Mrs. Martha Shirley, the widow of James birley and a daughter of R. N. She was a member of arker's Creek church, and was highly estemed by all of her acquaintances; and in r death the com aunity has lost a valued tigen—one whose example in all her walks I life were worthy of emulation. She ares four children and many other relates to mourn her death. The remains ree interred in the graveyard at Barker's reek church on Sunday morning.

There are few men in Anderson county, or the State, who understands the culture of that very important vegetable, the Irish potato, better than Mr. A. B. Towers, of our town. He never fails to make two crops a year, and his second crop is generally better than the first. He has just prepared a sm'sll sack full of the Early Rose variety to send to the Atlanta Exposition for exhibition in the South Carolina department. He sends four that weigh 34 pounds. He will accept our thanks for a mess or two.

Our town charter needs amending in one important particular, and now while the Legislature is in session we desire to direct the attention of our citizens to the matter. The amendment we think needed is one to relieve our Council of the annoyance of sitting in a body in trial in the many trivial cases that come before them, and authorizing the Intendant to hear and decide these cases, as is done by the Mayors in cities. It is these trials that make the office of Warden so burdensome and so constantly shunned by our citizens. We know that some of our townsmen are in hearty accord with this suggestion, and have no doubt that it would meet with almost universal approval. Of course, under such an administration, the Intendant should receive a small salary for his services, and this all no doubt would willingly consent to. Only those, however, who have had a trial of serving on the Council know the annoyance these trivial cases occasion. It is an unnecessary service for five men to spend several hours at every Council meeting in attending to matters that one man could see after as well refive.

you had set to your sister towns and cities throughout the State. As I live in another of those God favored communities, where public sentiment condemns drunkenness and where for three years we have been free from the curse of intoxicating drink, I am in a situation to testify to the blessings of temperance and to say that the longer you persevere the more you will like the experiment.

I was favorably impressed with the colored population in your town and vicinity. I preached for the colored Baptist Church three times on Sunday, and found them orderly, intelligent and appreciative. I am satisfied there is much good to be done among our colored population.

The Baptist Church of Anderson has won for itself a warm place in the affections of the brethren, and many prayers go up for her prosperity; but in the heart of the missionary, who spent a few sunny hours beneath his roof, the warmest place of all is for the Sunday School Superintendent and his little family.

The Incomplete Job.

Mr. Editor: If "Citizen" was as anxious to do an hour's work for the public good as he is to see some of his productions in the county paper, the buttnent of the bridge referred to by him would have been fixed long ago, so as to be safe for crossing.

The centractor nor County Commissioners are not to blame for the condition it was left in, for in every other instance I know of the butments on small bridges have been fixed by the road kands. The butment referred to by honorable "Citizen" is only I foot and 3-10 of an inch from the surface of the ground. In reading his valuable article it would seem that it was not dangerous to cross, as he says, but dangerous to get on the bridge and off of it.

And again he says an ample sum was paid to make a complete job. If he had been better posted he would have said promised with a probability of not getting the money in 18 months. As for completing the bridge for safety of crossing, it was done according to contract. But for the satisfaction of "Citizen," and the good of the public travel, we will in a few days put banisters to the bridge and have the butments fixed.

best Traction, or road engine. The performance of the engine at Oglethorpe Park, yesterday afternoon, certainly astonished every spectator by the remarkable case with which it obeyed its driver, and by the marvelous manner in which it was made to turn around in as little space as an ordinary four wheeled buggy can be operated by a skillful driver and well trained horse. The ground of the Park is very uneven, and oftentimes rocky, but these obstacles were easily overcome by the engine under the skillful management of Mr. Frank Schoil.

Farmers ought to give Wilhite's Horse and Cattle Powders to their Stock during the changeable weather of Winter and Spring. Their chief superiority consists in the fact that they are composed of Medicines that have Laxative, Tonic and Purifying properties. As a Laxative they carry crudities from the stomach and intestines; as a Tonic they strengthen the system of the animal; as a Purifyer they cleans the blood and lay the foundation for a healthy, vigorous circulation.
