BRIEF MENTION.

No horse racing at the Fair this year. The gate fee at the Fair will be only 25

Dr. Divver, who has been quite ill lately, is convalescent.

Remember that the stores will be closed on Friday of next week.

Mr. W. D. Brown is having a commo-dious dwelling erected on Hampton street. Mr. George W. Taylor, of Belton, had one of his arms badly torn in his gin on the 1st inst. Mr. R. M. Clinkscales has returned to Anderson to live after an absence of seven or eight years.

Neal's Creek Democratic Club will meet Saturday next at 3 p. m. for the transaction of important business.

Dr. R. F. Divver will exhibit a self-propelling agricultural engine at the Fair next week. It has already arrived.

Mountain Apples are plentiful this year, and are selling on our streets at one dollar per bushel or ten cents a dozen.

Cotton is advancing in price, and the farmers are again bringing it in rapidly. It was selling yesterday at 10 to 10h.

Several of our low-country exchanges state that there was frost in their sections on the 1st instant, but they must be joking about it.

The farmers of Pickens County ought to be happy, as they are prosperous. Their crops this year are better than they have been in any year since the war.

Come to the Fair next week and contribute to the interest of the occasion. It is an enterprise that our farmers and mechanics, and all others, should encourage.

Judge Mackey adjourned Court at noon Tuesday and went over to Greenville in the afternoon to make a political speech that night. He returned on the 11.35 train on Wednesday morning.

Col. James L. Orr has sold his place in town to Mr. M. Kennedy, of Charleston, who will remove to this place at an early day for permanent location. Mr. Kennedy is a contractor and builder.

The glass ball shooting at the Fair on Thursday, and Friday will be quite an in-teresting feature of the occasion, more es-pecially to sportsmen. A number of gen-ilemen have been practicing with the view of entering the contest.

Waddy E. Jones, a seven-year-old son of Mr. W. J. Jones, picked 116 pounds of cot-ton on Wednesday ast. On the same day Effic Freeman, a seven-year-old daughter of Elizabeth Freeman, picked 113 pounds. That was good work for the children.

The Ladics' Store is sustaining its excel-lent and well-earned reputation this season. Miss Lizzie Williams is one of the best business ladies in the State, and knows just how to please everybody that can be pleased. The ladies will always be treated hand-somely by the Ladies Store

The White Sulphur Springs near Cokesbury, in Abbeyille County, is to be im-proved. A 'joint stock company of Abbe-ville gentlemen, with a capital of $30,000, is being organized for the purpose of erecting a commodious hotel at the Springs, which will give the up-country another watering

The ladies of the Baptist Church at Pendieton will have on entertainment in Farm-ers Hall, in that to...n, to morrow, 15th instant, beginning at 12 o'clock and contin-ning into the night, at which refreshments of every kind will be furnished at reasonaces. We have no doubt the occasion ble prices. We have no doubt the occasion will be a pleasant one for all who attend.

Messrs. Cunningham & Co. are one of our most enterprising mercantile firms, and their business this fall is excellent. They our most enterprising mercantile firms, and their business this fall is excellent. They keep a large stock of goods on hand, par-ticularly of bariware, fancy groceries and agricultural implements, which are sold at figures to suit the times. Give them a trial and be convinced of what we say.

the town and wreak vengeance upon them for some imaginary wrong. It took several minutes' hard work to quell the disturbance and restore things to order. In the fracas Williams received a severe blow on the head, and was carried to the callaboose, but was afterwards released on bond to appear for trial. Tilda White, a sister of Williams', also received a severe blow for inter-fering with the police and attempting to frevent the latter's arrest, from the freet of which we understand she has since prevent

It is pretty generally conceded that the crowd in town on last Friday was about the largest ever congregated at this place on any occasion. It was variously estimated at from eight to ten thousand persons, at least two-thirds of whom were colored. They came from every section of the County, and by 6 o'clock the square and streets of the town were crowded with people and vehi-cles to such an extent that it was with diff-culty that a person could get from one part of the main portion of town to the other, except on foot. except on foot. It was evident early in the morning that the day would be an extreme-ly boisterous one, as ardent spirits were be-ing freely imbibed by old and young, big and little, which seemed to develop the fighting qualities to a remarkable degree in even those who ordinarily are quiet and inoffensive while under the influence 'of strong drink. We do not think there ever was as much drunkenness and disorderly onduct in our town in one day before, and although there was a police force of eighteen or twenty on duty, it was simply impossible to preserve order. A large num-ber of arrests of both white and colored persons were made, who were committed to the callaboose, and who have since been dealt with by the Town Council for their several offences.

several offences. The circus arrived at this place at about 3 a. m., and the scene at the Blue Ridge yard, where the exhibition was given, from that time until about 7 p. m., when they left, was indeed a lively onc. By 10 o'clock everything was in readiness for the exhibi-tions of the day, which opened with a street parade, and about the poorest we ever saw. The side show, which are usually first-class frauds, was very good—better than usual frauds, was very good-better than usual-the most attractive features of which were educated animals and an illusionist. The menagery was about as attractive as menageries generally are, but had no animals not usually found in such exhibitions. In the circus proper, there was some good acting, good riding, a tolerably good clown and some splendidly educated dogs, the feats and pranks of which afforded the audience more pleasure than any other one feature of this exhibition. There were about four or five thousand persons under the canvas, about equally divided between the races. Taken all together, the entire performan-ces and exhibitions of the day would compare favorably with those of other circuses that have visited our community. One es-pecially commendable feature of Robinson's Circus is the fact that it is not accompanied by the horde of thieves and gamblers that usually follow circuses for the purpose of robbing and cheating the ignorant out of their hard-earned means.
