The Temperance campaign was opened in Columbia under the auspices of the joint committee of the Temperance organ address of the State on Tuesday night by an address by Col. John P. Thomas, the distinguished p. neipal of the Carolina Military Institute at Charlotte. The subject of his address was the "Philosophy of the Temperance Movement." Col. Death of Mrs. Peggy Byrum.

Death of Mrs. Peggy Byrum.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Peggy Byrum, which occurred at the residence of her husband, Mr. Josoph L. Byrum, two miles west of Anderson on last Saturday. Mrs. Byrum was a daughter of the late Elisha Burries, of this county, and was at the time of her death a very old lady. She was up to a short time before her death full of energy and activity far beyond that usually found in persons of her years, and throughout her long life had been a generous and self-sacrificing Christian. She was a kind neighbor, a fond wife and a devoted mother. She leaves a large circle of children, grand children, relatives and friends who cherish her memory and Christian deeds.

Her remains were placed to rest in the amily graveyard near the residence on Sunday evening, after solemn and appro-oriate funeral services, conducted by Rev. L. M. Ayer. An aged and respected lady has passed from our midst.

The License Question Taking Shape.

At a meeting of the citizens of the town who are opposed to the further granting of licenses for retailing liquor in the town held on Tuesday evening in Temperance Hall, a committee was appointed to report to an adjourned meeting at the same place on next Tuesday the best plea of proceeding in the matter in order to secure a fair expression of the wishes of the citizens of the town on the question. It is the desire of the "no license" men to climinate the issue entirely from politics, and have the question settled on its merits. This position, it seems to us, is the correct one, and we hope both parties will leave the question as to whether license is to be granted or not to be determined at an election two or three days subsequent to the election for Town Council. Let the town Democratic Club nominate a ticket and bind its nomines to abide by the result of the election on the Feense issue, whether it be for or against granting license. This ought to be acceptable to both parties, as it would ensure the election of good men and secure a fair expression of opinion on the subject. We would regard the nomination of two tickets as unfortunate, as it would create factions and make the men and not the measure the most important consideration in the fight. Let there be but one ticket, and let the license question be settled at an election two or three days after the regular election for town officers. The License Question Taking Shape.

Appointments Becalled.

The Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention has recalled the appointment of Roys. John Stout, of Society Hill, and T. P. Bell, of Anderson, to be missionaries to China, in consequence of difference of views upon the subject of the inspiration of the Scriptures, the majority of the Board holding to the doctrine of a plenary or verbal inspiration of the Bible, while the gentlemen named adopt the view that the Scriptures were written by inspired men in their own language and style of expression. While we are gratified that these gentlemen are not to leave South Carolina, we cannot but censure the course of the Board, for if they intended to make any question upon this subject, it should have been done before the appointments were made. Their action is a piece of intolerance and arrogance not often met with. It amounts to saying that unless a man agrees with them in the detail of doctrine, he shall not preach the gospel to the heathen, and if the Board are not vigilant their action will result in sending no missionaries to China at all. One thing may be considered certain, and that is that the action of the Board has sown the seeds of a discussion, and perhaps dissension, in the Baptist Church which will not be settled in a day or a year, perhaps not in a lifetime. By revoking these appointments they have done incatculable mischief.

The New Ethereal Visitor.

The New Ethereal Visitor.

The new comet is attracting considerable attention, and from its peculiar position has in more than one place been counted as two. It appears below the North star in the northwestern sky in the fore part of the night, and then in the morning hours appears in the northeast, so that it has been counted twice by those who lose sight of the fact that its relative position to the North star remains unchanged and its new position to the carth is the same as that of the other stars in that portion of the heavens.

By the way, it may be a matter of interest to some people to know that the comet is said to be rapidly approaching the sun, and if the two come into collision as fearful wreek will ensue. This comet's tail is eight million miles long and its head is said to be a very large body. As it gets nearer the sun the brilliancy of its head will decrease, so that any one can keep posted as to the chances of a collision by closely watching the amount of light emitted from it. When the head gets very near to the sun it will probably not be visible at all.

The place of the comet is a few degrees southeast of the bright star Capella, which is a star of the first magnitude in constellation Auriga. Capella rises far in the northeast at about half-past it all reaches up in the direction of the North Polar star. It may be seen at any hour of the night.

The astronomers are not agreed whether the night.

The astronomers are not agreed whether the comet is one that has visited our system before or a new comer on this shoal of the universe, but they all say that it gives promise of becoming remarkably large and brilliant. Several observers lay claim to the honor of discovery, and it is not yet determined who shall have the $200 comet prire offered by Mr. Warner, of Rochester.

The astronomers have long been wishing for a chance to get at a first-rate comet, for many interesting questions have arisen since they had the great comet of 1858, and its brilliant successor of 1861, in the field of their telescopes.

tain great solar distorbances that were sub-sequently witnessed and that made them-selves felt in the electrical condition of the earth. The discovery that wast trains of meteors follow in the tracks of comets ren-ders it all the more likely that the fall of a comet upon the sun would be diseastrous to the earth.

the earth.

But the astronomers reassuringly essent that the chance of a comet plunging into the sun is very slight. They have all space to wander in, and although they are drawn toward the sun when they fall within the scope of his attraction, the resulting orbit is such that they swing around him on a curve, and are than flung out into space again. There is something exceedingly impressive in the thought that great comets probably wander from sun to sur, travellers through the universe. Now one visits us, and some millions of years hence it may glow in the morning and evening skies of the worlds that circle around Sirius or Aldebaran.

Ginning and packing can all go on at the same time, without interforing with the 6fn. A two-inch belt will pack a 500 lb. bale of cotion. It saves its cost the first season in labor. Read the following testimontals:

ANDERSON, S. C., April 50, 1881.—Mr. John E. Peoples—Sir: The Steam Power Van Winkle Cotton Press bought from you last fall has given entire satisfaction. I packed bales of cotton weighing 560 to 725 lbs. in five minutes with all case, using a 4-inch belt and 25 lbs. steam. There did not seem any more strain on the Press than with a 450 lb. bale. For strength, durability, lightness of power, small quantity of steam required, economy of space, I deem it the King of all Cotton Presses, especially so as the low price at which it can be bought for puts it within reach of every man running a steam Gin. In fact, I would not be without it for twice its cost. I would advise all my friends to buy one of Van Winkle's Steam Power Cotton Presses, as you will save its cost in labor in one year.

ANDERSON, S. C., May 16, 1881.—John E. Peoples—Dear Sir: The Van Winkle Cotton Press bought of you last season has given perfect—"tisfaction, and t consider it the best Power Press I have ever seen.

ANDERSON, S. C., May 16, 1881.—John E. Peoples—Dear Sir: The Van Winkle Steam Power Press we bought of you last fall is the very Press adapted to the wants of the farmers of this County. It saves lebor, takes but very little room, and very little power to run it up and down. We only work on hand with our Press. Can cheerfully recommend it to any one vibing to purchase a Press, as it will save its cost in a short time. We packed bales weighing over 600 lbs. with a 4-inch belt.
