Don't put off registering any longer Go and attend to it at once, so as to have it off of your mind. When you have registered put your certificate in a safe place, so that you can get it when you need it.

Judge Bond set aside the verdict in the Acton election case and ordered a new trial, which may or may not be had at some time in the future. Thus the great election trials have resulted in a complete farce, despite the packed juries and the partisan District Attorney.

The session of the Southern Methodist Conference in Nashville, Tennessee, is the most important that has been held in this denomination for many years. Many important ecclesiastical questions are before it. Up to this time the leading act of the Conference has been the election of five new Bishops, as follows : Dr. Alpheus W. Wilson, of the Baltimore Conference, and for the past few years Missionary Secretary of the Church, with headquarters at Nashville, was elected on the first ballot, and afterwards Dr. C. Cranberry, Professor in Vanderbilt University, but delegate from the Virginia Conference; Dr. Atticus G. Haygood, of Georgia ; Rev. R. R. Hargrave, of Tennessee; and Dr. Linus Parker, of New Orleans. The Conference will sit for some time yet, and will pass upon a number of questions touching the discipline and order of the Church, including temperance, dancing and other amusements. The discussions, so far, have been taken up upon the election of Bishops, and the Conference may be said now to be ready for its general work.

Some persons, we understand, object to the Registration law because they say it makes them carry a pass. This objec tion is not a sound or logical one. No man objects to owning real estate because he has to have a deed to it, nor does any man object to going into a show because he has to have a ticket of admission. The certificate of registration is only an evidence of the right to vote, and it is required of every man in the State, from the Governor down, so that there is no degradation nor class distinction about it. In fact, the possession of the certificate will be a credit to a man, because it will confer upon him a valuable right which the man who does not have one of them will be deprived of. The law is necessary for the protection of South Carolina, and our people ought to forego any prejudices about the change. The late prosecutions in the United States Courts ought to convince our citizens of the malignity of the Republican party, and also of the fact that a change in our election system was necessary. Every one should r gister and give the new law a fair trial. If it does not work well it can be repealed next winter. Register, then, and try it once at least. It will not cost anything except a very little trouble, and its friends believe it will be of inestimable value to South Carolina.

uncertainties in denominational Bible work, this Convention courteously de-clines to enter now into any discussion or consideration of the condition and purposes of the American and Foreign Bible Society."

The people of Greenville entertained he Convention in a most hospitable manner, and all who were present were perfectly carried away with the enterprise, the material prosperity, the courtesy and the many social attractions of our little mountain city. The next session of the convention will be held in Waco Texas.

THE RIGHT OF WOMEN TO VOTE.

The Senate select committee on woman suffrage, by a vote of three to two, has agreed to recommend to the Senate for adoption, Senator Lapham's joint resolu- markable aptitude for mental and moral tion proposing the following amendment to the Constitution :

citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any State, on account of sex. Section 2. That Congress shall have power by appropriate legislation, to en-force the provisions of this article.

The vote was, ayes: Lapham, Blair and Jackson-3; nocs, George and Fair -2; absent, Anthony and Perry. It will be seen that the vote in the Republicans all voting for, and the Democrats against the proposed amendment. Its presentation to the Senate will be the occasion of a prolonged consideration, which will probably result in the defect of the proposition. It, however, marks the entrance into national politics of a new fanaticism which will necessarily be one of aggressive discussion for years to one of aggressive discussion for years to come. The Republican party is about out of an issue, and it now looks like woman's suffrage is to be its new hobby. It will be very many years before the sense and refinement of the American people will be willing to see the ladies of our country dragged into the vortex of public election crowds. We hope the day will never come when woman's position will be so greatly lowered.

THE IMPORTANCE OF REGISTRATION.

al counties of this State has been progressing for more than two weeks. In many sections it is feared that the white voters will not register as fully as they should do, and thus by spathy and neglect give to the negroes a majority of the registered electors in the State. We hope these fears are not well founded. Six weeks yet remain for registration they should do, and thus by apathy and Six weeks yet remain for registration, and surely in that time all of our people can be induced to take the slight trouble necessary to register in order to be able to vote next November. The election laws may impose a little trouble upon our people, but they are patriotic enough to incur the little inconvenience necessary to aid in the retention of the necessary to aid in the retention of the government of this State in the hands of and others interested in education who the respectable and intelligent people of the country. The great beauty about the country. The great beauty about services will be permanently enlisted in the present election law is that when a the promotion of higher education in man is once registered, he is not under the necessity of repeating his registration every election. It is a permanent thing. When our people understand that the good of the State requires the registration law, we have no doubt that the men who have given weeks, and even months, of their time in red shirt com-panies to the redemption of South Caro-married and settled in Albemarle County, present, and Bishop Howe presided. His report contained the following statistics of the denomination in this State : Ordinations to the priesthood 2, consecration of churches 2, persons confirmed 843, 1 of the clergy transferred and 5 received into the diocese. Two of the clergy have died, Rev. J. O'Bear and Rev. R. P. Johnson. St. Jude's Church, Walterboro', was consecrated in January last, the Diocese contributing $1,216.90 for its crection. He urged upon the Convention the necessity of systematic and organized effort in behalf of diocesan missions, and of each parish reporting what may be expected from it for the ensuing year. Received for diocesan purposes during the past year $2,015.91. The revised version of the New Testament was commended, but no clergymau has a right to use it in the public worship of the church, except by vote of the General Convention. . Its proper place is to be found in the closet and in the study and at family prayers. It has done much to establish the faith of some who feared the result of modern Greek scholarship when brought to bear on the newly discovered manuscript. Time will test the merits of the work, it will probably not supplant the old version in the churches, but it will prove a valuable auxiliary to the preacher in expounding the word of God. The session of the Convention was harmonious and of a very practical nature. The members of the Convention were entertained most sumptuously by the citizens of Spartanburg. The next session of the Convention will be held in Charleston.

The session of the Southern Baptist Convention which was held in Greenville last week was largely attended, and in every respect a pleasant and harmonious gathering. The reports from the various missions and evangelical work of the Convention were in every way gratifying and encouraging. Dr. Mell, of the University of Georgia, was elected President, and the same members of the Foreign Mission Board were re-elected. The Board of Home Missions was reorganized, with headquarters in Atlanta. It is understood that there will be a new President of the Board and a new Corresponding Secretary for the work. One of the most important questions considered by the Convention was the relation of the denomination to the American Bible Society which resulted in the adoption of the following resolution :

Resolved, That we gravely disapprove of the action of the American Bible Society in refusing to aid in the publica-tion and circumlation of the Burmese Resolved, That we gravely disapprove of the action of the American Bible Society in refusing to aid in the publica-tion and circumlation of the Burmese version of Dr. Judson, the accepted and only version of the Scriptures in that language. Resolved, That this Convention will en-gage in such measures as may hereafter, in the Providence of God, seem practi-cable and expedient for giving to the world the pure Word of God. Also the following : In view of present complications and version of Dr. Judson, the accepted and only version of the Scriptures in that language. Resolved, That this Convention will en-

GEN. J. D. KENNEDY FOR GOVERNOR.

Editor Intelligencer: As I have no axe to grind and am no politician, being only a citizen of the commonwealth, with the good of our grand old State at heart, allow me to call attention to the coming election of State officers, and to suggest to the considera-tion of your many readers the name of a gentleman for the Gubernatorial Chair, who will not only render the success of the Democratic party sure on account of his popularity throughout the State, but who will also grace the position by his talent and innate nobleness of mien and character. I refer to our present Lieu-character. I refer to our present Lieu-tenant Governor, Gen. John D. Kenne-dy. I have known General Kennedy from his youth, when by means of his brilliant talents he attracted the notice of plemented by local taxation. The marked success which this school achieved under college faculty and students; I have admired his gallant bearing through the Mr. Davis's management contributed in a great measure to the adoption of the late war when called into field in defence of his country; and since then all have noticed his manly course in political life, maintained without mingling in any of the schemes for partisan advancement, same system in other towns of the State. which are said to have been rife of late, fession. and it seems to me that we can elevate The Civil Service Reform Question. no one to the high position mentioned, who will take it with cleaner hands, or WASHINGTON, May 15. Senator Pendleton, in his report in advocacy of the bill to regulate and im-prove the civil service reform of the United States, which was reported to the senate on the 29th of March last, reviews at learth the growth of the resonant return the trust with a more unsullied record.

We all know that the political and fuancial welfare of our State is dependent upon the success of the Democratic at length the growth of the government since its foundation, and the effect of this party next fall. With so many able and distinguished citizens on the Bench and in other positions of trust, we can, I am sure, find no one better fit-ted to lead us than General Kennedy, whose intelligence, persuasive eloquence, and administrative ability were such imand administrative ability were such im-portant factors in the success of the last and so degrading to all faculties and
