

2000 Intelligence

For the Anderson Intelligencer.

Truth is of the most important nature to all rational beings, it forms the source of our knowledge, the foundation of all social intercourse, the ground of our present comfort and future prospects, the basis of all the views we can take of the human character and operations, and of all our prospects of future improvement in the eternal world. It is the bond of union among all the inhabitants of heaven; it is the chain which connects the whole moral universe, and it constitutes the immutable basis on which rests the throne of the Eternal Truth. It is violated in a thousand different ways. It is violated in thoughts, in words, in conversation, in oral discourses, by gestures, by signs, by speaking, and by remaining silent. It is violated in reference to the character of our neighbor when we invent tales of falsehood respecting him; when we listen with pleasure to such tales when told by others; when we sit mute, and refuse to vindicate his character when it is unjustly aspersed. It is violated in promises—when we promise, either what we have no intention of performing, or what we have no right to promise, or what would be unlawful for us to execute. It is violated in threatening, when we neglect to put them in execution. It is violated in history, when the principal facts are blended with doubtful or fictitious circumstances. It is violated by men of science, when they give an inaccurate statement of the results of their observations and experiments. It is violated by persons in every department of life, not only when they utter what they know to be false, but when they profess to declare the whole truth, and keep back much of it with an intention to deceive, or when they make a proposition that is literally true, in order to convey a falsehood. Truth is violated in relation to God, when we conceal from those whom we are bound to instruct, the grandeur and majesty of His works, and the displays of divine intelligence and skill which are exhibited in his visible operations. Ever since that moment when "the father of lies" deceived the first human pair, how many thousands of liars have trodden in his footsteps, and what a host of falsehoods have followed in their train, which have destroyed the harmony of the moral system, and robbed the world of happiness and repose!

Of how much importance it is, then, that an inviolable attachment to truth, in its minutest ramifications, be early impressed upon the minds of the young, by persuasion by precept, by example, and by a vivid representation of its importance, and of its inestimable benefits, and how careful should we be to preserve them from all incentives to the practice of lying, and especially from the company of those "whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood!"

Were falsehood universally detested, and the love of truth universally cherished; were a single falsehood never more to be uttered by any inhabitant of this globe, what a mighty change would be effected in the condition of mankind, and what a glorious radiance would be diffused over all the movements of the intelligent system! The whole host of liars, slanderers, tale-bearers, false friends, and hypocrites, with the countless multitude of frauds, impositions, falsehoods and distresses which have followed in their train, would instantly disappear from among men. The beams of truth penetrating through the mists of ignorance, error and perplexity produced by sceptics and deceivers, which have so long enveloped the human mind, would diffuse a lustre and a cheerfulness on the face of the moral world—like the mild radiance of the morning after a dark and tempestuous night. On such a world of complacency, and his providential care would be exercised in averting those physical evils which now increase the world wretchedness of mankind. His eye would be continually on them for good, and his ear would be ever open to their requests. Then that glorious scene presented to the view of the Apostle John would be fully realized—"Behold the Tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them; and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes, and there shall be no more sorrow, neither sorrow nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; for the former things have passed away." To such a world celestial messengers would rejoice to wing their downward flight on messages of love. Their visits, which have been "few and far between," and which have been long interrupted by the malevolence of men, would be again resumed; and those "morning stars" that shone for joy when this fair creation arose into existence, would be filled with noticeable delight when they behold moral order restored, and the smiles of universal love irradiating the inhabitants of our globe, and would shout before "Glory be to God in the highest, peace on earth, and good-will to men."

Divine truth irradiating every mind, and accompanied with the emanations of heavenly love, would dispel the gloom which now hangs over many a sincere and pious mind; would unite man to man, and man to God; and the "inhabitants of this world, freed from every doubt, error and perplexity, would move forward in harmony and peace, and the general assembly of the spirits of just men made perfect, whose names are written in heaven.

Live at Home. Correct principles of political economy demand a diversity of labor and industries, in order that a people be prosperous. Practically, the Southern people have never only recently learned this fact. A change of food is not only palatable, but absolutely necessary to health and strength to the bodies of animals and to the minds and bodies of men. Simple bread and meat may be palatable for a short time; but after a time this ceases to exist, and the most nutritive food fails to support the body as it should do. It will kill a horse in a short time, to feed him upon corn and nothing else. He will lose his appetite for corn, and eat up the logs or planks of his stable in preference to it. What is true in physiology, is true in political economy. No people can become great and powerful, who engage in nothing but agricultural pursuits. Much less can a people become great who engage in producing nothing but corn and cotton. In the South, and especially in the upper sections of the State of South Carolina, nature has been lavish with her gifts. In this section of the country, almost everything that grows in the edges of a tropical climate flourishes; and it is an inviting field for the manufacturer.

Now, what we mean by living at home, is not that every body must live on corn bread and bacon for breakfast, and bacon and corn bread for dinner, and back to corn bread and bacon for supper. This is a kind of living that is by no means palatable, and it is exceedingly extravagant. Our country is admirably adapted to the growth of the finest fruits. Every farmer in York county can, with little labor and with less expense, produce fruits of the most luscious varieties to supply his family for nine or ten months in the year. In fact, every family might have fruit—green fruit, not dried fruit—the whole year. Apples can easily be kept in our country until strawberries come. Were this done, we would be not only a healthier and wealthier people, but a better people morally.

What connection there is between what a man eats and the development of his moral nature, we do not propose, at this time, to show; but sure it is, there is a connection. Bad whisky seems to put the devil in a man. No man will ever be a man of God who is when drunk on good wine. Bread and meat are good things in their place. No man can ever be a truly great and good man, who fills his stomach with nothing but coarse bread and fried meat. Such a man will be coarse in body and coarse in mind and manners.

Annually, there are shipped to our country, thousands of dollars worth of what are called luxuries. They are not, however, luxuries. Peaches and Apples ought not to be regarded in this class as luxuries. We might raise all these things, or most of them, and save the money that is spent in purchasing them. In the South, we might live more comfortable than we do, and yet buy less. It really looks like folly in us to send North for peach scions and watermelon seed. Nobody would think a man sane who would send to South Carolina for orange scions to plant in Florida.

Within the last five years not less than thirty thousand dollars worth of peach and apple scions have been brought into the State of South Carolina. York county alone, for several years has bought, annually, more than two thousand dollars worth of fruit trees. Why, in the name of common sense, does not some man in York county start a nursery and assist our people in living at home? There would be money made by the owner of such a nursery, and the money spent by his neighbors, in purchasing trees, would be kept in the county. We have no means of accurately estimating the amount of money spent every spring, in purchasing seed Irish potatoes. Not less, however, than two thousand dollars. This is wonderful. Why does not some man plant a big potato patch? Let our farmers think of these things.—Yorkville Enquirer.

NEARLY all diseases originate from Indigestion and Torpidity of the Liver, and relief is always anxiously sought after. If the Liver is regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Want of action in the Liver causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Chills, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, bilious attacks, palpitation of the heart, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms, for which SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered. It acts mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantities that it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; it has been used for 40 years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will vouch for its being the purest and best.

It is harmless, it is a daily drastic, violent medicine, is sure to cure if taken regularly, is no intoxicating beverage, it is a faultless family medicine, is the cheapest medicine in the world, is given with safety and the happiest results to the most delicate infant, does not interfere with business, does not disarrange the system, takes the place of Quinine and Bitters of every kind, contains the simplest and best remedies. BAD BLOOD.

"A corrupt tree" saith the Inspired Volume, "bringeth forth not good fruit." nor can corrupt blood impart health, beauty and good flesh or spirits. "The Blood is the Life," and health can only be enjoyed in its full perfection where the blood is kept in a pure and uncorrupted state, hence the necessity of pure blood, to give health, beauty, buoyant spirits, long life and happiness. AN IMPURE CONDITION OF THE BLOOD, manifests itself in different forms of diseases, such as Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald-Head, Ring-Worms, Pimples, Blisters, Spots, Eruptions, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Rough Skin, Sores, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Fever Sores, White Swellings, Tumors, Old Sores or Swellings, Syphilitic Affections of the Skin, Throat and Bones, Ulcers of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs and Uterus. In this condition of things something is needed at once to cleanse the blood, and neutralize the insidious poison that— BURNS LIKE A TERRIBLE FIRE. As it courses through the veins, sowing seeds of death with every pulsation. Dr. Pemberton's Compound Extract of Sillington, (or Queen's Delight) will positively effect this desideratum, expelling every trace of disease from the blood and system, and leaving the skin— SOFT, FAIR and BEAUTIFUL.

For all diseases of the BLOOD, LIVER and KIDNEYS, this Great Vegetable Alternative is without a rival. It will cure any Chronic or Long Standing Disease, whose real or direct cause is Bad Blood. Rheumatism, Pains in Limbs or Bones, Constitutions Broken Down by Mercurial or other poisons, are all cured by it. For Syphilis, or Syphilitic Taint, there is nothing equal to it. A trial will prove it. It is a most useful Spring and Fall Purifier of the Blood. Its safety and innocence have been fully tested, so that it may be administered to the most tender infant. Beware of counterfeits and substitutes. Try the Genuine Extract QUEEN'S DELIGHT, prepared by Dr. J. S. PEMBERTON, Atlanta, Ga.

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint. PREPARED BY BETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston, Mass. And sold by Druggists and Dealers generally.
