Notice to Democratic Clubs. The Democratic Clubs of Anderson County are, by resolution of the Executive Committee, requested to meet on Saturday the 8th day of May, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the County Convention, which meets in Anderson on the 22nd of May, for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Democratic Convention, and for the election of officers for the Democratic party of Anderson County for the ensuing term. These meetings are also requested to discuss the question as to whether the majority or plurality vote in nominating County candidate shall prevail in the next primary election, and to send delegates to the County Convention prepared to act on this question. The meetings are very important, and it is earnestly hoped every member of the Clubs, who can do so, will attend these meetings and unite in sending representative delegates to the coming Convention. The Clubs will meet at the time indicated above at the following places, to-wit: Anderson at Anderson C. H., Belton at Belton, Bowling Green at Bowling Green, Broadaway at Neal's Creek, Brushy Creek at Cedar Wreath School House, Centreville at Centreville Mills, Corner at Moffattsville, Flat Rock at Flat Rock, Fork No. 1 at Farmer's Store, Fork No. 2 at Maj. County Chairman.

E. B. MURRAY,

The Radical County Convention. In obedience to the call of W. R. Parker, County Chairman, the Republicans of this County met in Convention at Anderson on last Saturday for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Republican Convention, which met in Columbia yesterday to elect delegates to the National Convention, which meets in Chicago.

at Williamston.

At about 11 o'clock the delegates, 35 or 40 in number, all colored, gathered at the Greeley Institute, and after they had been pretty generally and thoroughly collogued and juggled with by Parker and Pat Kirkland, assembled in the Institute and was called to order by Parker, who stated that there was a considerable difference of opinion as to where the meeting should be held, whether in the Court House, which had been tendered, or at the place where they were then assembled. He said that he was himself in favor of holding the meeting in the Court House, but as there was a good many of the delegates who were opposed to going to the Court House and thought they should hold forth in the Institute, he would submit the question to the delegates for them to decide, which he did, and which resulted in an almost unanimous vote in favor of the Institute, there being only two delegates voting to go to the Court House. This vote showed very clearly that the report circulated on the public square a few minutes before the delegates gathered at the Institute that the Convention would be held in the Court House, and that the meeting appointed at the Institute was only for the purpose of arranging the details for the Convention, was intended to deceive the white people and keep them from attending the Convention. There was not a single reason given in the Convention for holding the meeting in the Institute, except that some of the delegates were afraid of being worried by the Democrats. After the settlement of this matter, Parker rend the call for the State Convention and also his call for the County Convention, giving the number of delegates each precinct in the County were entitled to, and then stated that the first business was to elect temporary officers, which was accordingly proceeded with. Sam. Johnson was nominated and elected temporary chairman and G. D. Williams temporary secretary. Thomas was chosen in his stead. Johnson, who was found not to be in the house, was was a little tardy about coming in, it gave Lawrence Walker time to put in an objection to elevating Sam. to the chair on the. ground that he would be more valuable to the Convention out of the chair. This brilliant idea seemed to take, and a motion was then made by Henry Kennedy, who was not a member of the Convention, that Parker be made temporary chairman, which was enthusiastically received and adopted.

It was then moved and seconded that a committee of five be appointed on credentials, but before the motion was submitted another motion was made to appoint an assistant secretary. This created some confusion, and one of the learned ones arose "to a pint of order," and submitted that two motions could not be considered at the same time, and that it was the duty of the chair to put the motion appointing the committee of five on credentials first, wherenpon Prof. (?) G. D. Williams, who seems to know more about parliamentary law than even Prof. Mell, arose and stated "for the information of the chair" that according to parliamentary law the last motion made before a body should always be the first considered. This seemed to please Parker, who nodded approval to what Williams had said, and proceeded in accordance with his decision. Henry Harrison was then elected assistant temporary secretary, after which the motion to appoint the committee on credentials was adopted, and the foilowing constituted the committee, viz. : Anthony Webb, W. R. Redmond, Mose Lee, Davis Williams and James McDowell. On motion of Sam Johnson, the chairman of the committee was then called up by Parker and examined as to whether he was a delegate or not, after which the committee retired to make up their report.

During the absence of the committee, San Johnson and Parker were colloguing nearly the entire time, and seemed intent on some matter of vital importance. After an absence of about half an hour, the committee returned and reported thirty-five delegates present, all of the precincts in the County being represented except Honea Path, Williamston, Sandy Springs, Craytonville and the Corner. Parker here again raised the question of going to the Court House, and said that if the colored people got afraid to hold their County Convention in the Court House they would get afraid to go to the polls and vote. Considerable confusion here prevailed, and jawing was here indulged in pretty generally, but very few expressions could be caught. It was evident, however, that they did not intend to rescind their former vote, and after the lapse of a few minutes order was restored, and the report of the committee was received and adopted. The temporary officers were then made the permanent officers of the Convention and Parker, with characteristic pomposity, announced the Convention duly organized and ready for business. Sam Johnson then moved to elect John mittee of five be appointed to nominate the remaining three delegates, when Parker remarked: "As God moves in a mysterious way, I put the motion, but I cannot see why one delegate should be elected one way and the other three another." This witty remark brought down the house, and after everybody had laughed until they were satisfied the motion was submitted and carried by a large majority, but it "appeared" to Parker that the "Nos" had it, and he so decided. A delegate by the name of Fisher then nominated Parker as a delegate, who was unanimously elected. Jere Cherry from the Fork nominated Sam Johnson and Cape Skelton nominated Pat Kirkland, of Spartanburg, both of whom were elected. This completed the delegation, with which everybody seemed perfectly satisfied, and after the election of Mose Lee and Henry Kennedy as alternates, a motion was made to adourn, but, as Sam Johnson objected to it, Parker did not submit it to a vote.

R. Cochran the first delegate to the State on, which was unanimously adopted. Lawrence Walker moved that a com- The guano "boom" has about subsided. | made.

A petition to the President for the appointment of Col. Cochran as United States Marshal for the District of South Carolina was read to the Convention, when it was decided hat it should be signed by the delegates and forwarded to Washington. The petition delared that Col. Cochran was a staunch Republican, that he had done more to reform the Republican party in South Carolina than any other man in the State, that his record as a legislator during the six years he represented Anderson County in the General Assembly of South Carolina would compare most favorably with that of any Senator or Representative in the State before or since the war, and that his appointment as Marshal would give universal satisfaction to the citizens of the entire State, regardless of political opinions, Sam Johnson then introduced a resolution highly complimentary of Senator Hampton, and pledging the Republicans of Anderson County to support him for whatever office he may offer for in the future. Sam denomiated his resolution "Peace and Harmony," but instead of promoting peace and harmony it created confusion and aroused the ire of a few of the most faithful, among whom was Parker, who declared that he could not ndorse the resolution and would not abide by it if it was adopted. This remark seemed to satisfy Johnson, who declared that whatever Parker said was law with Anderson Radicals, and that he would withdraw the resolution. We endeavored to secure the resolution for publication, but were informed by one of the secretaries that it was taken from his desk by some one, he did not know whom. The request was made in the presence of Parker and a number of others, and we discovered at the time that Parker especially did not want the resolution printed, which, no doubt, fully explains its mysterious and unaccountable disappearance. But Johnson was bent on having a resolution of some kind passed, and after his "Peace and Harmony" resolution was withdrawn, offered another, which provided for the appointment of three persons, who, with the County Chairman, were to constitute a board of counsel for the Republican party of this County. But this resolution met with no better reception than the other. and so displeased Parker that he declared that if it was adopted he would at once resign. He did not believe in forming cliques, and that was what the resolution proposed to do. It would take from him his power as County Chairman, and would render ineffective any efforts he might make to carry the party successfully through the coming campaign. Sam then took the floor, and was beginning to score it to Pasker pretty severely, when Willis Redmond moved to adjourn. The motion was seconded, and mously adopted. This, of course, put a stop to Sam's speech, and seemed to give Parker a great deal of pleasure. The Convention was accordingly declared adjourned, and the delegates, after talking among themselves for some time, dispersed. Hones Path. The Methodist Sunday School will have

An effort will then be made to organize a Good Templars Lodge, which, no doubt, will meet with cordial support. With no barroom and a Temperance Lodge, Williams declined the election, and Jehu | Honea Path will be particularly dryA number of our citizens, both married and single, made a fishing party on last Saturloudly and repeatedly called for, but as the day, and spent the day on Broadmouth Creek catching the finny tribe, &c. The amount of fertilizers sold here this season proves conclusively that it is located for a large trade, and all that is necessary to bring the trade here is for the merchants to sell as cheap as other markets, and we believe they will do this as soon as the frieghts to this place are put on an equal footing with other markets ... MR. EDITOR: On Tuesday, 20th inst., we had the pleasure of assisting in celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of Col. T. J. and Mrs. Pickens' wedding. There were some thirty-five or forty persons present, consisting of children, grand-children, old neighbors and friends.

Parker, the Republican County Chairman, says that the Republicans of this County are solidly in favor of Grant as the nominee of their party for President. This is owing no doubt to the fact that both Parker and ex-Senator Cochran are Grant men, who, it is well known, exercises supreme control over their deluded followers in this County.
