PROTECTION OF CHARACTER.

The Greenville News, speaking of recent asperities in journalism in this State, concludes an editorial as follows:

Yet and has worked wonders in Hart County. the betterment of the morals of the that charge is brought as freely and care-lessly as if it meant nothing. And where is the remedy? What redress can the editor of the Herald, for instance, obtain for having the accusation that he is a liar sent out to thousands of people in the State and out of it? The law forbids him to hold the man who de-nounced him responsible, but it gives him no protection from a repetition or aggravation of the attack. Any man can and be sheltered from punishment behind eth the drunkenness since, there was the law, and recent events indicate that we have many men who are eager to do that very thing. Prohibition in Hartwell, Ga.

MR. E. B. MURBAY: According to my promise I stopped in Hartwell, Ga., and spent last Tuesday afternoon investigating the practical workings of Probibition, and the charges made by Mr. R. P. Clinkscales in his speech at Flat Bock. I went to every store in Hartwell, I think, and tried to see every man in town from the country. At two of the stores I did not get to see the pro-Taylor. prictor, and consequently have no report from them.

I will give you the result of my investigation, just as I got it from the lips of the people of Hart County. The first man I went to was Mr. M. M. Richardson, the Clerk of the Superior Court of Hart County. I introduced myself to him, told him my business, and asked him the following questions:

If you need anything I have, come and we can trade. While I cannot boast of the largest stock in the city, I certainly have the NEW-

EST. While I have not one of the larger and more handsome store-rooms, my rent costs less ; and as I do not employ so great a number of Clerks, I do not have that expense to bear.

As I do not buy Cotton to induce trade, I have no losses to make up on my Goods. could well afford to buy Cotton, as some do, offering a higher price than could be had ALL CASH, for the sake of the trade in the bale or load. My idea is that it is better to ell the Cotton for the most it will bring ALL CASH, and then buy your Goods where you can do best. To do this, try me before buying, and I'll be sure to sell you. If I find that people require me to buy Cotton before they will trade with me, guess

The LONG AND SHORT of the whole matter is, I AM HERE. I'VE COME TO STAY. I'm bound to SELL. It's a ground-hog case with me. Will be glad to see you, whether you want to buy or not.

Yours in Earnest.

E. B. BENSON.
