LOCAL NEWS.

W. W. KEYS, LOCAL EDITOR.

BRIEF MENTION.

There will be no preaching in the Baptist church next Sunday.

Mr. C. F. Jones and family are visiting relatives in Allatoona, Ga.

The town election and registration notice appears in another column.

A "Dry Ticket" for Intendant and Wardens will be nominated next Monday.

Anderson county is well represented at the State Agricultural meeting in Greenville this week.

Remember that the Presbyterian ladies will have ice cream, sherbert, etc., at their church on to-morrow afternoon.

The Bolton Township Singing Association held a pleasant and successful concert at their church last Saturday and Sunday.

The Hazewell Township Singing Convention will be held at Rock Springs church on Saturday and Sunday, 6th and 7th August.

Mr. M. C. Lemons, of Varennes township, brought an Irish potato to our office the other day that weighed a pound and a half.

We direct attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Celsy and Co., one of the most respectable firms in Greenville, which appears elsewhere.

Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Whitte and their daughter, Miss Mary, and son-in-law, Mr. W. F. Baker, have just returned from an extensive trip to the mountains.

Mr. Z. D. Claiborne, of Broadwater township, has recently been over to Elberton, Ga., looking out preparatory to opening business there this fall. See says the Gazette.

The route of the French Broad Valley Railroad has been located through Abbeville village, and fifty lands will be worked at once near Trickett, at grading the road.

We were mistaken the other week in saying the Saluda Association met with Big Creek church. It meets with the Williams church, and convenes Tuesday, 5th of August.

Mr. R. N. White, of Augusta, and Mr. C. F. Bremer, of Charleston, are spending vacations from work in our community—the former in town and the latter at Mr. T. C. Keys'.

There should be a full turnout of the citizens of the town who are opposed to the liquor business on Monday evening, and at a strong ticket be nominated. Nothing less will succeed.

Anderson Division is represented at the meeting of the Grand Division, S. C. of the United in Columbia last night, which convened in Columbia last night, which convened in Columbia last night, which convened in Columbia last night.

Rev. W. L. Prosser, of Due West, supplied the pulpit at the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning and night. He is a highly cultured gentleman and an earnest and able preacher.

There are no leavers in Anderson these days. It is to be that during the summer months, and fifty lands will be worked at once near Trickett, at grading the road.

There has been a big revival in progress in the colored Baptist church for the past few weeks, and on Monday afternoon twenty-five or thirty converts will be baptized in Rocky River.

Mr. R. Y. H. Nance had a fine Cur dog to goad this week. While he appeared harmless, yet Mr. Nance killed him to prevent the possibility of the dog's being communicated to other dogs or animals.

On Monday Messrs. F. W. Wagener & Co., of Charleston, received the first sample bale of cotton of the growing crop in this State. It was raised in Sumter county, and a sample of it was sent us Tuesday.

The anniversary celebration of Orion Good, Good Templars, at Eskrine's Crossing on Thursday last was largely attended, and altogether a very pleasant affair. Several patriotic speeches were made, and a dinner consumed.

Mr. George Telford was carried to the asylum from this county last week. He had previously been confined there, but released a few weeks ago by the physicians, who thought him sufficiently cured to take care of himself.

Let everybody keep cool in the municipal campaign, and attribute impure or ungracious motives to no one. The issue is one which every man has the right to exercise his own opinion, and on which men honestly differ. Abuse never made a convert, and it never will. Let every man wisely endeavor had blood and widen the breach.

Nineteen prisoners are summing it in the jail at Barnwell. Four of them are white men. There ought to be a law authorizing County Commissioners to utilize the labor of such convicts on public roads, bridges, &c., in the counties where convicted. Their monthly salary should be paid at the same time make them pay for their living.

Mr. L. N. Archer left Elberton last Friday to take up his abode at Anderson again. He has been with us long, but long enough to make friends with every man, woman and child who met him. He is an exceptionally moral and upright young man, and will do us good wherever he goes. —Elberton (Ga.) Gazette.

Asbury Wade, a colored man of this county who measures six feet and eight inches in height, and whose cooking feet has engaged by T. Barnum for exhibition in his great Circus. Asbury was in town on Saturday dressed out in white and had very much the appearance of a klu klux. He is doubtless the tallest man in the State, or perhaps the Union.

The Trustees of the Graded School at Abbeville recently elected Prof. E. H. Hill assistant teacher in that institution, which position he declined to accept because of a smallness of the salary offered—$350.00. It would be a pity if a man of his qualifications could not offer a respectable sum there could be no trouble in securing an efficient teacher. Some people seem to think that good teachers can live on the wind.

Our citizens should not lose sight of the fact in nominating a municipal ticket that are of the quality of what they are to be looked after in the town. Men should be chosen as well for their capacity to properly administer the affairs of the town as for their personal character and business connection. An efficient police, the judicious management of the finances, the proper care of the streets, &c., are of too much importance to be lost sight of.

The home-keepers complain more about the unreliability of servants these days than ever before, and they are not only unreliable but very hard to get, and have to be accompanied about breaking contracts. A housekeeper recently said to us: "I have never learned not to expect too much of my servants. I can't get them to do without unpleasantness I do myself," and this is the experience of many others.

The Seneca City Journal asks us several questions in its last issue, but as it couples very disrespectful and discourteous personal remarks with its questions, we are unable to reply to them. We are all in the absence of the two essentials in a character of gentlemen—courtesy and respect for their fellows—just then we stop.

The Columbia Register says that the lion will receive many complimentary notices during in Greenville this week, and from time forward it will become a question of how long it will continue to be lionized. In considering such as well as important, and we will go to the other side and make the remedy for the evils of the law more burdensome than the evils themselves. The treatment we trust will be "masterly," not foolhardy.

Associate Grange No. 1, P. of H., will meet with Deep Creek Grange on Saturday next, 6th of August, at 10 a. m., on the subject, "Fall Preparation for Field Crops." It will be read by Dr. J. G. Campbell, of the Grange, and assisted by Messrs. B. F. Crayton, Mrs. W. J. Johnson, J. W. Norris, P. R. Brown, J. H. White, W. H. Howell, W. A. White, J. M. Burns, J. G. Douthett, T. McGill, S. N. Brown.

Good rains fell in nearly every section of the county on Tuesday afternoon. The crops in some portions of the county almost literally rained by the drought. The abundant yields of the crops are now so abundant in the southern portion, where we understand, the upland corn is dead, and the corn in the lowlands is in a fair way to fruit it had. With good rains from this time on and a favorable fall a half crop may be made. Bottom corn everywhere is fine.

The Columbia & Greenville Railroad Company is taking information concerning the water powers, minerals, lands, products, etc., of the counties through which their Road runs, with a view of publishing the same in pamphlet form for distribution in Europe and the North with the hope of inducing immigration to this section. The desired information from this county has been collected by Capt. S. M. Peeg, who has done his work well. It would be a good thing for this county if this information could be printed and together with one of Capt. Peeg's Atlanta Cotton Exposition, to do this, however, will require money. Who will volunteer to take the matter in hand and raise the necessary funds with which to do the work?

The superintendent of the Poor House of Elberton county, Ga., says the "Gazette," recently visited South Carolina to inspect the workings of the no-fence system, crossing into Anderson county. He is now on his way going a distance of about 20 miles down into Abbeville. He was not at all pleased with the appearance of things, and says "the fences had fallen down, and the farmers to all appearance stop to pick them up or move them. The same was the case of fences about the houses, and here he was looking up, giving the places an appearance of grandeur and dilapidation. The houses of tenants were generally, where vacant, and he was told the colored people had left that section for better places for pasturage." As this gentleman crossed into Anderson county at Craft's Bluff, he went 20 miles down into Abbeville, and was in that county where his observations were made, and respectfully will the attention of our friends "own that he had also been in the county where he states that "the tallest freely with all the people he met, and found them all generally in favor of the no-fence system. But the conclusion he came to, after a fair investigation, was that it was the very thing for lazy people it is the very thing for an enterprising and thrifty people. No doubt the matter of the whole matter is that the gentleman who was in the county where he was working, and didn't want to see anything in his workings to admire. Our Georgia neighbors are at least ten years behind the times, and we can't help pitying them.

The Action of the Temperance Men. Pursuant to a call of Mr. A. B. Towers, Chairman of a former meeting of the citizens of the town of Anderson, S. C., for the purpose of organizing for the sale of liquor in this town, and which adjourned subject to the call of the Chairman, a meeting convened in the Temperance Hall on Monday afternoon, and was called to order by the Chairman, who appointed Mr. W. W. Keys Secretary.
