

W. W. KEYS, LOCAL EDITOR.

BRIEF MENTION.

Cotton brought 1 1/2 on Wednesday. The roads in some sections of the County are impassable. There were nine additions to the Temperance Division on last Thursday night. Mr. John P. Sifton, of Brushy Creek, had a colt to give birth to a tailless calf Sunday. Col. James M. Latimer, of Lowndesville, was in town on Wednesday in the interest of the Savannah Valley Railroad. The Pickens Sentinel says that the prospects for the Atlantic and French Broad Valley Railroad are daily brightening. There were good congregations at the Baptist and Methodist Churches on Sunday last, notwithstanding the inclemency of the day. There will be a meeting of Mountain Creek Grange on next Saturday, 15th inst., at 10 o'clock a. m. A full meeting is especially desired. At the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners on Tuesday Mr. P. F. King was elected Steward and Dr. J. P. Duckett Physician of the Poor House. Martha Morris, wife of Warren Morris, colored, was found dead in her bed on last Saturday night about midnight. It is supposed she died from heart disease. The Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution is one of the best papers published in the South, and reaches Anderson about seven hours earlier than any other daily. See advertisement. Col. L. E. Campbell found fully matured jacks and horse apples in his orchard a few days before Christmas, and during Christmas week killed ten partridges at a single shot. The Knights of Honor had a big time on Wednesday night of last week at their annual supper. The only unpleasant thing about the whole affair was having to eat canned oysters. They have had another election over in Georgia—this time for County officers. It seems. We would like to know if their State Constitution requires an election at every change of the moon. The Laurensville Herald is decidedly the best Temperance paper in the State. It never fails to strike the bar-rooms and whiskey traffic generally a blow every opportunity that is presented. The drug store of Simpson, Reid & Co. has been removed from their old stand to the next door below. They are still in the Benson House Building, where they will be pleased to see their friends and customers. Some of the most successful farmers in the County say it is not yet too late to sow wheat, and advise those who have been prevented from sowing to do so any time during the present month that the ground is in condition. An effort is being made to re-establish the postoffice at Piercetown, in the upper section of the County, which we hope will be successful, as its discontinuance has worked greatly to the disadvantage of the citizens of that vicinity. How the many negro men in this town who depend upon their daily labor for means of support have managed to provide for their families during the long spell of bad weather, when nearly all business has been suspended, is a mystery to many. It is somewhat amusing to an outsider to notice the many little ways the preachers have of tickling each other through their denominational papers. We have heard in our time of such things as mutual admiration societies—but, then, "judge not," &c. At the annual meeting of stockholders of the National Bank of Anderson, held on the 11th inst., the following gentlemen were re-elected Directors: Col. Joseph N. Brown, President; O. H. P. Fant, B. F. Crayton, J. W. Norris, S. Blackley, George W. Fant and J. A. Brock. Capt. S. W. Sherman has moved from this County to Jackson County, Georgia. He was one of the best and most highly esteemed citizens of the Corner township, and in his removal that immediate section particularly and the whole County generally has sustained a considerable loss. Messrs. E. F. Crayton and Sons have let out contracts for the building of two one-story brick buildings on their lot east of the Masonic Lodge, which will be used as store rooms. They will each be 2 1/2 feet wide by 90 long, and are to be finished by the 1st of March. The foundations are now being dug. The Palmetto Minstrel Troup, composed of the best amateurs in town, will give an entertainment in Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening next, and if we can judge from the program it will be rich and racy. The proceeds of the entertainment will go to the Palmetto Band. Admission, 25 cents; reserved seats, 50, or two for 75. At the examination of public school teachers for this County on the 7th and 8th instants, there were 85 applicants for certificates and renewal of certificates, of whom 47 received first grade, 23 second grade, and 6 third grade certificates, 9 being rejected. The examinations were very creditable, and the result shows more than usual proficiency on the part of the applicants. "Now forrill-splitting and fence-repairing all over the County."—Barnwell Sentinel. Adopt the stock law and save that great trouble and enormous expense. Your fences cost more, far more every year, than your stock is worth. Besides, your farmers will then have more time for making manures, and more money with which to improve their farms and the grade of their stock. The Directors of the Savannah Valley Railroad held a meeting at this place on Wednesday, and determined to commence the work of grading the Road as soon as contracts for it can be gotten out. Those who desire to bid for the grading of the twenty miles of the Road as a whole, or any part thereof, should read the advertisement of the President of the Company, which appears elsewhere. Walker Cley, a young man 18 or 19 years of age, died at the residence of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Cley, in Brushy Creek, on the 1st inst., from the effects of an accidental wound from a shot gun in the hands of another young man named Meyers, on Thursday, 5th ult., while the two were rabbit hunting. They were standing about ten steps apart, and the entire load took effect in the abdomen. Rev. John Stout, of Society Hill, has assumed charge of the Mission department of the Baptist Church, and Rev. W. H. Strickland, who has ably conducted this department for two, has become an associate editor of the same journal. The Courier is an excellent religious journal, and under the new editorial management will doubtless be more popular than ever before.

Home Enterprise—A Mistake. Mr. Editor: What the South needs more than anything else is the development of all her industrial resources and capacities. So far as cotton or woolen manufacturers have been tested they have for the most part proved satisfactory investments. But in these departments large capital is necessary for the successful prosecution of such enterprises. Hence it is usual in such cases to enlist more or less of foreign capital. But there are many enterprises of smaller dimensions, requiring only a moderate capital, many of which might be started and carried on successfully with home capital. Such as shoe factories, blacksmith and wood work, pertaining to all kinds of vehicles, harness shops, bucket and barrel factories, together with the smaller cotton factories, such as Clement's attachments, and many other kinds of enterprises which might be projected successfully. It is unnecessary, in this article, to expatiate upon the necessity of agricultural development, for that great and primal occupation of man is now receiving a degree of public attention never before equaled. And from the material capabilities of the South, she must remain for a long long time essentially an agricultural people. But the necessity of an organized and civil condition man in an organized and civil condition demands a variety of occupations to meet these necessities. Hence, that community, State or Nation is the most prosperous that gives the fullest scope and encouragement to all the industrial arts, such as agriculture, manufacturing, commercial and mechanical. Let us, then, as a people, begin to look around and organize for the development of all the industrial arts necessary to reach a high scale of civilization and moral progress, the peer of any section of the Union. Already there is an accumulation of surplus capital among the people of the South that ought to be utilized in the manner indicated, but the first lesson to be learned by our people before anything can be done in these directions, is the great necessity and power of combination. One man with a capital of five hundred dollars, isolated and alone, could accomplish but little, but a dozen of these small capitalists, by combination, could accomplish much. The Northern people fifty years ago or more learned the value of corporate power, and are to-day rich and prosperous by the judicious use of such power. To-day there is probably nearly a hundred thousand dollars of deposits in the Anderson Bank belonging, for the most part, to the people of Anderson County. What might not this small accumulation of individual earnings accomplish by combination in judicious industrial enterprises. Every such enterprise, wherever located, induces immigration and population, and attracts outside capital. Not wishing to be invidious, yet the little town of Williamston deserves favorable mention for the exhibition of sagacity and enterprise of a commendable type. To say nothing of her educational facilities, which have attracted public attention far and near, and are her fine flour mill, formerly owned by Maj. Geo. Anderson, on one side, and soon to be converted into a large cotton factory. And then right in her midst is a little unpretentious enterprise deserving of general encouragement. It is located in the upper story above the post office, with but little of outside display to attract attention. We allude to the shoe factory of Mr. Thomas Crymes. Here in a plain upper room, about 12x25, is located the various apparatus for manufacturing shoes very rapidly. Mr. Sarratt, the skillful foreman, superintends the cutting and fitting, but the sewing and pegging and finishing, even to the eyelets, are all done by improved machinery. The pegging machine cost $150, and can attach the soles and uppers in a few seconds. The eyelet machine is the shrewdest exhibition of genius, perhaps, of any of the inventions. The holes are perforated and the eyelets placed by the same piece of machinery. Mr. Crymes manufactures his own leather for the most part, especially upper, and finds it more profitable to work it up into shoes and sell than to sell the leather. In prices he competes with the Northern shoe, and in wear and finish is the equal if not superior. Williamston can boast of many other industrial pursuits besides those mentioned. T. H. R.
