He expressed the opinion that if Garfield should be electthe opinion that it Garneld should be elected, our people will never see another Presidential election, but that the country will drift rapidly into some consolidated power at Washington. He complimented Garfield's ability, but said he is totally unreliable, and that his election would forebode ble, and that his election would forebode the greatest misfortune to our government. Col. Aiken then arraigned the Northern Democrats for insincerity and rejudice to-wards the South. He said that the North only allowed the South a very small pro-portion of the appropriations for rivers and only allowed the South a very small proportion of the appropriations for rivers and harbors, and that they had repeatedly refused to restore the soldiers of the Mexican war living in the South to the pension lists. He arraigned them for maintaining a high tariff, and said that the better class of people in the North were generally Republicans. That they had the brains, the money and the culture of the North, and were more congenial to his tastes than the Democrats. He was unwilling for the South, crats. He was unwilling for the South which composes the greater portion of the Democratic party, to be controlled and ignored by the minority. Col. Aiken claimed that the elections in the Northern cities are controlled largely by the use of money and by the exercise of the money power, and thought this the greatest trouble the Democrats will encounter in carrying the Presidential election. He said that the host of office-holders in the United States exercise great influence, all of which will be given to Garfield in order to retain their own positions. He thought the contest in which composes the greater portion of the be given to Garfield in order to retain their own positions. He thought the contest in Indiana a very important one to the Democrats, for if we carry that State in October we will be very apt to carry the Presidential election, but if we lose India a then we have very little prospect of sc.ess. Col. Aiken closed his speech by s ying that if there is a Democrat in South Carolina he is one from head to foot.

Maj. Merret then called for addresses from the candidates for the Legislature, and in-he candidates for the Legislature, and introduced the following gentlemen:

Col. E. M. Rucker, who spoke upon the subject of the relation of the State govern-ments to the National Government, contending that the right of local self-govern-ment should not be turned over to the genment should not be turned over to the general government, because it is too far removed from the control of the people. The government at Washington was not as easily held responsible as that at Columbia, and therefore it is for the interest of the people of the whole country to retain their separate State governments. For this purpose he felt that the success of the National Democratic party was all invoctant and pose he felt that the success of the National Democratic party was all important and necessary to the well-being of the South as well as every other section of the Union. He could not, therefore, agree with the dis-tinguished gentleman who had preceded him in reference to the Northern Demo-crats. He had just returned from the Concrats. He had just returned from the Congressional Nominating Convention, where Col. Aiken was nominated upon a platform expressing adhesion to the National Democratic party, and he, for one, was hearty in support of its principles.

The Republican party had, by degrees, been destroying the rights of the States and familiarizing the people with fraud, force and corruption until the climax has been reached and the people are called upon to decide between the free institutions of a Republic and the authority of centralization. He, therefore, regarded the success of the National Democratic party as of the greatest consequence, and therefore he disagreed entirely with the position of our distinguished representative in Congress. There is not any other alliance for the South than with the National Democratic party. The Republicans have brought us to the condition we are now in, and have never shown any disposition to help us out, never shown any disposition to help us out, while the Northern Democra's have done all for us that the circumstance permitted sently been in possession of the National Congress. Before that time we received nothing from the Republicans. Since then the Democrats have done something for our rivers and harbors, though not as much as we wanted. Death of Capt. Joseph Y. Fretwell.

The many friends of this most estimable gentleman will regret to learn of his death, which occurred in the seventy-ninth year of his age at his residence three miles west of Anderson on last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, from an attack resembling paral-

He possessed a limited education, but had a remarkable On last Saturday afternoon the citizens of Townville and vicinity, who had attended the Grange meeting during the morning, reassembled for the purpose of hearing some political speeches. Maj. George W. Merrit, President of Fork Democratic Club, No. 2 presided, and introduced as the first and principal speaker for the afternoon Hon. D. Wyatt Aiken, the nominee of the Democratic party of the Third District for Congress. Col. Aiken spoke almost entirely upon national politics. He gave his reasons for preferring Hancock to Garfield for President, and arraigned the Republican nominee for the lack of moral courage and an arraigned the Republican nominee for the lack of moral courage and an arraigned the Republican nominee for the lack of moral courage and an arraigned the restaurance of the cause of good government, he never would consent to become a candidate for any office except in the militia, where he was a Captain for many years of a fine Company, and made a most excellent officer. He was a strong character in every way. No man was ever esteemed higher for honor and unquestioned integrity in all of his acts. There was no better neighbor or more benevolent citizen. He was most tender and affectionate in his domestic relations, and thoroughly true and the procession and play at the meeting of the cause of good the procession and play at the meeting the procession and play at the meeting of th domestic relations, and thoroughly true and faithful as a friend. In his death our community has lost a good man, and his memory will ever be respected by those who knew him.

His remains were placed to rest on Sunday afternoon in the Baptist Church Cemetery, after appropriate funeral services conducted by Rev. T. P. Bell.

The New Schedule. at Seneca City both in the morning and at Seneca city both in the morning and evening, and also with the passenger trains on the main line of the G. & C. R. R. at Belton. By reference to the corrected schedules in this issue full particulars as to the arrival and departure of the train at all points on the Road can be seen, by which it will also be noticed that we are highly forced with an extra train from Ralten to favored with an extra train from Belton to this place every day, which is one of the best features of the whole change. Hereto-fore the extra train was only run every other day, which often made it necessary for persons to go from Anderson to Belton by private conveyance in order to reach Greenville without a great loss of time. The authorities of the Road certainly de-serve great credit for this display of enter-

The Sunday esting and profitable Union Meeting, which commenced on last Friday. The Sunday School meeting on Sunday morning was especially interesting. After reports from the various churches, addresses were delivered by J. W. Poore, of Belton, and J. M. Pickle, Principal of the Williamston Male Academy. Though the house was crowded, the attention was unexceptionable, and I am satisfied that a more pleasant and profitable meeting has not been held in this place in many days. With the "well done, good and faithful servant," spoken in the heart of every goo. DR. C. J. MOFFETT—Dear Sir—I cannot too strongly recommend your Teethina (Teething Powders) to mothers as one of the best medicines they can obtain for their debilitated and sickly infants. I have used it with very satisfactory results the past sum-mer with my own child, and while we have heretofore lost a child or two from teethin under other remedies, our present child that has taken Teethina is a fine healthy boy. Its merit is certain to make it a standard family medicine for this country for the irritations of teething and bowel disorders of children of all ages.

I am, very respectfully, of the Improved Hall Self-Feeding Cotton Gins, Feeder and Condenser. Any party desiring to purchase a Cotton Gin for the coming season will do themselves very great injustice not to call on me before buying. The following are parties who are using the HALL GIN in Anderson and adjoining Counties with perfect success, viz:

A. J. Stringer, Jesse Timms, M. A. Cobb, Dr. W. J. Millford, T. L. Haddon, Knight & Balentine, Wm. D. Sullivan, Rodgers & Duckworth, and R. Y. H. Lowry, Seneca City.

The HALL GIN gives better satisfaction with the Feeder and Condenser attached

The HALL GIN gives better satisfaction with the Feeder and Condenser attached than any Gin manufactured. Be sure and call and see my sample Gin before buying, and read what W. D. Sullivan says:

TUMBLING SHOAIS, S. C.—Hall's S. F. Cotton Gin Co., Sing Sing, N. Y.: I have ginned 25 bales on your Gin, and it works finely. The Feeder is doing right, and the roll runs smoothly and does not break. I will give you the weights of some bales that I have ginned this week, which BEATS ANYTHING THAT I HAVE EVER ACCOMPLISHED. As a general thing our cotton does not gin well until November and December.

The bales of Alax Water.

1237 lbs. Seed Cotton.

3853 lbs Not quite 22 lbs. seed to one of lint, with weight of bagging and ties on bales. One bale for S. D. Glenn, 1163 lbs. seed, one bale 432 lbs. seed cotton. Weighed in and bales weighed out on Fairbanks' scales. Respectfully yours, WM. D. SULLIVAN.

(SIDE VIEW.)

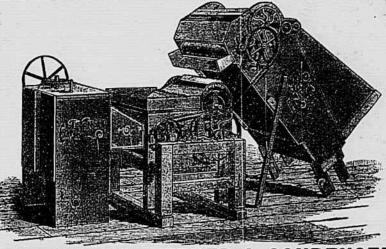

I ever saw. It gins faster, makes a better sample, and, thus far, excels in turning out any Gin ever used in this part of the County.
I have used, during the past years, several of the most improved Cotton Gins, and much prefer Hall's Self-Feeding Gin to any of them. It is a perfect success, and I cheerfully recommend it to any needing a Cotton Gin. Very respect-fully, John Roseman.

of you, has given perfect satisfac-tion. I ginned 100 lbs. seed cotton in 8 minutes by my watch. It cleans the seed better and runs lighter than any Gin I ever saw. To those who want to purchase a Gin, don't fail to buy the Hall Gin.

I have been selling Cotton Gins for the past eight years, and the Hall Self-Feeding Cotton Gin excels all others, and cotton ginned on the Improved Hall Gin will bring a better price than cotton ginned on any other. I am agent for a first-class Portable Engine and Cotton Presses. Call on me before buying.

DANIEL PRATT GIN CO.S

As the ginning season is about to commence, it would be to the interest of all who expect to carry on the Ginning business to be careful in the selection of the best machine. It was our object when we started the Gin business to sell the best Gin made in the United States, and we claim that we have succeeded.

Our PRATT GIN is equal to all, and far superior to many Gins now being offered for sale. We never make a sale without a guarantee of perfect satisfaction, and claim nothing for the Gin that we cannot fully substantiate.

As we are engaged largely in Cotton Ruying, as well as the General Marchandise business.

As we are engaged largely in Cotton Buying, as well as the General Merchandise business, it is to our interest that every Ginner should use the best Gin. We have bought the past season about 4000 bales of Cotton which was ginned on the Pratt Gin, and in every instance it brought the highest prices.
