. Above all, keep well in mind what you are having for and have well in mind what you are buying for, and buy the horse best adapted to the work you will require of him; and when such an animal is yours be content. Never jockey. An occasional exchange may be allowable; but this daily "swapping" of horses advertises a man's incompetency for anything higher. Another caution is this: Never purchase a horse until you have seen him move, and under the same conditions to which he will be exposed in the service you will expect of him. If for a draught, see him draw, back and turn round in both directions; if for the road, see how he handles himself, not merely on level ground, but going up sharp declivities; and, above all, in descending them. In this way you will ascertain the faults or excellencies of both his temper and structure. In these exercises drive him yourself. The reins in a skillful hand, aided by the whip or mouth, can be made to conceal grave defects. Let him move with a loose rein, so that he may take his natural gait and not his artificial; for by so doing, you will detect any mistake of judgment you may have made when looking unsoundness will appear in motion which no inspection of the eye and finger, however close, can ascertain. When you have walked him and jogged him, if he is to serve any other He is gradually recovering from his shaking than mere draught purposes, put him to his and says he intends to lead a better life, for he speed and keep him at it for a sufficient distance to test his breathing capacity; then pull him up; jump from the wagon and look at his

- One who knows tells how pleasant it is to freeze to death in Minnesota. He says the bitter cold does not chill and shake a person as in damper climates. It stealthily creeps within all defences, and nips at the bones without warning. Riding along with busy thoughts, a quiet, pleasurable drowsiness takes possession of the body, and, in mind, the fences grow indistinct, the thoughts wander, weird fancies come trooping about with fantastic forms, the memory fails, and in a confused dream of wife aud home, the soul steps out into oblivion without a pang of regret.

- Precautions against cholera are very numerous at present. Taking all the advice given, we learn that if a man subscribes and pays for his newspaper, eats nothing, drinks no liquors used, has produced upon the health of females, he says:

three times a day, keeps his back-yard clean, pays his taxes, avoids water, drinks brandy, "Scientific investigation has revealed the eats ripe fruit, wears nothing, does not smoke,

A Southern gentleman who was at Greenville, Tenn., a short time since, tells the following: "A countryman came into town last week rect application, whilst the position produces with a bundle of jeans to have a suit of clothes an enfeebling effect upon or curvature of the made for his negro. He saw President Johnson standing on the corner, and said: "Well, frequently a displacement of the delicate inter- Andy, you used to be the best tailor in these nal organs of the female structure. We would, parts, and I wish you'd cut out this suit of therefore, advise ladies, until something better clothes for my boy Jim, here." "All right," than foot power is discovered, to run their says andy, and they stepped into a shop near

> Noah planted the vine, Satan attended and sacrificed a sheep, a lion, an ape and a hog. These animals were to symbolize the gradation

- An ignorant old lady was asked by a min-

All Sorts of Paragraphs. - Sweetening one's coffee is generally the first stirring event of the day.

— An exchange says the best way for a lady to get the fashionable "tangle" on her hair is to fill it full of corn-meal and set a lot of spring chickens to scratching the meal out.

- It is stated at the internal revenue bureau, by one who is conversant with the matter, that a determined effort will be made at the next session of Congress to secure the passage of a law providing for the refund of cotton tax paid into the treasury.

— A correspondent of the Country Gentleman has discovered that, as a law of nature, every spotted dog has the end of his tail white, and every spotted cat the end of the tail black. He says he has examined many dogs and cats in France, England and America, and always noticed the same result.

- If geranium branches, taken from luxuriant and healthy trees just before the winter sets in, be cut as for slips and immersed in soap-water they will, after drooping for a few days, shed their leaves, put forth fresh ones and continue in the finest vigor all the winter.

- The Masonic fraternity have under way at least $4,000,000 worth of new halls, most of which will be completed this year. The one in Philadelphia is the most magnificent structure of the kind in the country, and when furnished and entirely completed will be worth at least one million of dollars.

- An old negro woman in Georgia gives her views on making cotton: "De way dey use to make cotton in my day was wid a plenty o' hick'ry. Dey didn't need no juanner den. An if you will des gib me a few niggers and a good hick'ry now, I kin make any of dis land about here fetch good cotton dat will beat any of yer juanner."

— A lady was stopping with her little son at a Chicago hotel, and he was fretful at the dinner table until she became exasperated and said to him in an undertone: "Come with me up stairs and I will attend to your case." Pulling back, he blubbered out, in a voice loud enough to be heard over most of the well-filled dining room: "Say, Mother, are you going to take your hand or your slipper?"

- The statistics of the Connecticut Insane Hospital, at Middletown, furnishes many interesting facts concerning the causes and cure for various types of mental aberation. Of the causes of insanity, ill health is more potent than any other; intemperance comes next, re-ligious excitement next. Men patients are more easily cured than women, and out of twenty-two patients sent to the hospital for in-sanity resulting from the affections, four were men and eighteen were women.

- One of the best ways to test a spider's ability to get himself out of a scrape, is to fill an ordinary wash-bowl with water, take a stick and place it in the centre of the bowl, and reaching some distance above the water, put a spider on the top of the stick. The in-sect will get himself away from his isolated quarters in less than ten minutes, if undisturbed, and he won't wet his feet in the transit. Try and see how it's done.

 A three-rail passenger road has been con-structed from the base to the summit of the Rigi, one of the highest mountains in Switzerand, by which cars by steam power are taken up and down several times every day. This road is not by a zigzag course, but as direct as most railroads are on the level, and is a most wonderful piece of engineering. The trips, it is said, are made with great regularity, with many hundred passengers every day during the summer season.

D. C. Cunningham. L. L. Gaillard.

ANDERSON

AND SALE

STABLES

BY

CUNNINGHAM & GAILLARD.

July 31, 1873

GEO. W. WILLIAMS, WILLIAM BIRNIR, JOS. E. EOBERTSON.

JAMES BRIDGE, Jr., FRANK E. TAYLOR, BOB'T. S. CATHCART.

FACTORS

COMMISSION MERCHANTS, Charleston, S. C., AND

WILLIAMS, BIRNIE & CO., Commission Merchants, 65 Beaver Street and 20 Exchange Place,

NEW YORK. TO Liberal Advances made on Cotton and Produce shipped to us at either point.
July 10, 1873 · 1

Dr. January and Cancer!

THE celebrity of the JANUARY INFIRMARY, established in Murphreesboro, Tenn., in 1848, associated the above name with the treatment of Cancer until they became synony-mous, both passed away with the war. But great discoveries, like truths, live forever. Dr. J. O. January, inheriting his father's talents, J. O. JANUARY, inheriting his father's talents, and improving on his experience, has achieved a success in advance of their former history, owing to his increased patronage he has permanently located in St. Louis; the numerous letters he is receiving, and large arrival of patients, justify his move to this central point. We would advise all afflicted with Cancer, Scrofula Fistula Piles dia to apply to him

Scrofula, Fistula, Piles, &c., to apply to him, as he possesses perfect control of those diseases, without pain or the knife. Address,

JANUARY & MADISON,

715 Chestnut St., St. Louis, Mo.
July 10, 1873

White & Featherston, DEALERS IN MARBLE,

HAVE ALWAYS ON HAND A GOOD

TOMB STONES, And are prepared at all times to make them to order in the BEST OF STYLE. MARBLE YARD UNDER TOLLY'S FURNITURE STORE,

Anderson, S. C. August 14, 1873

IN PRICES

AT THE

ANDERSON EMPORIUM

FASHION,

Waverly Hotel Building.

Calicoes from 10 to 12½c. Grenadine, 15 to 60. Piques, 25 to 40.

AND ALL OTHER

Dress Linens, 25 to 40,

Dress Goods proportionally Cheap.

This is no Humbug! We mean what we Say!

CALL and examine our Goods and Prices, and you will be convinced that you can save at least 25 per cent. by purchasing your Goods

Our stock in Dress. Goods is well assorted from the cheapest to the finest fabrics, and our stock in all its branches will be replenished from time to time with everything new and desirable.

As it is not always convenient to pay cash for goods, we propose to charge goods to prompt paying customers at cash prices, to be paid for in the fall.

TO ARRIVE.

In a few days we will receive still another invoice of Ladies' and Misses' HATS and MILLINERY GOODS, of the very latest styles; and those who have not yet bought would do well to examine our stock before

C. A. REED & CO.

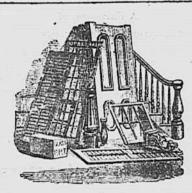

GEO. S. HACKER

Door, Sash and Blind Factory, Charleston, S. C.

THIS is as LARGE and COMPLETE Factory as there is in the South. All work manufactured at the Factory in this city. The only flouse owned and managed by a Carolinian in this city. Send for price list. Address GEO. S. HACKER,

Post Office Box 170, Charleston, S. C.
Factory and Warerooms on King street, opposite Cannon street, on the line of City Railway.

DOORS. SASH and BLINDS,

MOULDINGS, BRACKETS, STAIR FIXTURES, Builders' Furnishing Hardware, Drain Pipe, Floor Tiles, Wire Guards, Terra Cotta Ware, Marble and Slate Mantle Picces.

WINDOW GLASS A SPECIALITY.

Circulars and Price List sent free on application by White Pine Lumber for Sale.

P. P. TOALE, 20 Hayne and 33 Pinckney Sts., Charleston, S. C. Oct 3, 1872

NEW FIRM.

NEW BUSINESS! For Anderson, though she has long since merited it-yea, more.

THE undersigned have this day entered into partnership in the name of WATSON & SON, for the express purpose of conducting a General Commission Business. We tender our sincere thanks to our friends and a generous public for liberal patronage the past seventeen years, and we do hope to act in such a way, in this our new business, as to merit a continuance of the same. Liberal advancements made on everything

Office with Lewis & Co., No. 9 Granite Row. Anderson, S. C. JOHN B. WATSON, L. REED WATSON.

March 4, 1873

This Cut entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1873, by I. H. HALL & Co., in the office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington.
June 26, 1873
1y

After 30 Years of trial has proved to be the best healing and pain subdu-ing Liniment in the World.

It is recommended with unbounded assurance in all cases of Cubs, Bruises, Burns, Sprains, Rheumatism, Hard Swelling, Bites, Chilblains, Stiffness of the Joints, Prozen Feet, Pars, &c., &c., among all persons, and for Sprains, Founders, Ringbone, Poll-Evil, Scratches, Wind-Galls, Hoof-ale, Spavins, Springhalt, Saddle, Collar and Harness Galls; also diseases of the Eye and Ear in Horses, Mules or Cattle.

THE TATAL THE TANK THE

WILL ALSO Sure 'Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Lame Back, Salt Rheum, Poisonous Bites, External Lone and Muscle Affections, Sore Nipples, &c., and may be justly termed the panacea for all

EXTERNAL WOUNDS Remember, this Liniment did not spring up in a day or a year, producing the most absued and unnatural curse claimed by Kew-Born and Mushroom Liminents. But we have the experience of over thirty years of trial, with the most substantial results, and by a multitude of

If the Liniment is not as recommended, the Money will be Refunded

Do not be imposed upon by using any other Liniment claiming the same properties or results. They are a cheat and a fraud. Be sure and get nothing but

BY SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS AND COUNTRY STORES AT 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per Bettle. NOTICE SIZE OF BOTTLE, STYLE, &C. LYON MFG. CO

HAGAN'S

Magnolia Balm

Pure Blooming Complexion. It is Purely Vegetable, and its operation is seen as a felt at once. It does away with the Flushed Ario are once caused by Heat, Fatigue, and Excitement. Heals and removes all Blotches and Fimples, dispelling dark and unsightly spots. Drives away Tan, Freckles, and Sunburn, and by its gentle but powerful influence mantles the faded cheek with

A FEW APPLICATIONS MAKE A

Sold by all Druggist and Fancy Stores. Depot 53 Park Place, New York. OORE'S SOUTHERN BUSINESS UNIVERSITY, ATLANTA, GA. Established 15 years. A Standard Institution. The Largest, Cheapest, and Best Practical Business School in the South. "One of the best Business

. YOUTHFUL BLOOM AND BEAUTY.

Schools in the Country." [Christian Index. For Terms, &c., address B. F. MOORE, A. M., Pres. June 19, 1873 50

GOLDSMITH & KIND,

FOUNDERS & MACHINISTS, (PRIENTX IRON WORKS,) COLUMBIA, S. C., ANUFACTURERS of Steam Engines, of all sizes; Horse Powers, Circular and Muley

Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Grist and Sugar Cane Mills, Ornamental House and Store Fronts, Cast Iron Railings of every sort, including graveyards, residences, &c. Agricultural Implements, Brass and Iron Castings of all kinds made to order en short notice, and on the most reasonable terms. Also, manufacturers of Cotton Presses, &c. May 18, 1871 -16