A note to the Charleston News and Courier from Dr. J. H. J. Sams, of Knoxville, Tenessee, establishes beyond a doubt the fact that Marcus Johnson, the colored man who created such excitement in Williamston a few weeks ago by pretending to suddenly gain the power to hear and to speak, having hitherto been both deaf and dumb, is a fraud. Dr. Sams says: "No such person as Marcus, nor any other colored mute, was ever in any way connected with our school,

A Case of Poisoning, Probably.

either as an employee or pupil. 'Marcus' is evidently a humbug."

Colored people who came from the Mt. Sinai camp meeting on Monday report that a colored man died near that place on Sunday night or early Monday morning from eating a watermelon, which he bought of a colored man who had melons for sale on the grounds during Sunday. It is supposed that the melon had either been impregnated with poison or that it was sickly and produced cholers. The theory of the poisoning is most probably true, however, as the symptoms were those generally produced by arsenic. Whether the poison was put into the meion with the intention of taking the life of this particular person, or had been stolen from a patch, the owner of which had prepared for melon thieves, is not known. A colored woman who ate a portion of the melon was also made quite sick, but recovered.

Sunday School Celebration.

The Sunday School at Walters' Church celebrated its anniversary on last Sabbath morning, and can boast of the distinction of having met on every Sabbath during the year. Addresses were made by Messrs. G. F. Telly and E. B. Murray, after which the following resolutions were adopted:

the following resolutions were adopted:

are hereby most cheerfully tendered, to Messrs. G. F. Tolly and E. B. Murray for the very able and appropriate addresses which they have delivered to us on this our first anniversary as a Sabbath School.

Resolved, That the Anderson Intelligences be requested to publish these resolutions.

The superintendent, Col. W. E. Walters, then delivered an excellent address, after which the school was dismissed. This is really a live and enthusiastic school, and though small in numbers is doing a good

The Fire at Pendleton.

The store room occupied by Messrs. G. G. Richards & Co. in Pendleton was consumed by fire on the night of the 1st inst., and the stock of goods almost entirely lost. The work was that of an incendiary, who had perhaps robbed the store and then burnt it to conceal his crime. During the fire both white and colored people worked with the uttermost energy and skill to prevent the spreading of the flames, which they were able to accomplish in consequence of the heavy rains which had been falling. The building was owned by Dr. J. H. Maxwell and valued at $2,000. It was uninsured. The stock of Messrs. G. G. Richards & Co., which was valued at $2,500 was only insured for $1,000, so that the total loss by the fire was about $3,500. There is no clue to the perpetrator of this crime but every effort will be made to ferret it out and bring the guilty parties to justice.

Another Literary Society.

Pursuant to appointment, several young men met in the office of Moore & Allen on Tuesday evening last for the purpose of taking steps towards the organization of a literary society. Mr. Columbus Wardlaw was called to the chair, and Mr. W. D. Bewley requested to act as secretary. After remarks by Messrs. W. W. Keys, H. G. Scudday and A. S. Todd, favoring the oron of the society, a committee was appointed to draft a constitution and bylaws, to be submitted to an adjourned meeting on next Tuesday evening, at which it is hoped there will be a full attendance of the | College. Its reputation is fully established, young men of the town. The question, Have the results of the Civil War been beneficial to the South?" will also be discussed. We sincerely hope that the present efforts of the young men to establish a first class literary society in Anderson will prove successful, as it is much needed, and if properly conducted can be made of very great benefit to our entire community, and especially to our young men.

The Ball and Bat.

A match game of baseball was played at this place on Saturday morning between the Resolutes of Greenville and Hamskins of Anderson, which resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Greenville boys. The score stood as follows: Resolutes - 3 1 1 5 7 3 4 2 1-27 Hamskins-2 2 0 1 0 3 1 2 2-13

It is but fair to the Hamskins to state, however, that they were not in practice, and that their nine was not composed of their best players, as several of them were disabled. It was more of a scrub than picked nine. The game was commenced on Friday afternoon, and had it not been broken up by the rain would doubtless have terminated in favor of the Anderson club. They had only played two innings when they stopped, and the score stood 8 to 0 in favor of the Hamskins, with the Resolutes badly backed. The Greenville boys are well practiced, and play a good game, but their victory this time will not compare with the one of the Hamskins over them some time ago.

They left Anderson Saturday afternoon for Pendleton, and on Monday played a game with the club at that place. The score stood 19 to 18, in favor of the Reso-

The Town Election.

The election on Monday for Intendant and Wardens of the town of Anderson was the most quiet and orderly that has been held since the war, and the number of votes cast was decidedly the smallest, being lonly 155, although 234 voters had registered. There was but one ticket in the field, the Democratic ticket, and everybody, white and black, Democrat and Republican, voted it without hardly a word of opposition, there being only 7 votes cast that were not strictly for the nominees. The vote for the nominees stood as follows: FOR INTENDANT:

> .153. G. F. Tolly .....

FOR WARDENS : F. Murrah..... W. S. Ligon ....... J. C. Whitefield.... J. F. Wilson .....

The vote does not by any means show the full strength of the Democracy of Anderson, as many members of the Club did not vote. The fact that there was no opposition ticket in the field made them indifferent about voting. The gentlemen elected compose the present Conneil, who have, during the past two years they have been in office, discharged their duties in a most acceptable manner to our people, and their re-election for another term we regard as st fortunate for the interests of the town. There has not been a Council since the war that can show as good a record, and we are satisfied that they will continue to exercise the good judgment and eminent ability in administration of the affairs of the town

Saluda Association

The Saluda Baptist Association beld its 77th annual session with the Mount Bethel Church last week, beginning its session on Tuesday and closing on Thursday. All the Churches except three were represented. The attendance was large and orderly. The old officers were re-elected by acclamation without a dissenting voice. The reports of the various standing committees were concisely and forcibly drawn, and those on missions and education elicited considerable discussion, disclosing the fact that the Association is in full sympathy and practical co-operation with the great missionary and educational enterprises of the denomination. The financial plan adopted several years ago is working admirably, and a large amount of money was raised and applied to the various charitable and religious works in which the Association is engaged. The plan of operation supersedes the necessity of agents visiting the Churches to raise money, and commits the whole matter to an Executive Board composed of fifteen ministers and laymen, whose duty it is to visit every Church and place before it the work in which the Association is engaged. The Association was largely attended, and a hearty, cordial and hospitable welcome extended by the Church and citizens in the neighborhood to the delegates and visitors.

The Sunday school at Midway in this County will have a celebration and picnic on next Friday, at which addresses will be delivered during the morning by Rev. D. E. Friemon, D. D., and Mr. G. F. Tolly. The neighboring Sabbath schools and the public generally have been invited to attend. Those who are fortunate enough to go, will no doubt spend a most agreeable day.

The continued drought through this section of country during June and the greater part of July was not as disastrous to the crops as was generally apprehended. The wheat crop was a good one, and is now garnered: the oat was better than an average, and it is hoped that corn, although considerable damage in several sections of much injured on the uplands, will amount to a half or two-thirds of a crop. Should the yield of the cotton crop prove what it now promises, we may expect a revival of trade this fall.

The members of the Lodge of Good Samaritans at this place are endeavoring to establish Lodges of their Order in other portions of the County. A leading light, accompanied by one of his brethren, went down into Savannah township last week and urged the colored people of that section to form themselves into a Lodge, and share in the great benefits that accrue to the members of the Order. But we understand they did not meet with a very cordial welcome, and of those who attended the largest number ridiculed rather than endorsed the suggestion. The dignitaries returned home without having accomplished the object of their trip, and have appointed another meeting for the same township.

The meeting of the Anderson Democratic Club on Thursday evening last, held for the purpose of nominating a ticket for Intendant and Wardens of the town, passed off pleasantly. The meeting was held in the Court House, and was called to order by the President, Mr. G. F. Tolly, who stated in a few words the object of the meeting. and declared the chair ready to receive nominations. General Humphreys nominated the entire old Council, consisting of Mr. G. F. Tolly, Intendant, W. S. Ligon, J. C. Whitefield, E. F. Murrah and J. F. Wilson, Wardens; and Capt. John E. Allen nominated the following: J. L. Orr, Intendnomination, and by Capt. Allen in favor of the last, a ballot was had, which resulted as the candidates of the Club. Mr. EDITOR: The two months' drought through which our section of country has just passed is likely to result in serious disaster to all the agricultural interests and indirectly to all the commercial and industrial pursuits of the community. There are, however, many valuable lessons to be learned from this afflictive dispensation of Providence, which it would be well for the people wisely to consider. And, first, in a religious point of view. This disastrous drought should teach the people their entire and absolute dependence upon the blessings of God for the bread necessary for the sustenance of man and beast. Perhaps in no part of our past history, as an agricultural people, was it true that greater pains had been taken in preparation for the approaching crop season than in the present. And from the time of running the first furrow till the last, probably the present crops have been as well worked as ever beforer And yet notwithstanding the clean and thorough preparation and culture, the drought has well nigh rendered useless and unproductive all our labors as husbandmen -we mean in reference to hoed crops and on uplands. Fortunately the wheat and cat crops were a full average, and the corn on bottom lands is usually promising. It is usually conceded that the farmer can not hope for more than a half crop of cotton. which appears in another column. It is In other words, where with ordinary seasons it took two acres to make a bale of cotton it will now take four. After the necessary expenses have been taken out, especial ly that huge guano bill, the farmer's pile will become small by degrees and beautifully less. If, however, the people learn from this disaster the great moral lesson of their entire and absolute dependence upon an all-wise and beneficent Creator for the bread of life, then may it indeed prove a great blessing. There is a species of infidelity throughout the land-aye, even in the Church-that the seasons are all ordered and controlled by certain fixed laws of nature, and that it would be absurd to pray God for his blessing upon the labors of the husbandmen by sending the fruitful showers of rain. Hence, we claim for ourselves entire immunity from the controlling power of God in the production of crops by reason of the fruitful showers. Such is not the faith of the gospel. And again, there are some valuable material and practical lessons which we should learn from this disastrous drought in the direction of our husbandry, which may prove an incalculable blessing to the farmer in the long run. The first important lesson that we should learn is, that we should depend less and less upon hoed and summer crops for successful agriculture, and more and more upon small grains and grasses. These are for the most part winter and spring crops,

made and gathered by the time the summer

been well set will produce one good cutting, bills, and curtail the expenses of labor fully

Then, again, we should learn the great value of bottom lands for the production of corn. On our thin hill sides it is scarcely worth while to plant corn at all, unless the land is subsoiled and highly manured. Conference of his Church, which convened Our wet bottom lands, without drainage, become the prolific source of fever of various kinds; with proper drainage they are invaluable for the production of corn and grasses. How important then that all these pestilential swamps should be turned into fruitful and productive fields. And, lastly, our farmers should provide in ample time, for the hard times approaching, by the sowing of barley, rye, oats and clover for winter pastures and early spring use. Let the turnip crop receive the most careful attention. Let none, renter or landlord, omit, through carelessness or laziness, this important fall crop. Do not forget the poor to be found all around you. Aid them to get speak on the occasion: Hon. B. F. Crayton, bread for themselves and families in every possible way, and especially by giving them remunerative employment. One of the worthiest and most charitable citizens that I ever knew made it a point always, when the poor came for bread, to give them employment by which they might earn their bread. This is true charity. Thus, in many ways, we may aid each other to bridge over the great destitution that will be sure to follow the present extraordinary drought. T. H. R.

TO GIN OWNERS

COTTON PLANTERS.

YOU are respectfully invited to call on us and examine the samples now on hand of the celebrated Daniel Pratt Gin Co.'s Gin, Condenser and Feeder, which are far superior in points of durability and excellence to any other Machines now being offered to do the same kind of work. We call your attention to the annexed certificate of Mr. E. B. Rice, of Belton, S. C., who has been using one of our Gins for the past two seasons; and in addition we refer you to the following gentlemen who have our Gins and Condensers in use:

in use:

Messrs. B. A. Davis, Girard & Bolt, J. B.
Sitton, James B. Pruiet, Waddy Burns,
Harris, Drake & Co., C. K. Williford, McGill & Hutchinson, Joshua Jamison, G. G.

Messas. McCully & Taylon, agents Daniel Pratt Gin Co., Anderson, S. C.

Dear Sirs—The 60-Saw Pratt Gin bought from you in the fall of 1877 has been thoroughly tested since that time, and has given entire satisfaction. I have no hesitation in propouncing the sample made by it to be entire satisfaction. I have no hesitation in pronuncing the sample made by it to be superior to that made by any Gin known to me. I have ginned as much as 350 bales of cotton—have had no repairing to do, and the Gin is now in perfect order. Its great improvement consists in its Revolving Head, which prevents cotton roll from breaking, and which completely destroys the friction produced by cotton box, thereby increasing its speed, preventing injury to saws, and the sample from being gin-cut.

GIN MADE

WILLIAMSTON, S. C., June 30, 1879. MESSES BLECKLEY BROWN & Co. Agents.

Gentlemen: The Neblett & Goodrich Cotton Gin bought of you some three or four years ago was, and is, the best Cotton Gin, to my mind, that is sold in this section of country. I have been a cotton producer and buyer of some experience, and can safely testify that the lint from the Neblett & Goodrich Gin, with a corresponding yield, is as fine as that of any other Gin sold in this section, with a decided difference in its favor with respect to its simference in its favor with respect to its simplicity of construction, durability, price and light running features. I ginned six thousand pounds of seed cotton with this Gin in one day with horse-power on a forty-saw Gin. In other words, four five hundred pound bales of cotton. J. W. DACUS.

I fully concur with Mr. Dacus in the above as to the quality of this Gin, and can say that it will do all that is recommended for it.
