We publish a pretty full summary of the proceedings of the Legislature this week, which has been carefully culted and condensed from the reports in our daily ex-changes. We are able only to print such portions of the proceedings as are of general interests to the public.

There were a great many people in town on Monday, and considering it was a "horseback day" business was very good. Several tracts of land were sold at public outcry by the Master, and a small amount of personalty by the Sheriff. Beyond a few arrests by the police, nothing occurred to disturb the usual quiet of the town.

The time for which excursion tickets will be sold to Charleston at the reduced rates has been extended to the 14th instant, good to return on up to the 17th inclusive. This is done for the accommodation of those who desire to attend the annual convocation of the Grand Lodge, A. F. M., which convenes in Charleston on next Tuesday.

According to a St. Louis paper the oleo-margarine makers have reduced the product to such a fine point they put in selected hairs, which gives the artificial butter a consistency and plausibility not otherwise attainable. This is equal to Mark Twain, who always knew when the cook was changed at his boarding house by the color of the hair in the biscuit.

The information of the death of the fol-lowing ladies, all occurring within the past three or four weeks, will be received with sadness by their many relatives and friends in this County: Mrs. Sue Rogers, Charleston; Mrs. Caroline Lewis, wife of John J. Lewis, Pickens; Mrs. Lucy Broyles, wife of C. E. Broyles, Sr., Dalton, Ga.; Mrs. Minnie Belcher Burt, Bossier Parish, Louisiana.

Rev. A. E. Norris, of Johnston's, S. C., formerly of this County, and Miss Julia E. Smith, daughter of Capt. Charles Smith, of Cokesbury, were united in wedlock on the evening of Thursday, December 2, 1880, Rev. J. L. Martin, assisted by Rev. J. W. Humbert, officiating. The happy couple came to Anderson on Friday and spent several days with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Norris, of Varennes.

Dr. S. M. Orr and Mr. E. P. Sloan will ready to move to another point, which is always done at night, they fire a gun. This report is heard by a friend a mile or two away, who repeats the signal. This is answered in turn by others, and by this is answered in turn by others, and by this means their friends and customers for miles along their route are advertised of their coming. If these representations coming. If these representations are correct, the whiskey peddlers have certainly systematized their business most effectually. We have never been able to understand why these violators of the law are not re-ported to the proper officers by the law-abiding citizens who know of their where-abouts, and have them punished. Surely there is nothing more demoralizing, or that is calculated to do greater injury to the morals of a community than the retailing of ardent spirits to its citizens under such circumstances. Just at this season of the year, when there is plenty of money in the country and the people generally have more leisure than usual, these fellows are bolder and more active than common, and could be easily detected if the proper efforts were

> A petition was presented to the Town Council on Tuesday evening asking for the continuation of the street leading from the Baptist Church, on which the jail is situated, through the lots of Mr. John E. Pecples and Gen. W. W. Humphreys, crossing Whitney's crossing whitneys crossing Whitner's creek about two hundred and fifty yards below where Whitner street fifty yards below where Whitner street crosses, and continuing in a direct course through the plantation of Maj. B. F. Whitner to a point on Generostee creek at or near the old brick yard of Mr. Crayton, something like half a mile below the present crossing at Byrum's bridge, and thence to a point on the public road leading to Andersonville between the residence of Mr. J. L. Byrum and Keys' Spring. The right of way from all the persons through whose the Council and County Commi have the route surveyed and the road located and opened. It is estimated by those who are familiar with the proposed route that it will not only shorten the distance between the point where it will intersect the Andersonville road and town, but that it will give a much better road than the present one, as the steep hills at Generostee and Whitner's creeks will be avoided. The Council appointed a committee to examine into the matter and to report as to the advisability of the proposition at as early a day as practicable.

"The Pickens-Anderson Compact." We find the following article in the last issue of the Pickens Sentinel, under the caption quoted above, a few words concerning which we presume will not be objectionable to our esteemed contemporary, inasmuch as both it and the Commissioners of that County seem to be at a loss to un derstand why the Commissioners of this County have not paid what the Commis-

County have not paid what the Commissioners of Pickens have been pleased to designate as their "part of this agreement":

"The question is now, 'What has become of the Anderson part of this agreement?"

The Air Line Company has complied with its part of the contract. The Pickens portion of the fence-money has been paid into the treasury, but nothing has been heard from the County Commissioners of Anderson. Our County Clerk has sent them a full statement of the affair, which they have treated with silent contempt. If they wish more legislation on the subject we would like to hear from them at once."

was considered not only exorbitant but unequally apportioned, it was rejected.

The statement shows that the whole amount of fence built is 34 miles, at a cost of $4,363.29, on 27 miles of which the Air Line Railroad paid $50 per mile, making $1,350, from which the County Treasurer's commission was deducted. The Act authorizing this building of the fence reads: "The County of Anderson shall only be required to pay the propor-tion provided for that County for the num-ber of miles for which the said County would be required to pay if the Air Line Railroad run the line of such fence," from which it is plainly seen that the Commis-sioners of Pickens have increased our pro-portion considerably from what it should be "run the line of such fence" for a distance of 34 miles by a good deal; and even if it did we cannot exactly see how the Pickens Com-missioners could expect Anderson to pay any portion of the expense of building this fence when she had nothing whatever to do with contracting for the work. Our Commissioners were not consulted about the matter, although the Pickens Commissioners considered that we had as much interest in the matter as they did. Moreover the prices at which the building was done was exorbitant, and does not reflect much credit upon the business capacity of the parties who attended to letting out the contracts. The whole conduct of the Pickens Commissioners is, to say the least of it, as about as cool a piece of business as we have
